

This file contains 2572 lines from my private collection beginning with the letter “W”. More to follow in due time. Enjoy!

THE SUPERLIST OF FUN LINES AND FAMOUS QUOTATIONS

10th. revised edition

Compiled by Christer Sundqvist 1987-2005

Christer Sundqvist
Neptunuksenkatu 3
FIN-21600 PARAINEN
FINLAND
TEL: int +358-40-7529274
e-Mail: christer.sundqvist@wakkanet.fi

When you take stuff from one writer, it's plagiarism; but when you take from many writers, it's research. Wilson Mizner

Some fun lines and famous quotations

Wagner has lovely moments but awful quarters of an hour. Gioacchino Rossini (1792-1868)

Wagner's music has some wonderful moments but awful half hours. Gioacchino Rossini

Wagner's music is better than it sounds. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Wait for that wisest of all counselors, Time.

Wait until it is night before saying that it has been a fine day. French Proverb

Waiter: Unemployed actor.

Waiting is a trap. There will always be reasons to wait...The truth is, there are only two things in life, reasons and results, and reasons simply don't count. Robert Anthony

Wake not a sleeping lion.

Wake not a sleeping wolf. William Shakespeare

Wake up, America. Augustus P. Gardner

Wake up and smell the chaos! Dennis Miller

Walk softly and carry a big stick.

Walk till the blood appears on the cheek, but not the sweat on the brow. Spanish Proverb

Walls have ears. Shelton & Hazlitt & English Proverb & Chinese Proverb & Korean Proverb

Walls have ears, and little pots too. South African Proverb

Walls have ears, bottles have mouths. Japanese Proverb

Walls have ears, paper sliding doors have eyes. Japanese Proverb

Walt Disney didn't die. He's in suspended animation.

Wanna do something big? Pick up a boulder.

Want is a growing giant whom the coat of Have was never large enough to cover. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Want to forget all your troubles? Wear tight shoes.

Wanted, Dead or Alive: Schrödinger's Cat.

War: A by-product of the arts of peace... Ambrose Bierce

War can protect; it cannot create. Alfred Whitehead

War challenges virtually every other institution of society; the justice and equity of its economy, the adequacy of its political systems, the energy of its productive plant, the bases, wisdom and purposes of its foreign policy. Walter Millis

War destroys men, but luxury destroys mankind; at once corrupts the body and the mind. John Crowne

War does not determine who is right only who is left. Bertrand Russell

War does not determine who is right, war determines who is left.

War doesn't determine who's right, just who's left. Our dreams are as real, while they last, as the occurrences of the daytime. We see, hear, feel, act, experience pleasure and suffer pain, as vividly and actually in a dream as when awake. The occurrences and transactions of a year are crowded into the limits of a second: and the dream remembered is as real as the past occurrences of life. Albert Pike (1809-1891)

War, he sung, is toil and trouble; Honour but an empty bubble. John Dryden (1631-1700)

War, hunting, and love, are as full of trouble as pleasure. Thomas Fuller

War is a game that is played with a smile. If you can't smile, grin. If you can't grin, keep out of the way till you can. Sir Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill (1874-1965)

War is a profane thing. Norman Schwarzkopf

War is an ugly thing, but not the ugliest of things: the decayed and degraded state of moral and patriotic feeling which thinks nothing worth a war, is worse... A war to protect other human beings against tyrannical injustice; a war to give victory to their own ideas of right and good, and which is their own war, carried on for an honest purpose by their own free choice- is often the means of their regeneration. John Stuart Mill (1806-1873)

War is death's feast.

War is hell. William Tecumseh Sherman

War is its own punishment.

War is like love; it always finds a way. Bertold Brecht (1898-1956)

War is lovely for those who know nothing about it. Erasmus Rotterdamus

War is much too important a matter to be left to the generals. Georges Clemenceau

War is much too serious a matter to be entrusted to the military. French Proverb

War is not merely a political act but a real political instrument, a continuation of political intercourse, a carrying out of the same by other means. Karl von Clausewitz

War is soon begun, but not so quickly brought into an end.

War is the dead man's holyday. Cotgrave

War is the last refuge of incompetent statesmen.

War is the science of destruction. John Abbott

War is the unfolding of miscalculations. Barbara Tuchman

War makes thieves, and peace hangs them.

War spares not the brave, but the cowardly.

Warning: Due to the robot shortage, some of our bartenders are human and will react unpredictably when insulted.

Warning! You want a warning? OK, I'm warning you not to do that again or I'll give you another ticket.

Warranty and guaranty clauses are voided by payment of the invoice.

Wars and revolutions and battles are due simply and solely to the body and its desires. All wars are undertaken for the acquisition of wealth; and the reason why we have to acquire wealth is the body, because we are slaves in its service. Socrates (470?-399 B.C.)

Wars bring scars. John Clarke

Was it a car or a cat I saw?

Was it only just a dream? John Lennon (looking back on the Beatles)

Was she so loved because her eyes were so beautiful, or were her eyes so beautiful because she was so loved? Anzia Yenerska

Washing one's hands of the conflict between the powerful and the powerless means to side with the powerful, not to be neutral. Paulo Freire

Washing your car to make it rain doesn't work. (Murphy's Law is recursive)

Washington is a place where people praise courage and act on elaborate personal cost-benefit calculations. John Kenneth Galbraith

Waste is worse than loss. The time is coming when every person who lays claim to ability will keep the question of waste before him constantly. The scope of thrift is limitless. Thomas A. Edison

Waste neither time nor money, but make the best use of both. Without industry and frugality, nothing will do, and with them everything. Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790)

Waste not fresh tears over old griefs. Euripides (484-406 BC)

Waste not, get your budget cut next year.

Waste not, want not.

Wasting time is an important part of life.

Wasting time is an important part of living.

Watch what people are cynical about, and one can often discover what they lack. Harry Emerson Fosdick (1878-1969)

Watch your mouth, kid, or you'll find yourself floating home.

Watch your step.

Watch your thoughts, for they become your words; / Watch your words, for they become your actions; / Watch your actions, for they become your habits; / Watch your habits, for they become your character; / Watch your character, for it becomes your destiny.

Watch your thoughts; they become words. / Watch your words; they become actions. / Watch your actions; they become habits. / Watch your habits; they become character. / Watch your character; for it becomes your destiny!!! Frank Outlaw

Watchfulness is the only guard against cunning. Be intent on his intentions. Many succeed in making others do their own affairs, and unless you possess the key to their motives you may at any moment be forced to take their chestnuts out of the fire to the damage of your own fingers. Baltasar Gracian (1601-1658)

Watching a peaceful death of a human being reminds us of a falling star; one of a million lights in a vast sky that flares up for a brief moment only to disappear into the endless night forever. Elisabeth Kuebler-Ross

Watching the debate this afternoon it was apparent they loved term limits in the House - as Brutus loved Caesar. Bill Moyers

Water freezes at 32 degrees and boils at 212 degrees. There are 180 degrees between freezing and boiling because there are 180 degrees between north and south. Henry Cate

Water? I never touch the stuff: Fish make love in it.

Water is a good drink provided it's mixed with good spirit.

Water is composed of two gins. Oxygen and hydrogen. Oxygen is pure gin. Hydrogen is gin and water.

Waterproof Mascara: Comes off if you cry, shower or swim, but will not come off if you try to remove it.

We accomplish things by directing our desires, not by ignoring them.

We acquire the strength we have overcome. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We ain't cheap, but by gosh, we're good!

We all admire the wisdom of people who come to us for advice. Jack Herbert

We all do murder the things we love, mostly by the word unsaid. William Etkin

We all get heavier as we get older because there's a lot more information in our heads. Vlade Divac

We all have enough strength to endure the misfortunes of others. François de la Rochefoucauld

We all have something to fall back on, and I never knew a phony who didn't land on it eventually.
Wilson Mizner

We all have voices in our heads which talk to us on an almost constant basis. Our voices give us messages continually, and what they say to us affects us. Juliene Berk

We all know about the habits of the ant, we know all about the habits of the bee, but we know nothing at all about the habits of the oyster. It seems almost certain that we have been choosing the wrong time for studying the oyster. Mark Twain

We all know that no one understands anything that isn't funny.

We all know what you mean; it's just that you mean it so poorly. John Quill Taylor

We all like our relatives when we're little. Kin Hubbard

We all live in a state of ambitious poverty.

We all live in suspense, from day to day, from hour to hour; in other words, we are the hero of our own story. Mary McCarthy

We all suffer from the preoccupation that there exists... in the loved one, perfection. Sidney Poitier

We all take different paths in life, but no matter where we go, we take a little of each other everywhere. Tim McGraw

We always believe our first love is our last, and our last love our first. George Whyte-Melville

We always deceive ourselves twice about the people we love - first to their advantage, then to their disadvantage. Albert Camus (1913-1960)

We always love those who admire us; we do not always love those whom we admire. François de La Rochefoucauld

We, and all others who believe in freedom as deeply as we do, would rather die on our feet than live on our knees. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

We apologize again for the fault in the subtitles. Those responsible for sacking the people who have just been sacked... have been sacked. Monty Python

We apprehend truth from our own source within the historical tradition. Karl Jaspers (1883-1969)

We are a nation of many nationalities, many races, many religions; bound together by a single unity, the unity of freedom and equality. Whoever seeks to set one nationality against another, seeks to degrade all nationalities. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

We are a rebellious nation. Our whole history is treason; our blood was attained before we were born; our creeds were infidelity to the mother church; our constitution treason to our fatherland.
Theodore Parker

We are all Adam's children but silk makes the difference. James Howell

We are all alike, on the inside. Mark Twain

We are all born for love. It is the principle of existence, and its only end. Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881)

We are all bunnies without ears. Kyle Steffens

We are all directly above the center of the earth.

We are all driven into the same fold. Horace

We are all exceptional cases. We all want to appeal against something. Each of us insists on being innocent at all cost, even if he has to accuse the whole human race and heaven itself. Albert Camus (1913-1960)

We are all fellow passengers on a dot of earth. And each of us, in the span of time, has really only a moment among our companions. Lyndon Baines Johnson

We are all here for a spell; get all the good laughs you can. Will Rogers (1879-1935)

We are all in the gutter but some of us are looking at the stars. Oscar Wilde

We are all just monkeys in business suits running around pretending to be executives.

We are all naturally seekers of wonders. We travel far to see the majesty of old ruins, the venerable forms of the hoary mountains, great waterfalls, and galleries of art. And yet the world wonder is all around us; the wonder of setting suns, and evening stars, of the magic spring-time, the blossoming of the trees, the strange transformations of the moth... Albert Pike (1809-1891)

We are all omnibuses in which our ancestors ride, and every now and then one of them sticks his head out and embarrasses us. Oliver Wendell Holmes

We are all passengers in the leaky rowboat of life. So, bail faster, damn it!

We are all pencils in the hand of God. Mother Teresa

We are all planted within the limits of death.

We are all politicians. Some of us are just honest enough to admit it.

We are all mortal.

We are all ready to be savage in some cause. The difference between a good man and a bad one is the choice of the cause. William James

We are all self-made, but only the rich will admit it.

We are all tattooed in our cradles with the beliefs of our tribe. Oliver Wendell Holmes

We are all travellers in the wilderness of this world, and the best we can find in our travels is an honest friend. Robert Louis Stevenson

We are all worms, but I do believe that I am a glow-worm. Winston Churchill

'We are always doing', says he, 'something for Posterity, but I would fain see Posterity do something for us'. Joseph Addison (1672-1719)

We are always getting ready to live, but never living. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We are always more afraid than we wish to be, but we can always be braver than we expect. Robert Jordan

We are always paid for our suspicion by finding what we suspect. Henry David Thoreau

We are apt to forget that children watch examples better than they listen to preaching. Roy L. Smith

We are born believing. A man bears beliefs, as a tree bears apples. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We are born naked, wet and hungry and then things get worse.

We are bound to our bodies like an oyster is to its shell. Plato

We are built to conquer environment, solve problems, achieve goals, and we find no real satisfaction or happiness in life without obstacles to conquer and goals to achieve. Maxwell Maltz

We are but dust and shadow. Horace

We are called the nation of inventors. And we are. We could still claim that title and wear its loftiest honors if we had stopped with the first thing we ever invented, which was human liberty. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

We are confident that we can penetrate any enemy defenses with our missiles. We know that we are more than the equal of any nation in the world. Robert McNamara

We are confronted by a first danger, the destructiveness of applied atomic energy. And then we are confronted by a second danger, that we do not enough appreciate the first danger. Raymond G. Swing

We are confronted with insurmountable opportunities. Walter Crawford Kelly (1913-1973)

We are dealing - and let the disquieting strangeness of the case be well noted - with an entity whose being consists not in what it is already, but in what it is not yet, a being that consists in not-yet-being. Jose Ortega y Gasset (1883-1955)

We are dealing with the best-educated generation in history. But they've got a brain dressed up with nowhere to go. Timothy Leary (1920-1996)

We are decent 99 percent of the time, when we could easily be vile. R. W. Riis

We are different, in essence, from other men. If you want to win something, run 100 meters. If you want to experience something, run a marathon. Emil Zatopek

We are discreet sheep; we wait to see how the drove is going, and then go with the drove. Mark Twain

We are doomed to cling to a life even while we find it unendurable. William James (1842-1910)

We are double-edged blades, and every time we whet our virtue the return stroke straps our vice. Henry David Thoreau

We are fortunate to live in such interesting times, we have a ringside seat for the fall of western civilization, the only problem is that it is inside the ring. Robert A. Nelson

We are going to have peace even if we have to fight for it. Dwight D. Eisenhower

We are healed of a suffering only by experiencing it in full. Marcel Proust

We are here and it is now. Further than that, all knowledge is moonshine. H. L. (Henry Lewis) Mencken

We are here to add what we can to life, not to get what we can from it. William Osler

We are in danger of forgetting that we cannot do what God does, and that God will not do what we can do. Oswald Chambers

We are in fact convinced that if we are ever to have pure knowledge of anything, we must get rid of the body and contemplate things by themselves with the soul by itself. It seems, to judge from the argument, that the wisdom which we desire and upon which we profess to have set our hearts will be attainable only when we are dead and not in our lifetime. Socrates (470?-399 B.C.)

We are in the midst of a great transition from narrow nationalism to international partnership. Lyndon Baines Johnson

We are inclined to believe those whom we do not know because they have never deceived us.

We are just an advanced breed of monkeys on a minor planet of a very average star. But we can understand the Universe. That makes us something very special. Stephen Hawking

We are like foreigners in a strange country, to whom every thing must seem suspicious, and who are in danger every moment of transgressing against the laws and customs of the people with whom they live and converse. We know not how far we ought to trust our vulgar methods of reasoning in such a subject; since, even in common life, and in that province which is peculiarly appropriated to them, we cannot account for them, and are entirely guided by a kind of instinct or necessity in employing them. David Hume (1711-1776)

We are living in a golden age. All you need is gold. Robertson

We are made wise not by the recollection of our past, but by the responsibility for our future. George Bernard Shaw

We are more sensible of what is done against custom than against Nature. Plutarch (c.46-c.120 A. D.)

We are near waking when we dream we are dreaming. Friedrich Novalis

We are never so happy or unhappy as we think. Francois duc la Rochefoucauld

We are never so ridiculous by the qualities we have, as by those we affect to have. François de La Rochefoucauld

We are no longer happy as soon as we wish to be happier. Landor (1775-1864)

We are no more than candles burning in the wind. Japanese Proverb

We are not a clone.

We are not a loved organization, but we are a respected one. John Fisher

We are not alone.

We are not born for ourselves. John Clarke

We are not free, it was not intended we should be. A book of rules is placed in our cradle, and we never get rid of it until we reach our graves. Then we are free, and only then. Ed Howe

We are not here to pursue happiness, but to pursue those things which produce happiness.

We are not human beings on a spiritual journey. We are spiritual beings on a human journey. Stephen Covey

We are not punished for our sins, but by them.

We are not rich by what we possess but rather by what we can do without. Immanuel Kant

We are not to marvel, when we see, that as men attain to more riches, honours, or other power; so their appetite continually groweth more and more; and when they are come to the utmost degree of one kind of power, they pursue some other, as long as in any kind they think themselves behind any other. Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679)

We are not without accomplishment. We have managed to distribute poverty equally. Nguyen Co Thatch

We are now at a point where we must educate our children in what no one knew yesterday, and prepare our schools for what no one knows yet. Margaret Mead

We are old enough to be wiser. John Wesley

We are ready for any unforeseen event that may or may not occur. J. Danforth Quayle

We are Republicans, and don't propose to leave our party and identify ourselves with the party whose antecedents have been Rum, Romanism, and Rebellion. Samuel D. Burchard

We are restless because of incessant change, but we would be frightened if change were stopped. Lyman Lloyd Bryson

We are shaped and fashioned by what we love. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

We are shut up in schools and college recitation rooms for ten or fifteen years, and come out at last with a bellyful of words and do not know a thing. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

We are sinful not merely because we have eaten of the Tree of Knowledge, but also because we have not eaten of the Tree of Life. Franz Kafka (1883-1924)

We are so fond of each other because our ailments are the same. Jonathan Swift

We are so made that we can derive intense enjoyment only from a contrast and very little from a state of things. Sigmund Freud (1856-1939)

We are so presumptuous that we should like to be known all over the world, even by people who will only come when we are no more. Such is our vanity that the good opinion of half a dozen of the people around us gives us pleasure and satisfaction. Blaise Pascal

We are sometimes made aware of a kindness long passed, and realize that there have been times when our friends' thoughts of us were of so pure and lofty a character that they passed over us like the winds of heaven unnoticed; when they treated us not as what we were, but as what we aspired to be. Henry David Thoreau

We are sorry. We cannot complete your call as dialed.

We are stripped bare by the curse of plenty. Winston Churchill

We are such stuff as dreams are made of (on?), And our little life is rounded with a sleep. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

We are the carriers of health and disease; either the divine health of courage and nobility or the demonic diseases of hate and anxiety. Joshua Loth Liebman

We are the echo of the future. W. S. Merwin

We are the knights who say, "NIE!"

We are the music makers. We are the dreamers of the dreams. Arthur O'Shaughnessy

We are the people our parents warned us about. Jimmy Buffet

We are too busy mopping the floor to turn off the faucet.

We are unable to announce the weather. We depend on weather reports from the airport, which is closed, due to weather. Whether we will be able to give you a weather report tomorrow will depend on the weather.

We are under a Constitution, but the Constitution is what the judges say it is, and the judiciary is the safeguard of our liberty and of our property under the Constitution. Charles Evans Hughes

We are usually convinced more easily by reasons we have found ourselves than by those which have occurred to others. Blaise Pascal

We are very much what others think of us. The reception our observations meet with gives us courage to proceed, or damps our efforts. William Hazlitt

We are what and where we are because we have first imagined it. Donald Curtis

We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit. Aristotle (384-322 BC)

We are what we think. All that we are arises with our thoughts. With our thoughts we make the world. The Buddha

We are working on getting Cruise missiles more accurate so that we can have precise precision. Vice President Dan Quayle

We arrive at truth, not by reason only, but also by the heart. Blaise Pascal

We ask to be judged by deeds not words. Winston Churchill

We attract love by the qualities we display; we retain love by the qualities we possess.

We become what we do.

We believe at once in evil, we only believe in good upon reflection. Is this not sad? Madame Dorothee Deluzy

We blame fate for other accidents, but we feel personally responsible when we make a hole in one.

We boast our emancipation from many superstitions; but if we have broken any idols, it is through a transfer of idolatry. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We build statues out of snow, and weep to see them melt. Walter Scott

We call our rich relatives the kin we love to touch. Eddie Cantor

We can admire what we see, but we can only love what we truly know.

We can ask primal questions, but we can never stand near the beginning. Our questions and answers are in part determined by the historical tradition in which we find ourselves. We apprehend truth from our own source within the historical tradition. Karl Jaspers (1883-1969)

We can be decisive, probably. Pat Paulsen (1927-1997)

We can defeat gravity. The problem is the paperwork involved.

We can do no great things, only small things with great love. Mother Theresa

We can easily forgive a child who is afraid of the dark; the real tragedy of life is when men are afraid of the light. Plato (427-347 BC)

We can go on talking about racism and who treated whom badly, but what are you going to do about it? Are you going to wallow in that or are you going to create your own agenda? Judith Jamison

We can invent only with memory. Alphonse Karr

We can learn much from wise words, little from wisecracks, and less from wise guys.

We can lick gravity, but sometimes the paperwork is overwhelming. Wehrner von Braun

We can live without our friends, but not without our neighbours. James Kelly

We can not expect to breed respect for law and order among people who do not share the fruits of our freedom. Hubert H. Humphrey

We can loan you enough money to get you completely out of debt.

We can never be sure that the opinion we are endeavoring to stifle is a false opinion; and if we were sure, stifling it would be an evil still. John Stuart Mill

We can offer up much in the large, but to make sacrifices in little things is what we are seldom equal to. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

We can only change the world by changing men. Charles Wells

We can only hate in others what we first hate in ourselves. John Quill Taylor

We can only write well of that which we know. John Quill Taylor

We can plant wheat every year, but the people who are starving die only once. Fiorello H. La Guardia

We cannot banish dangers, but we can banish fears. We must not demean life by standing in awe of death. David Sarnoff

We cannot be separated in interest or divided in purpose. We stand together until the end. Woodrow Wilson

We cannot become what we need to be, by remaining what we are. Max DuPree

We cannot command nature except by obeying her. Francis Bacon (1561-1626)

We cannot conquer fate and necessity, yet we can yield to them in such a manner as to be greater than if we could. Walter S. Landor

We cannot despair of humanity, since we are ourselves human beings. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

We cannot despair of humanity, since we ourselves are human beings. Albert Einstein

We cannot direct the wind... But we can adjust the sails.

We cannot do everything at once, but we can do something at once.

We cannot hope to fill the schools with persons of high intelligence, for persons of high intelligence simply refuse to spend their lives teaching such banal things as spelling and arithmetic. Among the teachers male we may safely assume that 95% are of low mentality, else they would depart for more appetizing pastures. And even among the teachers female the best are inevitably weeded out by marriage, and only the worst (with a few romantic exceptions) survive. H. L. Mencken

We cannot indeed, beyond all possible experience, form a definite notion of what things in themselves may be. Yet we are not at liberty to abstain entirely from inquiring into them; for experience never satisfies reason fully, but in answering questions, refers us further and further back, and leaves us dissatisfied with regard to their complete solution. Immanuel Kant (1724-1804)

We cannot live by power, and a culture that seeks to live by it becomes brutal and sterile. But we can die without it. Max Lerner

We cannot live for ourselves alone. Our lives are connected by a thousand invisible threads, and along these sympathetic fibers, our actions run as causes and return to us as results. Herman Melville

We cannot live only for ourselves. A thousand fibers connect us with our fellow men; and among those fibers, as sympathetic threads, our actions run as causes, and they come back to us as effects. Herman Melville

We cannot... prove geometrical truths by arithmetic. Aristotle

We cannot really love anybody with whom we never laugh. Agnes Repplier

We cannot sow seeds with clenched fists. To sow we must open our hands. Adolfo Perez Esquivel

We cannot tell what may happen to us in the strange medley of life. But we can decide what happens in us - how we can take it, what we do with it - and that is what really counts in the end. How to take the raw stuff of life and make it a thing of worth and beauty - that is the test of living. Joseph Fort Newton

We can't all, and some of us don't. That's all there is to it. A. A. Milne

We can't all be heroes because someone has to sit on the curb and clap as they go by. Will Rogers

We can't control the wind, but we have the power to adjust the sails.

We can't form our children on our own concepts; we must take them and love them as God gives them to us. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

We can't leave the haphazard to chance. N. F. Simpson

We cease loving ourselves if no one loves us. Mme de Stael

We classify disease as error, which nothing but Truth or Mind can heal. Mary Baker Eddy

We come to love not by finding a perfect person but by learning to see an imperfect person perfectly. Sam Keen

We come to reason, not to dominate. We do not seek to have our way, but to find a common way. Lyndon Baines Johnson

We come too late to say anything which has not been said already. Jean de la Bruyere

We composers are at least as significant as the stars who make $14 million or $15 million. You just don't see us. Michael Kamen

We consider that any man who can fiddle all through one of those Virginia Reels without losing his grip, may be depended upon in any kind of musical emergency. Mark Twain

We continue to shape our personality all our life. If we knew ourselves perfectly, we should die.

Albert Camus

We could accomplish a lot more if we'd get rid of our ifs and and's; and get off our butts.

We could all take a lesson from the weather. It pays no attention to criticism.

We could do that, but it would be wrong, that's for sure. Richard Nixon

We could never learn to be brave and patient, if there were only joy in the world. Helen Keller

We could present spatially an atomic fact which contradicted the laws of physics, but not one which contradicted the laws of geometry. Ludwig Wittgenstein

We crucify ourselves between two thieves - regret for yesterday and fear of tomorrow.

We cut nature up, organize it into concepts, and ascribe significances as we do, largely because we are parties to an agreement to organize it in this way - an agreement that holds through our speech community and is codified in the patterns of our language. Benjamin Lee Whorf

We dance round in a ring and suppose, But the Secret sits in the middle and knows. Robert Frost

We declare war with the wages system, which demoralizes alike the hirer and the hired, cheats both, and enslaves the workingman. Wendell Phillips

We defend and we build a way of life, not for America alone, but for all mankind. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

We define genius as constructive reaction against one's training. Bernard Berenson

We despise all reverences and all objects of reverence which are outside the pale of our list of sacred things. And yet, with strange inconsistency, we are shocked when other people despise and defile the things which are holy to us. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

We discover that we do not know our role; we look for a mirror; we want to remove our make-up and take off what is false and be real. But somewhere a piece of disguise that we forgot still sticks to us. A trace of exaggeration remains in our eyebrows; we do not notice that the corners of our mouth are bent. And so we walk around, a mockery and a mere half: neither having achieved being nor actors. Rainer Maria Rilke (1875-1926)

We do everything by custom, even believe by it; our very axioms, let us boast of free-thinking as we may, are oftenest simply such beliefs as we have never heard questioned. Thomas Carlyle

We do good because it frees the heart. It opens us to a wellspring of happiness. Sharon Salzberg

We do not ask ourselves what the ultimate ideas behind our civilization are that have brought us into danger; we do not search for the human face behind the bewildering array of instruments that man has forged; in a word, we do not dare to be philosophical. William Barrett

We do not believe in ourselves until someone reveals that deep inside us is valuable, worth listening to, worthy of our trust, sacred to our touch. Once we believe in ourselves we can risk curiosity, wonder, spontaneous delight or any experience that reveals the human spirit. e. e. cummings

We do not believe in programs, in plans, in saints or apostles, above all, we do not believe in happiness, in salvation, in the promised land. Benito Mussolini

We do not count a man's years, until he has nothing else to count. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

We do not have to visit a madhouse to find disordered minds; our planet is the mental institution of the universe. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

We do not know the true value of our moments until they have undergone the test of memory. Georges Duhamel

We do not know who first discovered water. However, we are confident that it was not a fish.

We do not need more intellectual power, we need more spiritual power. Calvin Coolidge

We do not need more of the things that are seen, we need more of the things that are unseen. Calvin Coolidge

We do not need to be shoemakers to know if our shoes fit, and just as little have we any need to be professionals to acquire knowledge of matters of universal interest. Georg Hegel (1770-1831)

We do not raise silk worms in the United States, because we get our silk from rayon. He is a larger worm and gives more silk.

We do not rejoice in victories. We rejoice when a new kind of cotton is grown and when strawberries bloom in Israel. Golda Meir (1898–1978)

We do not remember days, we remember moments. Bernadette Thoennes

We do not walk on our legs, but on our Will. Sufi proverb

We do not want the men of another color for our brothers-in-law, but we do want them for our brothers. Booker T. Washington

We do not worry about being respected in towns through which we pass. But if we are going to remain in one for a certain time, we do worry. How long does this time have to be? Blaise Pascal

We do sometimes say that you and I have the same desire; but what we mean is that your desire and mine, though two states of mind, have a single object. Now, if there be such things as bits of Matter at all, they are not private in this way to each mind, but are common to all the minds that observe them. We talk of my beliefs and your wishes; we do not talk of my hydrogen atom or of your electron. C. D. Broad (1887-1971)

We do what we must, and call it by the best names. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We don't call it sin today, we call it self-expression. Baroness Stocks

We don't care. We don't have to. We're the Phone Company.

We don't have to protect the environment; the Second Coming is at hand. Watt

We don't just borrow words; on occasion, English has pursued other languages down alleyways to beat them unconscious and riffle their pockets for new vocabulary. James D. Nicoll

We don't know a millionth of one percent about anything. Thomas Alva Edison (1847-1931)

We don't know one millionth of one percent about anything.

We don't live in Disneyland. We live in blood and in time, not in Fantasyland. We live in a tragic world. Costa-Gavras

We don't make mistakes here, we just have happy accidents. Bob Ross

We don't necessarily discriminate. We simply exclude certain types of people. Colonel Gerald Wellman

We don't need more strength or more ability or greater opportunity. What we need is to use what we have. Basil S. Walsh

We don't really understand it, so we'll leave it for the poets. John Quill Taylor

We don't reject writers; we reject pieces of paper with typing on them. (George Scithers' Rule)

We don't see things as they are, we see them as we are. Anais Nin

We don't seem to be able to check crime, so why not legalize it and then tax it out of business. Will Rogers

We don't understand life any better at forty than at twenty, but we know it and admit it. Jules Renard (1864-1910)

We don't see things as they are, we see them as we are. Anais Nin

We don't stop playing because we grow old, we grow old because we stop playing.

We don't want a thing because we have found a reason for it - we find a reason for it because we want it.

We don't want to go back to tomorrow, we want to go forward. J. Danforth Quayle

We don't want tradition. We want to live in the present and the only history that is worth a tinker's damn is the history we make today. Henry Ford

We easily forget crimes that are known only to ourselves. François de La Rochefoucauld

We emphasize that we believe in change because we were born of it, we have lived by it, we prospered and grew great by it. So the status quo has never been our god, and we ask no one else to bow down before it. Carl T. Rowan

We enact many laws that manufacture criminals, and then a few that punish them. Allen Tucker

We English are good at forgiving our enemies; it releases us from the obligation of liking our friends. P. D. James

We especially need imagination in science. It is not all mathematics, nor all logic, but it is somewhat beauty and poetry. Maria Mitchell (1818-1889)

We expect our leaders to be better than we are... and they should be - or why are we following them? Paul Harvey

We expect (them) Salvadorian officials to work toward the elimination of human rights. J. Danforth Quayle

We fear things in proportion to our ignorance of them. Titus Livius

We feel that even if all possible scientific questions be answered, the problems of life have still not been touched at all. Of course, there is then no question left, and just this is the answer. The solution of the problem of life is seen in the vanishing of this problem. Ludwig Wittgenstein

We fight not to enslave, but to set a country free, and to make room upon the earth for honest men to live in. Thomas Paine

We find comfort among those who agree with us ; growth among those who don't. Frank A Clark

We find delight in the beauty and happiness of children that makes the heart too big for the body. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

We find greatest joy, not in getting, but in expressing what we are. R. J. Baughan

We find that advertising works the way the grass grows. You can never see it, but every week you have to mow the lawn. Andy Tarshis

We find what we expect to find, and we receive what we ask for. Elbert Hubbard

We forget that the most successful statesmen have been professionals. Lincoln was a professional politician. Felix Frankfurter

We generally admire the wisdom of those who come to us for advice.

We generally know when we wish to ask a question and when we wish to pronounce a judgment, for there is a dissimilarity between the sensation of doubting and that of believing. Charles S. Peirce (1839-1914)

We give advice by the bucket, but take it by the grain. William Rounseville Alger

We give up leisure in order that we may have leisure, just as we go to war in order that we may have peace. Aristotle

We go by the major vote, and if the majority are insane, the sane must go to the hospital. Horace Mann

We grant, although he had much wit, / He was very shy of using it. Samuel Butler (1600-1680)

We grew up founding our dreams on the infinite promise of American advertising. I still believe that one can learn to play the piano by mail and that mud will give you a perfect complexion. Zelda Fitzgerald

We grow a little every time we do not take advantage of somebody's weakness. Bern Williams

We grow great by dreams. All big men are dreamers. They see things in the soft haze of a spring day or in the red fire of a long winter's evening. Some of us let these great dreams die, but others nourish and protect them; nurse them through bad days till they bring them to the sunshine and light which comes always to those who sincerely hope that their dreams will come true. Woodrow Wilson

We grow small trying to be great. E. Stanley Jones

We had a lot in common. I loved him and he loved him. Shelley Winters

We had better appear what we are, than affect to appear what we are not. François de La Rochefoucauld

We had to get it passed before the columnists attacked!

We hang the petty thieves and appoint the great ones to public office. Aesop

We hardly find any persons of good sense save those who agree with us. François de La Rochefoucauld

We hate the kindness which we understand. Henry David Thoreau

We have a Bill of Rights, which protects each of us from a bullying society, but no Bill of Responsibilities, which would oblige us to answer to the needs of others. Scott Russel Sanders

We have a choice: to plow new ground or let the weeds grow. Jonathan Westover

We have a criminal jury system which is superior to any in the world; and its efficiency is only marred by the difficulty of finding twelve men every day who don't know anything and can't read. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

We have a firm commitment to NATO, we are a part of NATO. We have a firm commitment to Europe. We are a part of Europe. Dan Quayle

We have a lot of anxieties, and one cancels out another very often. Winston Churchill

We have a lot of people revolutionizing the world because they've never had to present a working model. Charles F. Kettering

We have a natural right to make use of our pens as of our tongues, at our peril, risk and hazard. Voltaire

We have actively sought and are actively seeking to make the United Nations an effective instrument of international cooperation. Dean Acheson

We have been friends together / In sunshine and in shade. Caroline E. S. Norton (1808-1877)

We have been God-like in our planned breeding of our domesticated plants and animals, but we have been rabbit-like in our unplanned breeding of ourselves. Arnold Joseph Toynebee

We have been pushing the idea that George Bush is going to make matters much, much worse. Vice President Dan Quayle

We have deep depth. Yogi Berra

We have drugs to make women speak, but none to keep them silent. Anatole France (1844-1924)

We have enslaved the rest of the animal creation, and have treated our distant cousins in fur and feathers so badly that beyond doubt, if they were able to formulate a religion, they would depict the Devil in human form. William Ralph Inge

We have forty million reasons for failure, but not a single excuse. Rudyard Kipling

We have found a strange footprint on the shores of the unknown. We have devised profound theories, one after another, to account for its origins. At last, we have succeeded in reconstructing the creature that made the footprint. And lo! It is our own. Arthur Eddington

We have got to learn from this tournament; we have got to go and lick our wounds and look at the next mountain we have got to climb. Kevin Keegan

We have inherited new difficulties because we have inherited more privileges. Abram Sacher

We have it in our power to begin the world over again. Thomas Paine

We have just enough religion to make us hate, but not enough to make us love, one another. Jonathan Swift

We have luck only with women - not spacecraft. R. Kremnev

We have made the Reich by propaganda. Joseph Paul Goebbels

We have met the enemy, and he is us. Walt Kelly

We have met the enemy and it is us. Walt Kelly

We have met the enemy, and they are ours. Oliver Hazard Perry (1785-1820)

We have no demands to present you, no bargains to strike, no compromise to reach. You have nothing to offer us. We do not need you. Ayn Rand (1905-1982)

We have no desire whatever to be better, we are very contented with ourselves, all we desire is not to harm one another. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

We have no more right to put our discordant states of mind into the lives of those around us and rob them of their sunshine and brightness than we have to enter their houses and steal their silverware. Julia Moss Seton

We have no right to assume that any physical laws exist, or that if they have existed up to now, that they will continue to exist in a similar manner in the future. Max Planck

We have not inherited the earth from our ancestors, we have only borrowed it from our children.
Ancient Proverb

We have not lost faith; we have transferred it from God to the medical profession. George Bernard Shaw

We have nothing to fear about work but the work itself.

We have provided for the survival of man against all enemies except his fellow man. Lyman Lloyd Bryson

We have scientists who still pray to the gods, scientists who laugh at the gods, and some who neither pray nor laugh because they think they understand. A. J. Carlson

We have seen that the American Constitution has changed, is changing, and by the law of its existence must continue to change, in its substance and practical working even when its words remain the same. James Bryce

We have the best Congress money can buy. Will Rogers

We have the Bill of Rights. What we need is a Bill of Responsibilities. Bill Maher

We have them just where they want us. James Kirk

We have to be careful not to put Descartes before the horse.

We have to do the best we can. This is our sacred human responsibility. Albert Einstein

We have to get organized!

We have to go along a road covered with blood. We have no other alternative. For us it is a matter of life or death, a matter of living or existing. We have to be ready to face the challenges that await us. Gamel Abdel Nasser

We have to hate our immediate predecessors to get free of their authority. D. H. Lawrence

We have too many high-sounding words, and too few actions that correspond with them. Abigail Adams (1744-1818)

We have two ducks, one blue one black and when our blue duck says "quack quack" our black one quickly quack-quacks back. The quacks Blue quacks make her quite a quacker But Black is a quicker quacker-backer.

We have two ears and only one tongue in order that we may hear more and speak less. Diogenes Laertius (Circa 200 A. D.)

We have yet to find a significant case where the company did not move in the direction of the chief executive's home. Ken Patton

We haven't got the power to destroy the planet - or to save it. But we might have the power to save ourselves. John Michael Crichton (1942-)

We haven't the money, so we've got to think. Lord Rutherford

We heed no instincts but our own. J. de La Fontaine (1621-1695)

We hold these truths to be sacred and undeniable; that all men are created equal and independent, that from that equal creation they derive rights inherent and inalienable, among which are the preservation of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Thomas Jefferson

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. Thomas Jefferson from the US Declaration of Independence

We hope that when the insects take over the world, they will remember with gratitude how we took them along on all our picnics. Bill Vaughan

We hope to be judged by deeds, and not by words, and by performance rather than by promises. Winston Churchill

We human beings do have some genuine freedom of choice and therefore some effective control over our own destinies. I am not a determinist. But I also believe that the decisive choice is seldom the latest choice in the series. More often than not, it will turn out to be some choice made relatively far back in the past. Arnold J. Toynbee

We in Government have begun to recognize the critical work which must be done at all levels ; local, State and Federal in ending the pollution of our waters. Robert F. Kennedy

We in the industry know that behind every successful screenwriter stands a woman. And behind her stands his wife. Groucho Marx

We increase whatever we praise. The whole creation responds to praise, and is glad. Charles Fillmore

We inherit nothing truly, but what our actions make us worthy of. George Chapman

We interrupt this fortune for an important announcement...

We invent what we love, and what we fear. John Irving

We join ourselves to no party that does not carry the American flag, and keep step to the music of the Union. Rufus Choate

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing; others judge us by what we have done. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow (1807-1882)

We know accurately only when we know little; with knowledge doubt enters. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

We know how to speak many falsehoods that resemble real things, but we know, when we will, how to speak true things. Hesiod

We know nothing of what will happen in future, but by the analogy of experience. Abraham Lincoln

We know nothing to be certainly good or evil except what is really conducive to understanding or what can hinder understanding. Baruch Spinoza

We know that a fool and his money are very soon parted, but what would be interesting to learn is how they ever got together in the first place.

We know the truth, not only by the reason, but also by the heart. Blaise Pascal (1623-1662)

We know the worth of a thing when we have lost it. French Proverb

We know what happens to people who stay in the middle of the road. They get run over. Ambrose Bierce

We know what we are, but know not what we may be. William Shakespeare

We learn from experience that men never learn anything from experience. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

We learn from history that we do not learn anything from history.

We learn from history that we do not learn from history. Georg Wilhelm F. Hegel

We like all kinds of praise, but a hike in our pay is the best kind.

We live and learn. English Proverb

We live at a time when man believes himself fabulously capable of creation, but he does not know what to create. Jose Ortega y Gasset

We live by encouragement and die without it - slowly, sadly, angrily. Celeste Holm

We live emotively a quality which penetrates us, which we suffer, and which exceeds us on every side; at once, the emotion ceases to be itself; it transcends itself; it is not a trivial episode of our daily life; it is intuition of the absolute. Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980)

We live in a fantasy world, a world of illusion. The great task in life is to find reality. Isaac Singer (1904-1991)

We live in a fantasy world, a world of illusion. The great task in life is to find reality. Iris Murdoch (1919-)

We live in a rainbow of chaos. Paul Cezanne

We live in a society where pizza gets to your house before the police.

We live in a time when automation is ushering in a second industrial revolution. Adlai E. Stevenson

We live in a wonderful world that is full of beauty, charm and adventure. There is no end to the adventures that we can have if only we seek them with our eyes open. Jawaharlal Nehru

We live in a world that has narrowed into a neighborhood before it has broadened into a brotherhood. Lyndon Baines Johnson

We live in a world which is full of misery and ignorance, / and the plain duty of each and all of us is to try to make / the little corner he can influence somewhat less miserable / and somewhat less ignorant than it was before he entered it. Thomas Huxley (1825-1895)

We live in an age when pizza gets to your home before the police. Jeff Marder

We live in an age when to be young and indifferent can no longer be synonymous. We must prepare for the coming hour. The claims of the Future are represented by suffering millions; and the Youth of a Nation are the trustees of Posterity. Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881)

We live in an age when unnecessary things are our only necessities. Oscar Wilde

We live in deeds, not years: / In thoughts, not breaths; / In feelings, not in figures on a dial. / We should count time by heart-throbs. He most lives / Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best. / Life 's but a means unto an end; that end / Beginning, mean, and end to all things, - God. Philip James Bailey (1816-1902)

We live, not as we wish to, but as we can. Menander

We live not to eat, but we eat to live. T. Becon

We live on an island surrounded by a sea of ignorance. As our island of knowledge grows, so does the shore of our ignorance. John A. Wheeler

We live on one-third of what we eat, and the doctors live on the rest. Royal S Copeland

We look at death through the cheap-glazed windows of the flesh, and believe him the monster which the flawed and cracked glass represents him. James Lowell (1819-1891)

We look forward to the time when the power to love will replace the love of power. Then will our world know the blessings of peace. William Gladstone

We lose the certain things, while we seek the uncertain ones. Latin Proverb

We love because it's the only true adventure. Nikki Giovanni

We love force and we care very little how it is exhibited. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We love the Lord, of course, but we often wonder what He finds in us. Ed Howe

We love to expect, and when expectation is either disappointed or gratified, we want to be again expecting. Samuel Johnson

We made too many wrong mistakes. Yogi Berra

We make a living by what we make, but we make a life by what we give. Winston Churchill

We make a living by what we get. We make a life by what we give. Winston Churchill

We make our friends; we make our enemies; but God makes our next-door neighbour. G. K. Chesterton

We make way for the man who boldly pushes past us. Christian Nestell Bovee

We may be alone. We may not be alone. Either way, the thought is staggering.

We may give advice but we cannot give conduct.

We may give without loving, but we cannot love without giving.

We may live without loving, but we cannot love without living.

We may live without poetry, music and art; / We may love without conscience and live without heart; / We may live without friends, we may live without books; / But civilized man cannot live without cooks. Owen Meredith

We may make our plans, but God has the last word. Solomon

We may not be what we want to be, but thank God we are not what we used to be. Tim Storey

We may not imagine how our lives could be more frustrating and complex - but Congress can. Cullen Hightower

We may not return the affection of those who like us, but we always respect their good judgement.

We may think there is willpower involved, but more likely... change is due to want power. Wanting the new addiction more than the old one. Wanting the new me in preference to the... person I am now. George Sheehan

We most deeply repent the sins we have committed in good conscience ; we most deeply resent those wrongs other have done us in good conscience. Strausz-Hupe

We must admit with humility that, while number is purely a product of our minds, space has a reality outside our minds, so that we cannot completely prescribe its properties a priori. Carl Friedrich Gauss

We must all hang together, or most assuredly we shall all hang separately. Benjamin Franklin

We must all obey the great law of change. It is the most powerful law of nature. Edmund Burke (1729-1797)

We must be as courteous to a man as we are to a picture, which we are willing to give the advantage of a good light. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We must be steady enough in ourselves, to be open and to let the winds of life blow through us, to be our breath, our inspiration; to breathe with them, mobile and soft in the limberness of our bodies, in our agility, our ability, as it were, to dance, and yet to stand upright. Mary Caroline Richards

We must believe in free will, we have no choice. Isaac B. Singer

We must believe in luck. For how else can we explain the success of those we don't like? Jean Coceau

We must beware of trying to build a society in which nobody counts for anything except a politician or an official, a society where enterprise gains no reward and thrift no privileges. Winston Churchill

We must change in order to survive. Pearl Bailey (1918-1990)

We must combine the toughness of the serpent with the softness of the dove, a tough mind and a tender heart. Martin Luther King, Jr.

We must cultivate our own garden... When man was put in the garden of Eden he was put there so that he should work, which proves that man was not born to rest. Voltaire (1694-1778)

We must expect to fail... but fail in a learning posture, determined not to repeat the mistakes, and to maximize the benefits from what is learned in the process. Ted W. Engstrom & R. Alec MacKenzie

We must free ourselves of the hope that the sea will ever rest. We must learn to sail in high winds. Hanmer Parson

We must hang together, gentlemen...else, we shall most assuredly hang separately. Benjamin Franklin

We must hang together or assuredly we shall hang separately. Benjamin Franklin

We must have a weak spot or two in our character before we can love it much. Oliver Wendell Holmes

We must have reasons for speech but we need none for silence. French Proverb

We must have strong minds, ready to accept facts as they are. Harry S Truman (1884-1972)

We must interpret a bad temper as a sign of inferiority. Alfred Adler (1870-1937)

We must just make the best of things as they come along. Winston Churchill

We must know. We will know. (Wir müssen wissen. Wir werden wissen.) David Hilbert

We must laugh at man, to avoid crying for him. Napoleon

We must laugh before we are happy, for fear we die before we laugh at all. Jean de La Bruyere

We must learn our limits. We are all something, but none of us are everything. Blaise Pascal

We must learn to live together as brothers or perish together as fools. Martin Luther King, Jr. (1929-1968)

We must love as looking one day to hate. George Herbert

We must make the best of those ills which cannot be avoided. Alexander Hamilton

We must make the world honest before we can honestly say to our children that honesty is the best policy. George Bernard Shaw

We must never forget that art is not a form of propaganda, it is a form of truth. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

We must never forget that if the war in Vietnam is lost... the right of free speech will be extinguished throughout the world. Richard Milhouse Nixon

We must never forget that we may also find meaning in life even when confronted with a hopeless situation, when facing a fate that cannot be changed. Viktor Frankl

We must no more ask whether the soul and body are one than ask whether the wax and the figure impressed on it are one. Aristotle

We must not allow other people's limited perceptions to define us.

We must not always judge of the generality of the opinion by the noise of the acclamation. Edmund Burke

We must not believe all we hear. Stevens

We must not err on the side of over-confidence. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

We must not promise what we ought not, lest we be called on to perform what we cannot. Abraham Lincoln

We must overact our part in some measure, in order to produce any effect at all. William Hazlitt

We must overcome the notion that we must be regular. It robs you of the chance to be extraordinary and leads you to the mediocre. Uta Hagen

We must remember that any oppression, any injustice, any hatred, is a wedge designed to attack our civilization. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

We must respect the other fellow's religion, but only in the sense and to the extent that we respect his theory that his wife is beautiful and his children smart. H. L. Mencken (1880-1956)

We must respect the other person's religion, but only in the sense and to the extent that we respect his theory that his wife is beautiful and his children smart. H. L. (Henry Lewis) Mencken

We must therefore glean up our experiments in science from a cautious observation of human life, and take them as they appear in the common course of the world, by men's behaviour in company, in affairs, and in their pleasures. David Hume (1711-1776)

We must use time creatively and forever realize that the time is always hoping to do great things. Martin Luther King, Jr.

We must walk consciously only part way toward our goal, and then leap in the dark to our success. Henry David Thoreau

We need a president who's fluent in at least one language. Buck Henry

We need... A sense of the value of time - that is, of the best way to divide one's time into one's various activities. Arnold Bennett

We need either less corruption or more chance to participate in it.

We need more unemployed politicians.

We need the iron qualities that go with true manhood. We need the positive virtues of resolution, of courage, of indomitable will, of power to do without shrinking the rough work that must always be done. Theodore Roosevelt

We need to dream big dreams, propose grandiose means if we are to recapture the excitement, the vibrancy, and pride we once had. Coleman Young

We need to give ourselves permission to act out our dreams and visions, not look for more sensations, more phenomena, but live our strongest dreams even if it takes a lifetime. Vijali Hamilton

We need to graduate from falling in love to true love. Max Lüscher

We never know the love of the parent till we become parents ourselves. Henry Ward Beecher

We never know the worth of water till the well is dry. French Proverb

We never live; we are always in the expectation of living. Voltaire

We new philosophers,... teach estrangement in every sense, we open up gulfs such as never existed before, we desire that man should become more evil than he has ever been before. In the meantime, we are still strangers to and from one another. We have many reasons to be hermits and to put on masks - we shall therefore be poor at looking for those like us. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

We now present the conclusion of... The Never-ending Story.

We often give enemies the means of our own destruction. Aesop (620-560 BC)

We often pay our debts not because it is only fair that we should, but to make future loans easier.

François de La Rochefoucauld

We often see further through a tear, than through a telescope.

We ought never do wrong when people are looking. Mark Twain

We ought never to do wrong when people are looking. Mark Twain

We ought to dance with rapture that we might be alive - and part of the living, incarnate cosmos. D.

H. Lawrence

We ourselves feel that what we are doing is just a drop in the ocean, but the ocean would be less because of that missing drop. Mother Teresa

We overlook so much happiness because it is free.

We owe a deep debt of gratitude to Adam, the first great benefactor of the human race: he brought death into the world. Mark Twain

We owe it to ourselves to question everything.

We owe to the Middle Ages the two worst inventions of humanity : gunpowder and romantic love.

André Maurois

We pay for the mistakes of our ancestors, and it seems only fair that they should leave us the money to pay with. Don Marquis

We pay much more attention to a wise passage when it is quoted than when we read it in the original author. P. G. Hamerton

We perceive and are affected by changes too subtle to be described. Henry David Thoreau

We perfect, we soften, we conceal what nature has put in us, but we ourselves do not put in anything at all. Voltaire

We pity in others only those evils which we have ourselves experienced. Jean Jacques Rousseau

We plan absentee ownership. I'll stick to building ships. George Steinbrenner

We praise a man who feels angry on the right grounds and against the right persons and also in the right manner at the right moment and for the right length of time. Aristoteles (384-322 B.C)

We praise or fault, depending on which of the two provides more opportunity for our powers of judgment to shine. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

We prefer to speak evil of ourselves rather than not speak of ourselves at all.

We prefer world law, in the age of self-determination, to world war in the age of mass extermination. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

We presuppose two things: that there is yet to be learned infinitely more than is now known, and that man can learn it. John W. Campbell, Jr.

We promise according to our hopes, and perform according to our fears. La Rochefoucauld

We read advertisements... to discover and enlarge our desires. We are always ready - even eager - to discover, from the announcement of a new product, what we have all along wanted without really knowing it. Daniel J. Boorstin

We read to say that we have read.

We realize that what we are accomplishing is a drop in the ocean. But if this drop were not in the ocean, it would be missed. Mother Teresa

We really are fifteen different countries and it's really remarkable that each of us thinks we represent the real America. The midwesterner in Kansas, the black American in Durham ; both are certain they are the real American. Maya Angelou

We really don't learn anything from our experience. We only learn from reflecting on our experience. Robert Sinclair

We remember our dreams; we do not remember our sleep. Marguerite Yourgenar

We run carelessly to the precipice, after we have put something before us to prevent us from seeing it. Blaise Pascal

We run heedlessly into the abyss after putting something in front of us to stop us seeing it. Blaise Pascal (1623-1662)

We secure our friends not by accepting favors but by doing them.

We see advertising actually creating and naming taboos. The most famous, B.O. and Halitosis, are archaeological specimens from an age which we might fix as either Late Iron Tonic or Early Soap... Bad breath and body odor have always existed, of course, but as individual matters. To transfer them from personal idiosyncrasies into tribal taboos is a magicianly trick indeed. Howard Luck Gossage

We see only what we know. Goethe

We see things not as they are, but as we are. Henry Tomlinson

We seek peace, knowing that peace is the climate of freedom. Dwight D. Eisenhower

We seek to be judged by deeds rather than by words. Winston Churchill

We seem to have a compulsion these days to bury time capsules in order to give those people living in the next century or so some idea of what we are like. I have prepared one of my own. I have placed some rather large samples of dynamite, gunpowder, and nitroglycerin. My time capsule is set to go off in the year 3000. It will show them what we are really like. Alfred Hitchcock

We seem to want mass production, but we must remember that men are individuals not to be satisfactorily dealt with in masses, and the making of men is more important than the production of things. Ralph W. Sockman

We seldom attribute common sense except to those who agree with us. Francois de La Rochefoucauld

We seldom find people ungrateful so long as it is thought we can serve them. François de La Rochefoucauld

We select, pattern and interpret the flux of events in the attempt to make life meaningful and few of us suspect how deeply entrenched, and arbitrary, these rules are. We impose them on the world so that what we see conforms to what we have been led to see. And one of the crucial factors in our construction of this reality is language. Dale Spender

We serve best when we hold dearly in mind the goal and purpose rather than our place in the process.

We shake papers at each other the way primitive tribes shake spears. John Jay Osborn, Jr.

We shall never be able to remove suspicion and fear as potential causes of war until communication is permitted to flow, free and open, across international boundaries. Harry S. Truman

We shall not cease from exploration, and the end of all our exploring will be to arrive where we started and know the place for the first time. T. S. Eliot

We shall not flag or fail. We shall go on to the end. We shall fight in France, we shall fight on the seas and the oceans, we shall fight with growing confidence and growing strength in the air, we shall defend our island, whatever the cost may be. We shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills; we shall never surrender. Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

We shall reach greater and greater platitudes of achievement. Richard J. Daley

We should all do what, in the long run, gives us joy, even if it is only picking grapes or sorting laundry. E. B. White

We should be as careful of the books we read, as of the company we keep. The dead very often have more power than the living. Tryon Edwards

We should be careful to get out of an experience only the wisdom that is in it - and stop there; lest we be like the cat that sits down on a hot stove-lid. She will never sit down on a hot stove-lid

again - and that is well; but also she will never sit down on a cold one anymore. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

We should be eternally vigilant against attempts to check the expression of opinions that we loathe. Oliver Wendel Holmes, Jr.

We should develop anti-satellite weapons because we could not have prevailed without them in 'Red Storm Rising'. J. Danforth Quayle

We should face reality and our past mistakes in an honest, adult way. Boasting of glory does not make glory, and singing in the dark does not dispel fear. King Hussein of Jordan

We should forgive our enemies, but only after they've been taken out and shot.

We should keep so close to facts that we never have to remember the second time what we said the first time. F. Marion Smith

We should never let ourselves be burnt for our opinions; we are not that sure of them. But perhaps for this that we may have and change our opinions. Friedrich Nietzsche

We should not expect something for nothing but we all do, and we call it hope. Ed Howe

We should thank God that He did not give us the power of hearing through walls; otherwise there would be no such thing as friendship. Austin O'Malley

We should wage war not to win war, but to win peace. Paul Hoffman

We sometimes meet an original gentleman, who, if manners had not existed, would have invented them. Ralph Waldo Emerson

We soon believe what we desire.

We speak little if not egged on by vanity. François de La Rochefoucauld

We start out loving our parents and end up hating them. Sometimes we learn to love them again, but we never forgive them.

We struggle with the complexities and avoid the simplicities. Norman Vincent Peale

We suffer most when the White House busts with ideas. H. L. Mencken

We teach quantum theory on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and wave theory on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Sir William Bragg

We teachers can only help the work going on, as servants wait upon a master. Maria Montessori (1870-1952)

We tell people that if no one laughs at least one of their ideas, they're probably not being creative enough. Bill Gates

We tend to forget that happiness doesn't come as a result of getting something we don't have, but rather of recognizing and appreciating what we do have. Frederick Koenig

We tend to get what we expect. Norman Vincent Peale

We tend to meet any new situation by reorganizing and a wonderful method it can be for creating the illusion of progress while producing confusion, inefficiency and demoralization. Petronius Arbiter

We that are young shall never see so much nor live so long. William Shakespeare

We, the unwilling, / led by the unknowing, / are doing the impossible / for the ungrateful. / We have done so much, / for so long, / with so little, / we are now qualified to do anything / with nothing. Jim Morency

We think in generalities, but we live in details. Alfred Whitehead

We think we will never know as much about a product as a client. After all, he sleeps and breathes his product. He's built it. He's lived with it most of his life. We couldn't possibly know as much about it as he does. By the same token, we firmly believe that he can't know as much about advertising. Because we live and breathe that all day long. William Bernbach

We tire of those pleasures we take, but never of those we give. John Petit-Senn

We told our guys to hold on for 30 minutes of agony for 12 months of glory. John McDonnell

We totally deny the allegations, and we are trying to identify the allegators.

We treat this world of ours as though we had a spare in the trunk.

We trifle when we assign limits to our desires, since nature hath set none. Christian Nestell Bovee

We triumph without glory when we conquer without danger. Corneille

We turn toward God only to obtain the impossible. Albert Camus (1913-1960)

We used to think that if we knew one, we knew two, because one and one are two. We are finding that we must learn a great deal more about 'and'. Arthur Eddington

We walk by faith, not by sight. New Testament

We walked on the moon - you be polite. Joni Mitchell

We want all our friends to tell us our bad qualities; it is only the particular ass that does so whom we can't tolerate. William James

We want consumers to say, 'That's a hell of a product' instead of, 'That's a hell of an ad'. Leo Burnett

We want the facts to fit the preconceptions. When they don't, it is easier to ignore the facts than to change the preconceptions. Jessamyn West

We want the spirit of America to be efficient; we want American character to be efficient; we want American character to display itself in what I may, perhaps, be allowed to call spiritual efficiency; clear disinterested thinking and fearless action along the right lines of thought. Woodrow Wilson

We want to feel that we are happy for good reasons - genetically self-serving as they may so often be. David Pierce

We weep over the graves of infants and the little ones taken from us by death; but an early grave may be the shortest way to heaven. Tryon Edwards

We were born to die and we die to live. As seedlings of God, we barely blossom on earth; we fully flower in heaven. Russell M. Nelson

We were two and had but one heart between us. François Villon

We will cross out that bridge when we come back to it later.

We will either find a way or make one. Hannibal

We will get along fine as soon as you realize I am God.

We will have solar energy when the power companies develop a sunbeam meter.

We will invest in our people, quality education, job opportunity, family, neighborhood, and yes, a thing we call America. Vice President Dan Quayle, 1988

We worry about what a child will be tomorrow, yet we forget that he is someone today. Stacia Tauscher

We would all like to vote for the best man but he is never a candidate.

We would like to live as we once lived, but history will not permit it. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

We would rather die on our feet than live on our knees. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

We wove a web in childhood, / A web of sunny air. Charlotte Bronte (1816-1855)

We'd all like t' vote fer th' best man, but he's never a candidate. Kin Hubbard

We'll burn that bridge when we come to it.

We'll let the sunshine in and shine on us, because today we're happy and tomorrow we'll be even happier. Vice President Dan Quayle, 1988

We're all capable of mistakes, but I do not care to enlighten you on the mistakes we may or may not have made. J. Danforth Quayle

We're all faced with a series of great opportunities brilliantly disguised as impossible situations. Cheri Wildman

We're all given some sort of skill in life. Mine just happens to be beating up on people. Sugar Ray Leonard

We're all human and we all goof. Do things that may be wrong, but do something. Newt Gingrich

We're all nothing but unified arrangements of atoms and particles, drifting around, enjoying consciousness every now and then for a second or so before splitting up to become bits and pieces of trees and stars and french fries. Alan Dean Foster

We're all standing in the gutter, but some of us are looking at the stars.

We're always the same age inside. Gertrude Stein

We're an embarrassment to college graduates across America. Jim Morrison

We're going to assume a few things about reality. One, it exists. That's not a necessary assumption, but I find it comforting. Professor Ralph Noble

We're going to have the best-educated American people in the world. Vice President Dan Quayle

We're having something a little different this year for Thanksgiving. Instead of a turkey, we're having a swan. You get more stuffing. George Carlin

We're here to ruin ourselves, and break our hearts and love the wrong people and die. Nicholas Cage

We're living proof that nice guys always finish last. Matthew Cooper

We're not afraid of challenges. It's like we always say: if you want to go out in the rain, be prepared to get burned.

We're overpaying him but he's worth it. Samuel Goldwyn

We're the party that wants to see an America in which people can still get rich. Ronald Reagan

We've been through so much together, and most of it was your fault.

We've been working on the basics because, basically, we've been having trouble with the basics. Bob Ojeda

We've got a generation now who were born with semiequality. They don't know how it was before, so they think, this isn't too bad. We're working. We have our attache' cases and our three piece suits. I get very disgusted with the younger generation of women. We had a torch to pass, and they are just sitting there. They don't realize it can be taken away. Things are going to have to get worse before they join in fighting the battle. Erma Bombeck

We've got the best government money can buy.

We've got to pause and ask ourselves: How much clean air do we need? Lee Iacocca

We've had bad luck with our kids they've all grown up. Christopher Morley

We've removed the ceiling above our dreams. There are no more impossible dreams. Libby Houston

Weak arguments are often thrust before my path; but although they are most unsubstantial, it is not easy to destroy them. There is not a more difficult feat known than to cut through a cushion with a sword. Richard Whately

Weakness is the only fault that is incorrigible. Francois de La Rochefoucauld (1613-1680)

Weakness of character is the only defect which cannot be amended. Francois de La Rochefoucauld (1613-1680)

Wealth and want equally harden the human heart. Theodore Parker

Wealth buys leisure, but not wisdom.

Wealth comes from excellence, and not excellence from wealth. Plato

Wealth consists not in having great possessions, but in having few wants. Epicurus (B.C. 341-270)

Wealth is not his that has it, but his who enjoys it. Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790)

Wealth is the parent of luxury and indolence, and poverty of meanness and viciousness, and both of discontent. Plato

Wealth is the product of man's ability to think. Ayn Rand (1905-1982)

Wealth goes to wealth. Giovanni Torriano

Wealth may be an ancient thing, for it means power, it means leisure, it means liberty. James Lowell (1819-1891)

Wealth protects the rich; poverty destroys the poor. Solomon

Wealth still failed to impress him; the purpose of money was to purchase one's freedom to pursue that which was useful and interesting. Benjamin Franklin

Wealth that you get by dishonesty will do you no good, but honesty can save your life. Solomon

Wealth: The ability to support debt.

Wealth won't make a man virtuous, but there ain't anybody who wants to be poor just for the purpose of being good. Josh Billings

Wear a smile and have friends; wear a scowl and have wrinkles. What do we live for if not to make the world less difficult for each other? George Eliot

Weariness comes at the end of the acts of a mechanical life, but at the same time it inaugurates the impulse of consciousness. It awakens consciousness and provokes what follows. What follows is the gradual return into the chain or it is the definitive awakening. At the end of the awakening comes, in time, the consequence: suicide or recovery. Albert Camus

Wed in youth, bewailed in old age.

Wedding is destiny, and hanging likewise. John Heywood

Weddings do breed weddings.

Weeds want no sowing.

Weekend, where are you?

Weep for me if I'm alone, not if I'm poor. Spanish Saying

Weep not that the world changes - did it keep a stable, changeless state, it were a cause indeed to weep. William Cullen Bryant

Weigh the meaning and look not at the words. Ben Jonson

Welcome death, quoth the rat, when the trap fell. Thomas Fuller

Welcome every problem as an opportunity. Each moment is the greatest challenge, the best thing that ever happened to you. The more difficult the problem, the greater the challenge in working it out. Grace Speare

Welcome everything that comes to you, but do not long for anything else. Andre Gide

Welcome to President Bush, Mrs. Bush, and my fellow astronauts. J. Danforth Quayle

Welcome to the Future! It's just starting now ...

Welcome to the totally-automated, fully computerized world of the twenty-first century, where nothing can go wrong... go wrong... go wrong...

Well a hard headed woman, / a soft hearted man / been the cause of trouble / ever since the world began. Claude Demetruis

Well adjusted: Makes the same mistake twice without getting nervous.

Well, Art is Art, isn't it? Still, on the other hand, water is water! And East is East and West is West and if you take cranberries and stew them like applesauce they taste much more like prunes than rhubarb does. Now, uh... Now you tell me what you know. Julius Henry (Groucho) Marx (1895-1977)

Well, as the saying goes, in spite of a California pizza or two, apples don't fall far from the tree. Michelle Huneven

Well begun is half done. Horace

Well done is better than well said. Benjamin Franklin

Well, General, we have not had many dead cavalymen lying about lately. Joseph Hooker (1813-1879)

Well I am certainly wiser than this man. It is only too likely that neither of us has any knowledge to boast of; but he thinks that he knows something which he does not know, whereas I am quite conscious of my ignorance. At any rate it seems that I am wiser than he is to this small extent, that I do not think that I know what I do not know. Socrates (470?-399 B.C.)

Well, I heard the news / there's good rockin' tonight. Roy Brown

Well, I wouldn't say I was in the "great" class, but I had a great time while I was trying to be great. Harry S. Truman (1884-1972)

Well I've often seen a cat without a grin, but a grin without a cat.

Well, if I called the wrong number, why did you answer the phone? James Thurber

Well if this is the wrong number, why did you answer it? James Thurber

Well knows the cats whose ear she licks. French Proverb

Well, no athlete respects a big, fat coach who's going to stand there and rest the watch on his stomach. Arthur Lydiard

Well said: that was laid on with a trowel. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Well-adjusted: Able to play bridge or golf as if they were games.

Well-known messengers get credit for clever comments they report from less celebrated mouths.
(Keyes Rules of Misquotation, Axiom 2, Corollary 2A)

Well-married, a man is winged: ill-matched, he is shackled. Henry Ward Beecher

Were beauty under twenty locks kept fast, / Yet love breaks through and picks them all at last.
Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Were it offered to my choice, I should have no objection to a repetition of the same life from its beginning, only asking the advantages authors have in a second edition to correct some faults in the first. Benjamin Franklin

Were I a nightingale, I would act the part of a nightingale; were I a swan, the part of a swan.
Epictetus (Circa 60 A. D.)

Wharbat darbid yarbou sarbay?

What a blind person needs is not a teacher but another self. Helen Keller

What a chimera, then, is man! what a novelty, what a monster, what a chaos, what a subject of contradiction, what a prodigy! A judge of all things, feeble worm of the earth, depository of the truth, cloaca of uncertainty and error, the glory and the shame of the universe! Blaise Pascal (1623-1662)

What a curious phenomenon it is that you can get men to die for the liberty of the world who will not make the little sacrifice that is needed to free themselves from their own individual bondage.
Bruce Barton

What a delightful thing is the conversation of specialists! One understands absolutely nothing and it's charming. Joshua Reynolds (1723-1792)

What a difference there is between what we say and what we think. Racine

What a distressing contrast there is between the radiant intelligence of the child and the feeble mentality of the average adult. Sigmund Freud

What a dog I got. His favorite bone is in my arm!

What a friend we have in cheeses.

What a good thing Adam had - when he said a good thing, he knew nobody had said it before. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

What a joy it is to find just the right word for the right occasion! Solomon

What a long time I have been running after unrealities! Jitoku Eki

What a lot we lost when we stopped writing letters. You can't reread a phone call. Liz Carpenter

What a man has, so much he is sure of. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

What a man misses mostly in heaven is company. Mark Twain

What a man suffers is the punishment of his tongue. Turkish Proverb

What a man thinks of himself that is what determines, or rather indicates his fate. Henry David Thoreau

What a new face courage puts on everything! Ralph Waldo Emerson

What a piece of work is man! William Shakespeare

What a pity is it / That we can die but once to save our country! Joseph Addison (1672-1719)

What a pity the only way to heaven is in a hearse. Stanislaw J. Lec

What a strange thing is man! And what a stranger is woman! Lord Byron (1788-1824)

What a terrible criminal he would have made had he turned his energy and sagacity against the law instead of exerting them in its defence. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

What a terrible thing to have lost one's mind. Or not to have a mind at all. How true that is. Vice President Dan Quayle

What a waste it is to lose one's mind, or not to have a mind at all. How true that is. J. Danforth Quayle

What a wonderful world it is that has girls in it! Robert A Heinlein

What a writer thinks of as constructive criticism is six thousand words of closely reasoned adulation. David Frost

What, after all, is a halo? It's only one more thing to keep clean. Fry

What all schoolchildren learn: those to whom evil is done do evil in return. W. H. Auden

What an annoying mad thing love is! Emmanuel Schikaneder

What an enormous magnifier is tradition! How a thing grows in the human memory and in the human imagination, when love, worship, and all that lies in the human heart, is there to encourage it. Thomas Carlyle

What anger worse or slower to abate than lovers' love when it turns to hate. Euripides

What are facts but compromises? A fact merely marks the point where we have agreed to let investigation cease. Bliss Carman

What are husbands for, but to keep our mistresses? George Moore

What are the wild waves saying, / Sister, the whole day long, / That ever amid our playing / I hear but their low, lone song? Joseph E. Carpenter

What belongs to everybody belongs to nobody. Spanish Proverb

What bothers me about TV is that it tends to take our minds off our minds. Robert Orban

What can be added to the happiness of a man who is in health, out of debt, and has a clear conscience? Adam Smith

What can you expect from a day that begins with having to get up in the morning?

What can you say about a society that says that god is dead and Elvis is alive? Irv Kupcinet

What can't be cured must be endured. Robert Burton (1576-1640)

What can't be said, can't be said. And it can't be whistled, either. Tirtha

What contemptible scoundrel has stolen the cork from my lunch? W. C. Fields

What Copernicus really achieved was not the discovery of a true theory but of a fertile new point of view. Ludwig Wittgenstein

What counts is not necessarily the size of the dog in the fight, what counts is the size of the fight in the dog. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

What did the Caspian sea? Saki

What did you bring the book I want to be read to out of about Down Under up for?

What do batteries run on? Are there B batteries?

What do little birdies see when they get knocked unconscious?

What do the lie detector and Wonder Woman have in common? They were invented by the same person. Kinda figures, doesn't it.

What do we live for if not to make life less difficult for each other? George Eliot

What do you call 500 bureaucrats at the bottom of the Potomac river? A start.

What do you do when you see an endangered animal eating an endangered plant?

What do you get when you cross an elephant with a crow? Downed power lines.

What do you plant to grow a seedless watermelon?

What does, after all, objectivity mean when a nation is fighting for its very existence? Kerl

What does education often do? It makes a straight-cut ditch of a free, meandering brook. Henry David Thoreau

What ever crushes individuality is despotism, no matter what name it is called. John Stuart Mill

What ever disunites man from God, also disunites man from man. Edmund Burke

What experience and history teach is this - that nations and governments have never learned anything from history, or acted upon any lessons they might have drawn from it. Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel (1770-1831)

What fairy-like music steals over the sea, Entrancing our senses with charmed melody? C. B. Wilson (-1846)

What find you better or more honourable than age? Take the preeminence of it in everything, - in an old friend, in old wine, in an old pedigree. Shakerley Marmion (1602-1639)

What frenzy dictates, jealousy believes. John Gay

What garlic is to food, insanity is to art.

What garlic is to salad, insanity is to art. Augustus Saint-Gaudens

What God will, that must be. John Clarke

What good is dreamin' / If I must dream all alone by myself / Without you darling / My arms would gather dust. Aaron Schroeder & Ben Weisman

What good is progress if it is unevenly distributed?

What government is the best? That which teaches us to govern ourselves. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe (1749-1832)

What greater thing is there for two human souls than to feel that they are joined... to strengthen each other... to be at one with each other in silent unspeakable memories. George Elliot

What happens is not as important as how you react to what happens. Thaddeus Golas

What happens to the hole when the cheese is gone? Bertolt Brecht (1898-1956)

What happens to your fist when you open your hand? Zen Buddhism

What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object? An inconceivable disturbance.

What happens when you cut back the jungle? It recedes.

What has four legs and an arm? A happy pit bull.

What has history to do with me? Mine is the first and only world! I want to report how I find the world. What others have told me about the world is a very small and incidental part of my experience. I have to judge the world, to measure things. Ludwig Wittgenstein (1889-1951)

What has love got to do with getting married?

What has not been examined impartially has not been well examined. Skepticism is therefore the first step toward truth. Denis Diderot

What has puzzled us before seems less mysterious, and the crooked paths look straighter as we approach the end. Jean Paul Richter

What has reality ever done for anyone?

What helps people, helps business. Leo Burnett

What I am is good enough if I would only be it openly. Carl Rogers

What I aspired to be, and was not, comforts me. R. Browning

What I don't understand is how women can pour hot wax on their bodies, let it dry, then rip out every single hair by its root and still be scared of spiders. Jerry Seinfeld

What I dream is an art of balance, of purity and serenity, devoid of troubling and depressing subject matter...a soothing, calming influence on the mind, something like a good armchair which provides relaxation from physical fatigue. Henry Matisse

What I gave, I have; what I spent, I had; what I kept, I lost. Old Epitaph

What I have to say is far more important than how long my eyelashes are. Alanis Morissette

What I look forward to is continued immaturity followed by death. Dave Barry

What I must do is all that concerns me. This rule, equally arduous in actual and intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and meanness. It is harder because you will always find those who think they know what is your duty better than you know it. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

What I ought to do, I can; if I can, why don't I?

What I said never changed anyone. What they understood did.

What I say or do here won't matter much, nor should it. Dan Rather

What I tell you three times is true.

What, I wonder, do these busy folks get done? Are they not to be classed with the woman who in her confusion about the house being on fire carried out the firetongs? What things of greater account, do you suppose, will they rescue from life's great conflagration? Sören Kierkegaard (1813-1855)

What if a demon were to creep after you one night, in your loneliest loneliness, and say, "This life which you live must be lived by you once again and innumerable times more; and every pain and joy and thought and sigh must come again to you, all in the same sequence. The eternal hourglass will again and again be turned and you with it, dust of the dust"! Would you throw yourself down and gnash your teeth and curse that demon? Or would you answer, "Never have I heard anything more divine"? Friedrich Nietzsche

What if everything is an illusion and nothing exists? In that case, I definitely overpaid for my carpet. Woody Allen

What if nothing exists and we're all in somebody's dream? Or what's worse, what if only that fat guy in the third row exists? Woody Allen

What If The Hokey Pokey Is Really What It's All About?

What if there were no hypothetical situations?

What, in fact, is the Absurd Man? He who, without negating it, does nothing for the eternal. Not that nostalgia is foreign to him. But he prefers his courage and his reasoning. The first teaches him to live without appeal and to get along with what he has; the second informs him of his limits. Albert Camus (1913-1960)

What is a committee? A group of the unwilling, picked from the unfit, to do the unnecessary. Richard Harkness

What is a "free gift" - aren't all gifts free?

What is a home without children? Quiet. Henny Youngman

What is a magician but a practising theorist? Obi-Wan Kenobi

What is a man born for but to be a reformer, a remaker of what has been made, a denouncer of lies, a restorer of truth and good? Ralph Waldo Emerson

What is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? New Testament

What is a rebel? A man who says no. Albert Camus (1913-1960)

What is a socialist? One who has yearnings / To share equal profits from unequal earnings. Dean (William R.) Inge (1860-1954)

What is an atheist's favorite movie? "Coincidence on 34th Street"

What is another word for "thesaurus"?

What is aristocracy? A corporation of the best, of the bravest. Thomas Carlyle

What is art? Nature concentrated. Honore de Balzac (1799-1850)

What is bad? All that proceeds from weakness. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

What is beautiful is good and who is good will soon also be beautiful. Sappho

What is called a sincere work is one that is endowed with enough strength to give reality to an illusion. Max Jacob

What is called genius is the abundance of life and health. Henry David Thoreau

What is called resignation is confirmed desperation. Henry David Thoreau

What is chaos but matter disturbed by immaterial forces. Herbert Read

What is crime amongst the multitude, is only vice among the few. Benjamin Disraeli

What is defeat? Nothing but education, nothing but the first step to something better. Wendell Phillips

What is done with joy is always better done. H. L. (Henry Lewis) Mencken

What is food to one, is to others bitter poison. Lucretius

What is food to one may be fierce poison to others. Lucretius

What is gained in the shortness, may be lost in the goodness of the way. John Ray

What is good? All that elevates the feeling of power, the will to power, the power itself in man. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

What is good for the country is good for General Motors and vice versa. Charles E. Wilson

What is happiness? The feeling that power increases - that resistance is being overcome. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

What is heavier: A ton of feathers or a ton of bricks?

What is history but a fable agreed upon? Napoleon Bonaparte

What is important in life is life, and not the result of life. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

What is, is. Werner Erhard

What is it: is man only a blunder of God, or God only a blunder of man? Friedrich Nietzsche

What is it that the common people take for 'knowledge'? Nothing more than this: Something strange is to be reduced to something familiar. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

What is laid down, ordered, factual is never enough to embrace the whole truth: life always spills over the rim of every cup. Boris Pasternak

What is life? It is the flash of a firefly in the night. It is the breath of a buffalo in the wintertime. It is the little shadow which runs across the grass and loses itself in the sunset. Crowfoot (1890)

What is Life? It's the cereal Mikey likes.

What is life without a character? Trusler

What is luck? It is not only chance, it is also creating the opportunity, recognizing it when it is there, and taking it when it comes. Natasha Josefowitz

What is man in nature? Nothing in relation to the infinite, all in relation to nothing, a mean between nothing and everything. Blaise Pascal

What is mind? No matter. What is matter? Never mind. Thomas H. Key

What is moral is what you feel good after and what is immoral is what you feel bad after. Ernest Hemingway

What is morality" she asked. "Judgement to distinguish right and wrong, vision to see the truth, courage to act upon it, dedication to that which is good, integrity to stand by the good at any price. Ayn Rand

What is more difficult, to think of an encampment on the moon or of Harlem rebuilt? Both are now within the reach of our resources. Both now depend upon human decision and human will. Adlai E. Stevenson

What is natural in him is realized by itself; it presents no problem. That is precisely why man does not consider it his true being. His extranatural part, on the other hand, is not there from the outset and of itself; it is but an aspiration, a project of life. And this we feel to be our true being; we call it our personality, our self. Jose Ortega y Gasset (1883-1955)

What is new is not true and what is true is not new.

What is not good for the swarm is not good for the bee. Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180)

What is not good for the swarm is not good for the bees. French Proverb

What is now proved was once only imagined. William Blake

What is read twice is commonly better remembered than what is transcribed. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

What is required is sight and insight ; then you might add one more: excite. Robert Frost

What is research but a blind date with knowledge? Will Harvey

What is right is often forgotten by what is convenient. B. Thoene

What is sad for women of my generation is that they weren't supposed to work if they had families. What were they going to do when the children are grown - watch the raindrops coming down the window pane? Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis

What is the difference between a taxidermist and a tax collector? The taxidermist takes only your skin. Mark Twain

What is the difference between method and device? A method is a device which you used twice. George Pólya

What is the difference between unethical and ethical advertising? Unethical advertising uses falsehoods to deceive the public; ethical advertising uses truth to deceive the public. Vilhjalmur Stefansson

What is the function that a clergyman performs in the world? Answer: he gets his living by assuring idiots that he can save them from an imaginary hell. It's a business almost indistinguishable from that of a seller of snake-oil for rheumatism. H. L. Mencken

What is the hardest thing in the world? To think. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

What is the real function, the essential function, the supreme function, of language? Isn't it merely to convey ideas and emotions? Certainly. Then if we can do it with words of fonetic brevity and compactness, why keep the present cumbersome forms? Mark Twain

What is the sound of one hand clapping? Confucius (551-479 BC)

What is the speed of dark?

What is the use of straining after an amiable view of things, when a cynical view is most likely to be the true one? George Bernard Shaw

What is the vector which is orthogonal to itself?

What is there in thee, Moon! that thou should'st move my heart so potently? John Keats (1795-1821)

What is this true meditation? It is to make everything: coughing, swallowing, waving the arms, motion, stillness, words, action, the evil and the good, prosperity and shame, gain and loss, right and wrong, into one single koan. Hakuin

What is tolerance? - it is the consequence of humanity. We are all formed of frailty and error; let us pardon reciprocally each other's folly - that is the first law of nature. Voltaire

What is vice today may be virtue tomorrow.

What is virtue today may be vice tomorrow.

What is worth doing is worth doing for money.

What is worth doing is worth overdoing.

What is worth doing is worth the trouble of asking someone to do.

What kills a skunk is the publicity it gives itself. Abraham Lincoln

What lies behind us and lies before us are small matters compared to what lies within us. Ralph Waldo Emerson

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us. Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr.

What lies beyond life shines not to those who are childish, or careless, or deluded by wealth. "This is the only world: there is no other," they say; and thus they go from death to death. Upanishads (c. B.C. 800)

What lies in the heart of a man can only be known if it passes the throat. Yoruban Proverb

What light is to the eyes, what air is to the lungs, what love is to the heart, liberty is to the soul of man. Robert Green Ingersoll

What loneliness is more lonely than distrust? George Eliot

What looks like a loss may be the very event which is subsequently responsible for helping to produce the major achievement of your life. Srully Blotnick

What luck for (the) rulers, that men do not think. Adolph Hitler

What madness it is for a man to starve himself to enrich his heir, and so turn a friend into an enemy! For his joy at your death will be proportioned to what you leave him. Seneca

What maintains one vice would bring up two children. Benjamin Franklin

What makes the universe so hard to comprehend is that there's nothing to compare it with.

What man knows is everywhere at war with what he wants. Joseph Wood Krutch

What may be done at any time will be done at no time. Scottish Proverb

What! Me worry? Alfred E. Newman

What makes men of genius, or rather, what they make, is not new ideas, it is that idea - possessing them - that what has been said has still not been said enough. Eugene Delacroix (1798-1863)

What makes the difference between a Nation that is truly great and one that is merely rich and powerful? It is the simple things that make the difference. Honesty, knowing right from wrong, openness, self-respect, and the courage of conviction. David L. Boren

What men call gallantry and gods adultery, / Is much more common where the climate's sultry.
Lord Byron (Don Juan)

What men have called friendship is only a social arrangement, a mutual adjustment of interests, an interchange of services given and received; it is, in sum, simply a business from which those involved propose to derive a steady profit for their own self-love. François, Duc de La Rochefoucauld (1613-80)

What men prize most is a privilege, even if it be that of chief mourner at a funeral. James Russell Lowell

What men usually ask for when they pray to God is, that two and two may not make four. Russian Proverb

What more can I do / Doin' the best / The best I can / But it's not good enough for you. Doc Pomus & Mort Shuman

What must be, must be. John Wesley

What on earth would a man do with himself if something did not stand in his way?

What one can conceive and believe one can achieve.

What one does is what counts and not what one had the intention of doing. Pablo Picasso

What one has learned must be passed on or life is nothing. At least one must try to pass it on.

What one is accustomed to in youth, one does in old age.

What one knows it is sometimes useful to forget. Latin Proverb

What orators lack in depth they make up (for) in length. Baron de Montesquieu

What oxygen is to the lungs, such is hope to the meaning of life. Emil Brunner

What part of no don't you understand.

What passes as a womans intuition, is usually nothing more than a mans transparency.

What passes for optimism is most often the effect of an intellectual error. Raymond Aron

What passions cannot music raise or quell? John Dryden

What people say behind your back is your standing in the community. Ed Howe

What pity is it that we can die but once to serve our country! Joseph Addison (1672-1719)

What power can poverty have over a home where loving hearts are beating with a consciousness of untold riches of the head and heart? Orison Swett Marden

What really decides consumers to buy or not to buy is the content of your advertising, not its form.
David Ogilvy

What really matters is what happens in us - not to us.

What really matters is what you do with what you have. Shirley Lord

What remarkable, extraordinary and amazing things will you do with this wild and wonderful miracle, your one and only life? Dr. Philip Humbert

What sane person could live in this world and not be crazy? Ursula K. LeGuin

What scoundrel stole the cork from my lunch? J. D. Farley

What seems to be generosity is often no more than disguised ambition, which overlooks a small interest in order to secure a great one. François de la Rochefoucauld

What sets worlds in motion is the interplay of differences, their attractions and repulsions; life is plurality, death is uniformity. Octavio Paz

What should we do with all the people who are dying? "Bury them, I guess."

What should you do when you see an endangered animal eating an endangered plant?

What soap is for the body, tears are for the soul.

What some people mistake for the high cost of living, is really the cost of living high.

What soon grows old? Gratitude. Aristotle

What spectacle can be more edifying or more seasonable than that of Liberty and Learning, each leaning on the other for their natural and surest support. James Madison

What speeds up, must slow down. But who says it's ever gonna speed up? (Goebel's Law of Rush Hour Traffic)

What success I achieved in the theater is due to the fact that I have always worked just as hard when there were ten people in the house as when there were thousands. Just as hard in Springfield, Illinois as on Broadway. Bill "Bojangles" Robinson

What the American public wants in the theater is a tragedy with a happy ending. William D. Howells

What the caterpillar calls the end, the butterfly calls the beginning.

What the country needs is dirtier fingernails and cleaner minds. Will Rogers

What the eye sees not, the heart rues not.

What the fool does in the end, the wise man does at the beginning.

What the fool does in the end, the wise man does in the beginning.

What the gentleman seeks, he seeks within himself; what the small man seeks, he seeks in others. Confucius (551-479 BC)

What the heart thinks, the tongue speaks. Romanian Proverb

What the hell, go ahead and put all your eggs in one basket.

What the imagination seizes as beauty must be the truth. John Keats

What the large print giveth, the small print taketh away.

What the people believe is true. Native American Proverb (Anishinabe)

What the rake gathers, the fork scatters. Russian Proverb

What the statesman is most anxious to produce is a certain moral character in his fellow citizens, namely a disposition to virtue and the performance of virtuous actions. Aristoteles (384-322 B.C)

What the superior man seeks is in himself; what the small man seeks is in others. Francois La Rochefoucauld

What the world calls originality is only an unaccustomed method of tickling it. George Bernard Shaw

What the world really needs is more love and less paperwork. Pearl Bailey (1918-1990)

What, then is our duty? It is to carefully distinguish the historic moment in which we live and to consciously assign our small energies to a specific battlefield. The more we are in phase with the current which leads the way, the more we aid man in his difficult, uncertain, danger-fraught ascent toward salvation. Nikos Kazantzakis

What then remains but that we still should cry / For being born, and, being born, to die? Francis Bacon (1561-1626)

What they are, therefore, coincides with their production, both with what they produce and with how they produce. The nature of individuals thus depends on the material conditions determining their production. Karl Marx (1818-1883)

What thin partitions sense from thought divide! Alexander Pope

What this country needs is a dime that will buy a good five cent bagel.

What this country needs is a good five-cent nickel. Franklin P. Adams

What this country needs is more free speech worth listening to. Hansel B. Duckett

What this country needs is more leaders who know what this country needs.

What torture love is!

What two ideas is more inseparable than Beer and Britannia? Sydney Smith (1771-1845)

What use is magic if it can't save a unicorn? Peter Beagle

What used to be called liberal is now called radical, what used to be called radical is now called insane, what used to be called reactionary is now called moderate, and what used to be called insane is now called solid conservative thinking. Tony Kushner

What was any art but a mould in which to imprison for a moment the shining elusive element which is life itself hurrying past us and running away, too strong to stop, too sweet to lose. Willa Cather

What was hard to endure is sweet to recall. French Proverb

What was sliced bread the greatest thing since?

What was the best thing before sliced bread? What we have to learn to do, we learn by doing. Aristotle (B.C. 384-322)

What we anticipate seldom occurs; what we least expected generally happens. Benjamin Disraeli (1804-1881)

What we become depends on what we read after all the professors have finished with us. The greatest university of all is the collection of books. Thomas Carlyle

What we call despair is often only the painful eagerness of unfed hope. George Eliot

What we call love is so multifaceted, so changing and colorful - much like the view through a kaleidoscope. Max Lüscher

What we call reality is an agreement that people have arrived at to make life more livable. Louise Nevelson

What we do for ourselves dies with us; what we do for others and the world remains and is immortal. Albert Pine

What we first learn, we best can. James Kelly

What we frankly give, forever is our own. George Granville

What we have done for ourselves alone dies with us; what we have done for others and the world remains and is immortal. Albert Pike

What we hope ever to do with ease, we must learn first to do with diligence. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

What we know is not much. What we do not know is immense. (Allegedly his last words.) Pierre-Simon Laplace

What we know of the past is mostly not worth knowing. What is worth knowing is mostly uncertain. Events in the past may roughly be divided into those which probably never happened and those which do not matter. W. R. Inge

What we learn from history is that we do not learn from history.

What we must try to be, of course, is ourselves... and wholeheartedly. We must find out what we really are and what we really want. Nelson Boswell

What we need most, is not so much to realize the ideal as to idealize the real. H. F. Hedge

What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; it is dearness only that gives everything its value. Thomas Paine

What we obtain too cheap we esteem too little; it is dearness only that gives everything its value. Thomas Paine

What we see depends mainly on what we look for. John Lubbock

What we see is mainly what we look for.

What we shall desire for individuals is now clear: strong creative impulses, overpowering and absorbing the instinct of possession; reverence for others; respect for the fundamental creative impulse in ourselves. Bertrand Russell (1872-1970)

What we vividly imagine, ardently desire, enthusiastically act upon, must inevitably come to pass. Colin P. Sisson

What we want is to see the child in pursuit of knowledge, and not knowledge in pursuit of the child. George Bernard Shaw

What will a nice girl do? She won't give an inch, but she won't say no.

What will be, will be.

What wine is so sparkling, so fragrant, so intoxicating, as possibility! Sören Kierkegaard

What wisdom can you find that is greater than kindness? Jean-Jacques Rousseau

What worries me most, is that I am not worried at all. Nils-Johan Rodal

What would God say if He were still on speaking terms with man?

What would have become of our world if the cunning hand of chance had not worked its way into our educational system? Georg Lichtenberg

What would life be if we had no courage to attempt anything? Vincent Van Gogh (1853-1890)

What would you attempt if you knew you could not fail? Dr. Robert Schuller

What would you do even if you got no pay for it? Therein lies the secret of your deepest and highest calling. Work toward doing that work full-time. Dalton Roberts

What you are afraid to do is a clear indicator of the next thing you need to do. Dr. Robert Anthony

What you are is God's gift to you, what you become is your gift to God.

What you are, not what you have, is what makes you rich.

What you are thunders so that I cannot hear what you say to the contrary. Ralph Waldo Emerson

What you can't disguise, euphemize! (Crouton's First Law of Stock Rotation)

What you cannot enforce, do not command. Socrates

What you deny to others will be denied to you, for the plain reason that you are always legislating for yourself; all your words and actions define the world you want to live in. Thaddeus Golas

What you do is more important than how much you make, and how you feel about it is more important than what you do. Jerry Gillies

What you do not want done to you, do not do to others.

What you do speaks so loud that I cannot hear what you say. Ralph Waldo Emerson

What you do when you don't have to, determines what you will be when you can no longer help it. Rudyard Kipling

What you do when you don't have to do it will determine what you are when it's too late to do anything about it!

What you don't do is always more important than what you do.

What you don't know will always hurt you. (First Law of Blissful Ignorance)

What you don't see with your eyes, don't invent with your mouth. Jewish Proverb

What you enjoy is much more important than what you have.

What you get by achieving your goals is not as important as what you become by achieving your goals. Zig Ziglar

What you give you get, ten times over. Yoruba Proverb

What you have become is the price you paid to get what you used to want. Mignon McLaughlin

What you have in your mind, your talents, your native abilities, no one can take from you. When you die you take them with you. Use them diligently while you are here. Alfred A. Montapert

What you keep to yourself you lose, what you give away, you keep forever. Axel Munthe

What you leave alone today will come back to haunt you tomorrow. Confucius

What you say in advertising is more important than how you say it. David Ogilvy

What you see can depend on what you look for.

What you spend years building, someone may try to destroy overnight; Build anyway.

What you teach your own children is what you really believe in. Cathy Warner Weatherford

What your heart thinks great is great. The soul's response is always right.

What's all this brouhaha?

What's another word for synonym?

What's another word for Thesaurus? Steven Wright

What's done to children, they will do to society.

What's done's done.

What's in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. William Shakespeare

What's madness but nobility of soul / At odds with circumstance? Theodore Roethke

What's money? A man is a success if he gets up in the morning and gets to bed at night, and in between he does what he wants to. Bob Dylan

What's one man's poison, signor, is another's meat or drink. Francis Beaumont & John Fletcher

What's reality anyway? Nothing but a collective hunch. Lily Tomlin

What's really important in life? Sitting on a beach? Looking a television eight hours a day? I think we have to appreciate that we're alive for only a limited period of time, and we'll spend most of our lives working. That being the case, I believe one of the most important priorities is to do whatever we do as well as we can. We should take pride in that. Victor Kiam

What's so funny?

What's the definition of a good flame? One you agree with. Karl Lehenbauer

What's the difference between an egg?

What's the matter with the world? Why, there ain't but one thing wrong with every one of us - and that's "selfishness." Will Rogers

What's the point of going out? We're just going to wind up back here, anyway. Homer Simpson

What's the shortest route around an island?

What's the sound a name makes when it's dropped?

Whatever a man seeks, honors, or exalts more than God, this is the god of his idolatry. William B. Ullathorne

Whatever America hopes to bring to pass in the world must first come to pass in the heart of America. Dwight D. Eisenhower (1890-1969)

Whatever became of eternal truth?

Whatever can go to New York, will. (Murray's Rule of Baseball)

Whatever exists in Nature necessarily exists as it does exist, and it is absolutely impossible that it should be otherwise. Johann Gottlieb Fichte (1762-1814)

Whatever goes up, stays up. (Law of Insurance and Taxes)

Whatever happened to the first of the Mohicans?

Whatever happens at all happens as it should; thou wilt find this true, if thou shouldst watch closely. Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180)

Whatever happens to you, it will have previously happened to everyone you know, only more so.

Whatever happens to you, it will previously have happened to everyone you know, only more so. (Meader's Law)

Whatever has been well said by anyone is my property. Seneca

Whatever hits the fan will not be evenly distributed. (Law of Probable Dispersal)

Whatever is done without ostentation, and without the people being witnesses of it, is, in my opinion, most praiseworthy: not that the public eye should be entirely avoided, for good actions desire to be placed in the light; but notwithstanding this, the greatest theater for virtue is conscience. Cicero

Whatever is funny is subversive. George Orwell

Whatever is in any way beautiful hath its source of beauty in itself, and is complete in itself; praise forms no part of it. So it is none the worse nor the better for being praised. Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180)

Whatever is, is in its causes just. John Dryden (1631-1701)

Whatever is, is right. Alexander Pope

Whatever is not nailed down is the government's. Whatever the government can pry loose is not nailed down.

Whatever is objectively a motive, in this sense, must be something that is extant in the view or apprehension of the understanding, or perceiving faculty. Nothing can induce or invite the mind to will or act any thing, any further than it is perceived, or is some way or other in the mind's view; for what is wholly unperceived and perfectly out of the mind's view, cannot affect the mind at all. Jonathan Edwards (1703-1758)

Whatever is popular deserves attention. James Mackintosh
Whatever is to be a hook, bends early. German Proverb
Whatever is to be a nettle, burns early. German Proverb
Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well. Phillip Stanhope
Whatever it is, I didn't do it!
Whatever it is, I fear Greeks even when they bring gifts.
Whatever it is that hits the fan will not be evenly distributed. (Law of Probable Dispersal)
Whatever makes men good Christians, makes them good citizens. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)
Whatever man has done, man may do. C. Reade
Whatever misfortune may be your lot, it could only be worse in Cleveland.
Whatever one man is capable of conceiving, other men will be able to achieve. Jules Verne
Whatever our point of view or frame of reference, the world is richer and more amazing than we realize. All frames of reference are limited. All points of view can be supplemented by further experience under new and various conditions. Donald Granger
Whatever sceptic could inquire for, / For every why he had a wherefore. Samuel Butler (1600-1680)
Whatever the game is, play it as a professional. Peter B. Medawar
Whatever the human law may be, neither an individual nor a nation can commit the least act of injustice against the obscurest individual without having to pay the penalty for it. Henry David Thoreau
Whatever the stomach is full of, with that the mouth runs over. Swabian proverb
Whatever universe a professor believes in must at any rate be a universe that lends itself to lengthy discourse. A universe definable in two sentences is something for which the professorial intellect has no use. No faith in anything of that cheap kind! William James (1842-1910)
Whatever we accomplish in life, if it's solely for our own good, then it doesn't mean that much. The things you do that affect others in a positive way are the ones that count. Whatever facet of life you're in, God has given you a gift; do the best you can with that gift. Alberto Salazar
Whatever women do they must do twice as well as men to be thought half as good. Luckily this is not difficult. Charlotte Whitton
Whatever you are, be a good one. Abraham Lincoln
Whatever you are by nature, keep to it; never desert your line of talent. Be what nature intended you for, and you will succeed. Sydney Smith
Whatever you can do, or believe you can, begin it. Boldness has genius, power and magic in it. Goethe
Whatever you cannot understand, you cannot possess. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe
Whatever you do, or dream, begin it now. Boldness has genius, power and magic in it. Begin it now. Goethe
Whatever you set out to do, something else must be done first. (Murphy's Ninth Law)
Whatever you want to do, you have to do something else first.
Whatever your advice, make it brief. Horace
Whatever your heart clings to and confides in, that is really your God. Martin Luther (1483-1536)
Whatever you're ready for is ready for you. Mark Victor Hansen
Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. St. Paul
Whatsoever that be within us that feels, thinks, desires, and animates, is something celestial, divine, and, consequently, imperishable. Aristotle (B.C. 384-322)
Whatsoever was the father of a disease, an ill diet was the mother. George Herbert
When a Banker jumps out of a window, jump after him - that's where the money is. Robespierre
When a blind man carries a lame man, both go forward. Swedish proverb
When a body is immersed in water, the phone rings. (Alexander Bell's theorem)
When a broken machine is demonstrated for the repairman, it will work perfectly.

When a candidate for public office faces the voters he does not face men of sense; he faces a mob of men whose distinguishing mark is the fact that they are quite incapable of weighing ideas, or even comprehending any save the most elemental men whose chief thinking is done in terms of emotion, and whose dominant emotion is the dread of what they cannot understand. H. L. (Henry Lewis) Mencken

When a client comes to us with a product, he is, in effect, giving us a problem to be solved... Some of the biggest advertising mistakes are people who imagine they know what the problem is, or they're not even thinking about; they're just coming up with that brilliant idea and trying to force the problem to fit it. Mary Wells Lawrence

When a company or salesman takes the time and initiative to objectively educate you on all the products in the field you're considering making a purchase, it gains your trust and favor. Jay Abraham

When a cow tries to scratch its ear, It means a shower be very near, When it begins to thump its rib with its tail, Look out for thunder, lightning and hail. English Proverb

When a day that you happen to know is Wednesday starts off sounding like Sunday, there is something seriously wrong somewhere. John Wyndham

When a distinguished but elderly scientist states that something is possible, he is almost certainly right. When he states that something is impossible, he is very probably wrong. (Clarke's First Law)

When a doctor looks me square in the face and can't see no money in me, then I am happy. Josh Billings

When a dog bites a man that is not news, but when a man bites a dog that is news. John B. Bogart & Charles Anderson Dana (1819-1897)

When a fellow says, "It ain't the money but the principle of the thing," it's the money. Kin (Kim?) Hubbard

When a fellow tells me he's bipartisan, I know he's going to vote against me. Harry S. Truman

When a finger points at the moon, the imbecile looks at the finger. Chinese Proverb

When a fool is annoyed, he quickly lets it be known. Sensible people will ignore an insult. Solomon

When a friend asks, there is no tomorrow. Cotgrave

When a friend is in trouble, don't annoy him by asking if there is anything you can do. Think up something appropriate and do it. Edgar Watson Howe

When a girl ceases to blush, she has lost the most powerful charm of her beauty. Gregory I

When a girl marries she exchanges the attention of many men for the inattention of one. Helen Rowland

When a girl says, "you're going too far", she means you are getting too close?

When a hammer is the only tool, every problem looks like a nail.

When a journey begins badly it rarely ends well. Jules Verne

When a lot of remedies are suggested for a disease, that means it cannot be cured. Anton Chekhov

When a man asks himself what is meant by action he proves that he isn't a man of action. Action is a lack of balance. In order to act you must be somewhat insane. A reasonably sensible man is satisfied with thinking. Georges Clemenceau

When a man becomes familiar with his goddess, she quickly sinks into a woman. Joseph Addison

When a man becomes too famous for his riches, He is destroyed by his wealth. It is common that rich men are assaulted, But beggars pass through without harm. Saskya Pandita (1182-1251)

When a man begins to drink he is like a lamb, then he becomes successively like the lion, the ape, and the sow.

When a man blames others for his failures, it's a good idea to credit others with his successes. Howard W. Newton

When a man boasts about what he'll do tomorrow we like to find out what he did yesterday.

When a man changes his mind as much as a woman; chances are he's married to her.

When a man dies, he does not die just of the disease he has; he dies of his whole life.

When a man has a birthday he sometimes takes a day off. When a woman has a birthday she sometimes takes a year off.

When a man has cast his longing eye on offices, a rottenness begins in his conduct. Thomas Jefferson

When a man has luck, even his ox calves. Yiddish Proverb

When a man has no reason to trust himself, he trusts in luck. Ed Howe

When a man has not a good reason for doing a thing, he has one good reason for letting it alone. Thomas Scott

When a man is asleep his soul takes the consciousness of the several senses and goes to rest with them on the Supreme Spirit who is in the human heart. When all the senses are quiet the man is said to be asleep. The soul holds the powers of life - breath, voice, eye, ear, and mind - and they rest in quietness. Upanishads (c. B.C. 800)

When a man is in love or in debt, someone else has the advantage. Bill Balance

When a man is out of sight, it is not too long before he is out of mind. Thomas à Kempis

When a man is tired of London he is tired of life; for there is in London all that life can afford. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

When a man is wrong and won't admit it, he always gets angry. Haliburton

When a man makes a woman his wife, it's the highest compliment he can pay her, and it's usually the last. Helen Rowland

When a man retires and time is no longer a matter of urgent importance, his colleagues generally present him with a clock. R. C. Sheriff

When a man says money can do anything, that settles it; he hasn't any. Edgar W. Howe (1853-1937)

When a man says money can't do anything, that settles it: he hasn't any. E. W. Howe

When a man sits with a pretty girl for an hour, it seems like a minute. But let him sit on a hot stove for a minute - then it is longer than any hour. That's relativity. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

When a man sleeps, his head is in his stomach. George Herbert

When a man tells you he got rich through hard work, ask him "Whose?" Don Marquis

When a man tells you what people are saying about you, tell him what people are saying about him; that will immediately take his mind off your troubles. E. W. Howe

When a man throws an empty cigarette package from an automobile, he is liable to a fine of $50.

When a man throws a billboard across a view, he is richly rewarded. Pat Brown

When a man wants to murder a tiger he calls it sport; when the tiger wants to murder him he calls it ferocity. George Bernard Shaw

When a man's best friend is his dog, that dog has a problem. Edward Abbey

When a man's dog turns against him it is time for a wife to pack her trunk and go home to mama. Mark Twain

When a man's house is on fire, it's time to break off chess. James Fuller

When a man's knowledge is not in order, the more of it he has the greater will be his confusion. Herbert Spencer (1820-1903)

When a person acts without knowledge of what he thinks, feels, needs or wants, he does not yet have the option of choosing to act differently. Clark Moustakas

When a person can no longer laugh at himself, it is time for others to laugh at him. Thomas Szasz

When a person cannot deceive himself the chances are against his being able to deceive other people. Mark Twain

When a person is always right, there is something wrong.

When a person is down in the world, an ounce of help is better than a pound of preaching. Edward G. Bulwer-Lytton

When a person is willing and eager, God joins in.

When a person wants to believe something, it doesn't take much to convince them.

When a philosopher says something which is true then it is trivial. When he says something that is not trivial then it is false. Carl Friedrich Gauss

When a resolute fellow steps up to that great bully, the world, and takes him boldly by the beard, he is often surprised to find that the beard comes off in his hand, that it was only tied on to scare away timid adventurers.

When a student comes and asks, "Should I become a mathematician?" the answer should be no. If you have to ask, you shouldn't even ask. Paul Halmos

When a subject becomes totally obsolete we make it a required course. Peter F. Drucker

When a thing has been said and said well, have no scruple. Take it and copy it. Anatole France

When a thing has been said and well said, have no scruple; take it and copy it. Anatole France

When a thing is done advice comes too late. G. Delamothe & Romanian Proverb

When a thing is new, people say: 'It is not true.' Later, when its truth becomes obvious, they say: 'It is not important.' Finally, when its importance cannot be denied, they say: 'Anyway, it is not new.' William James (1842-1910)

When a thing is said to be not worth refuting you may be sure that either it is flagrantly stupid-in which case all comment is superfluous-or it is something formidable, the very crux of the problem. Miguel de Unamuno (1864-1936)

When a true genius appears in this world, you may know him by the sign, that the dunces are all in confederacy against him. Jonathan Swift

When a virtuous man is raised, it brings gladness to his friends, grief to his enemies, and glory to his posterity. Ben Jonson

When a woman is talking to you, listen to what she says with her eyes. Victor Hugo

When a woman wants a man to listen to reason, she wants him to listen to her.

When a young man begins to go down hill everything seems to be greased for the occasion. Josh Billings (H.W. Shaw)

When action grows unprofitable, gather information; when information grows unprofitable, sleep. Ursula K. LeGuin

When Adam delved and Eve span, who was then the gentleman? Hampole

When Adam dolve, and Eve span, / Who was then the gentleman? John Ball

When Adam wove and Eve span, / Where was there then the nobleman? Finnish Saying

When aiming for the common denominator, be prepared for the occasional division by zero.

When all desires that surge in the heart are / Renounced, the mortal becomes immortal. / When all the knots that strangle the heart are / Loosened, the mortal becomes immortal. / This sums up the teaching of the Scriptures. Upanishads (c. B.C. 800)

When all else fails, read the instructions. (Cahn's (Cann's ?) Axiom) (Feldman's Axiom)

When all else is lost, the future still remains. Christian Nestell Bovee

When all is said and done, a lot more is said than done.

When all is said and done, more is said than done.

When all is said and done, more will be said than done.

When all men have what belongs to them, it cannot be much. George Herbert

When all men say you are an ass, it is time to bray. James Howell

When all men speak, no man hears. James Kelly

When all the blandishments of life are gone, / The coward sneaks to death, the brave live on. George Sewell (-1726)

When an ass climbs a ladder, we may find wisdom in women. John Ray

When an elderly and distinguished scientist says that something is possible, he is very probably right. When he says that something is impossible, he is quite possibly wrong. (Clarke's Law)

When an elephant is in trouble even a frog will kick him. Hindu Proverb

When an error has been detected and corrected, it will be found to have been wrong in the first place. Corollary: After the correction has been found in error, it will be impossible to fit the original quantity back into the equation. (Scott's Second Law)

When an old person dies, a library has burned. African proverb

When anger rises, think of the consequences. Confucius

When angry, count a hundred.

When angry, count four; when very angry, swear. Mark Twain

When angry count ten before you speak. If very angry a hundred. Thomas Jefferson

When any mechanical contrivance fails, it will do so at the most inconvenient possible time. (Johnson's First Law)

When any phase of science is getting under way, good observation is indispensable, whereas good speculation can wait. Edwin G. Boring

When anything is used to its full potential, it will break. (Murphy's Thirty-third Law)

When April blows his horn, it's good both for hay and corn.

When asked by an anthropologist what the Indians called America before the white man came, an Indian said simply, "Ours." Father Andrew

When authorities warn you of the sinfulness of sex, there is an important lesson to be learned. Do not have sex with the authorities. Matt Groening

When bad men combine, the good must associate else they will fall one by one, an unpitied sacrifice in a contemptible struggle. Edmund Burke (1729-1797)

When beauty fires the blood, how love exalts the mind! John Dryden (1631-1701)

When bees are old they yield no honey. John Ray

When beggars die, there are no comets seen; / The heavens themselves blaze forth the death of princes. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

When better choices are not to be had, / We needs must take the seeming best of bad. Samuel Daniel (1562?-1619)

When boasting ends, there dignity begins. Owen D. Young

When change itself can give no more, / 'T is easy to be true. Charles Sedley (1639-1701)

When chickens quit quarrelling over their food they often find that there is enough for all of them. I wonder if it might not be the same with the human race. Don Marquis

When childhood dies, its corpses are called adults and they enter society, one of the politer names of hell. That is why we dread children, even if we love them, they show us the state of our decay. Brian Aldiss

When children are doing nothing they are doing mischief. Henry Fielding

When children stand quiet they have done some ill. George Herbert

When choosing between two evils, I always like to pick the one I never tried before. Mae West (1892-1980)

When choosing between two evils, I always like to take the one I've never tried before. Mae West

When choosing between two evils, I always like to try the one I've never tried before.

When choosing between two evils, I choose the one I haven't tried yet. John Quill Taylor

When comes the revolution, things will be different - not better, just different.

When confronted by a difficult problem, you can solve it more easily by reducing it to the question, How would the Lone Ranger have handled this? (Brady's First Law of Problem Solving)

When considering praise or criticism first consider the source. Jeff Daly

When dealing with people, remember you are not dealing with creatures of logic, but with creatures of emotion, creatures bristling with prejudice, and motivated by pride and vanity. Dale Carnegie

When desire, having rejected reason and overpowered judgment which leads to right, is set in the direction of the pleasure which beauty can inspire, and when again under the influence of its kindred desires it is moved with violent motion towards the beauty of corporeal forms, it acquires a surname from this very violent motion, and is called love. Socrates (470?-399 B.C.)

When doctors talk of heroic procedures, the heroism is on the part of the patient. Jonathan Miller

When dogs leap onto your bed, it's because they adore being with you. When cats leap onto your bed, it's because they adore your bed. Alisha Everett

When eating bamboo sprouts, remember the man who planted them. Chinese Proverb

When elephants fight, the grass loses.

When even one American - who has done nothing wrong - is forced by fear to shut his mind and close his mouth - then all Americans are in peril. Harry S. Truman

When every physical and mental resource is focused, one's power to solve a problem multiplies tremendously. Norman Vincent Peale

When evolution is outlawed, only outlaws will evolve.

When executing advertising, it's best to think of yourself as an uninvited guest in the living room of a prospect who has the magical power to make you disappear instantly. John O'Toole

When faith and hope fail try charity - it's love in action.

When faith is lost, when honor dies, the man is dead. John Greenleaf Whittier

When fate hands us a lemon, let's try to make a lemonade. Dale Carnegie

When Fate sends a gift, one receives good fortune. Salman Rushdie

When firmness is sufficient, rashness is unnecessary. Napoleon Bonaparte

When flowers are full of heaven-descended dews, they always hang their heads; but men hold theirs the higher the more they receive, getting proud as they get full. Beecher (1813-1878)

When force is necessary, it must be applied boldly, decisively and completely. But one must know the limitations of force; one must know when to blend force with a maneuver, the blow with an agreement. Leon Trotsky

When fortune knocks, be sure to open the door. Boyer

When fortune knocks upon the door open it widely. Spanish Proverb

When fortune smiles, embrace her.

When fortune smiles she never shows her teeth.

When friends ask, there is no tomorrow.

When friends offer to help, let them.

When God allows a burden to be put upon you, He will put His arms underneath you to help you carry it.

When God closes a door He opens a window.

When God created two sexes, he might have been overdoing it. Charles Smith

When God endowed human beings with brains, He did not intend to guarantee them.

When God is made the master of a family, he orders the disorderly. George Herbert

When God says today, the devil says tomorrow. German Proverb

When God sneezed, I didn't know what to say. Henny Youngman

When good Americans die they go to Paris. When bad Americans die they go to America. Oscar Wilde

When great changes occur in history, when great principles are involved, as a rule the majority are wrong. The minority are right. Eugene V. Debs (1855-1926)

When hammering a nail, you will never hit your finger if you hold the hammer with both hands. (Leibowitz's Rule)

When harvest flies hum, there's warm weather to come. English Proverb

When having a smackerel of something with a friend, don't eat so much that you get stuck in the doorway trying to get out.

When he brayed, the jackass showed he was not a lion. Egyptian Proverb

When he first ran for office, he appealed to the voters: "I never stole anything in my life. All I ask is a chance."

When his child requests a car, a father will wish that he were a member of some sect that hasn't gone beyond the horse. Bill Cosby

When human power becomes so great and original that we can account for it only as a kind of divine imagination, we call it genius. William Crashaw

When I am dead, I hope it may be said: "His sins were scarlet, but his books were read". Hilaire Belloc

When I came to New York in 1978, I was a full-time school teacher and track runner, and determined to retire from competitive running. But winning the New York City Marathon kept me running for another decade. Grete Waitz

When I consider life, it is all a cheat. John Dryden (1631-1701)

When I despair, I remember that all through history the way of truth and love has always won. There have been tyrants and murderers and for a time they seem invincible but in the end, they always fall - think of it, ALWAYS. Mahatma Gandhi

When I die, I hope to go to Heaven, whatever the Hell that is. Ayn Rand (1905-1982)

When I do something wrong, I plead ignorance. If it comes to a trial I just show up and prove my case!

When I erase a word with a pencil, where does it go?

When I examine myself and my methods of thought, I come to the conclusion that the gift of fantasy has meant more to me than my talent for absorbing positive knowledge. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

When I find myself in times of trouble / Mother Mary comes to me / Speaking words of wisdom. John Lennon & Paul McCartney

When I gave food to the poor, they called me a saint. When I asked why the poor were hungry, they called me a communist. Dom Helder Camara

When I get a little money, I buy books. And if there is any left over, I buy food. Desiderius Erasmus (1466-1536)

When I go to heaven, I want to see my grandpa again. But he better have lost the nose hair and the old-man smell.

When I get that feeling, I need sexual healing. Marvin Gaye

When I have been asked during these last weeks who caused the riots and the killing in L.A., my answer has been direct and simple: Who is to blame for the riots? The rioters are to blame. Who is to blame for the killings? The killers are to blame. J. Danforth Quayle

When I hear music, I fear no danger. I am invulnerable. I see no foe. I am related to the earliest times, and to the latest. Henry David Thoreau

When I hear somebody sigh, "Life is hard", I am always tempted to ask: "Compared to what?". Sydney Harris

When I investigate and when I discover that the forces of the heavens and the planets are within ourselves, then truly I seem to be living among the gods. Leon Battista Alberti

When I labor to be brief, I become obscure. Horace

When I look at my children, I often wish I had remained a virgin. L. Carter

When I look back on all the worries I remember the story of the old man who said on his deathbed that he had a lot of trouble in his life, most of which never happened. Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

When I play with my cat, who knows whether she isn't amusing herself with me more than I am with her? Michel Eyquem de Montaigne (1553-1592)

When I played in the sandbox the cat kept covering me up.

When I pray, coincidences happen, and when I don't pray, they don't. William Temple

When I read about the evils of drinking, I gave up reading. Henny Youngman

When I read some of the rules for speaking and writing the English language correctly...I think. Henry David Thoreau

When I reflect upon the number of disagreeable people who I know have gone to a better world, I am moved to lead a different life. Mark Twain

When I rest, I rust. Fritz Thyssen & German Proverb

When I see a bird that walks like a duck and swims like a duck and quacks like a duck, I call that bird a duck. Richard Cardinal Cushing

When I shut my eyes and think of my chamber the ideas I form are the exact representations of the impressions I felt; nor is there any circumstance of the one which is not in the other... ideas and impressions appear to always correspond to each other. David Hume (1711-1776)

When I speak of being in contact with my books, I mean it literally. I like to be able to lean my head against them. Leigh Hunt

When I stand before God at the end of my life, I would hope that I would not have a single bit of talent left, and could say, "I used everything you gave me." Erma Louise Bombeck

When I want to know what France thinks, I ask myself. Charles de Gaulle

When I want your opinion, I'll give it to you. Miss Piggy

When I was a boy I was told that anybody could become President; I'm beginning to believe it. Clarence Darrow

When I was a boy of fourteen, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be twenty-one, I was astonished at how much the old man had learned in seven years. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

When I was a Brownie, I ate all the cookies. Madonna

When I was a kid I said to my father one afternoon, "Daddy, will you take me to the zoo?" He answered, "If the zoo wants you, let them come and get you." Jerry Lewis

When I was a little boy, they called me a liar, but now that I am grown up, they call me a writer. Isaac Singer (1904-1991)

When I was born I was so surprised I didn't talk for a year and a half. Gracie Allen

When I was born... the doctor came out to the waiting room and said to my father... I'm very sorry. We did everything we could... but he pulled through.

When I was born the doctor took one look at my face... turned me over and said. Look... twins!

When I was in school, I cheated on my metaphysics exam: I looked into the soul of the boy sitting next to me. Woody Allen

When I was little, my grandfather used to make me stand in a closet for five minutes without moving. He said it was elevator practice. Steven Wright

When I was young, all I wanted was to be ruler of the universe. Now that isn't enough. Alex P. Keaton

When I was young I observed that nine out of every ten things I did were failures, so I did ten times more work. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

When I was young I used to think that money was the most important thing in life; now that I am old, I know it is. Oscar Wilde

When I was young I was sure of everything; in a few years, having been mistaken a thousand times, I was not half so sure of most things as I was before; at present, I am hardly sure of anything but what God has revealed to me. John Wesley

When I went to see Raging Bull I couldn't wait. I went to this duplex cinema... and there was a drunk, smell of urine, someone snoring and scratches all over the film. I thought, so much for the art. It's all bullshit. You do it because it's the instant thing - the instant rush. Anthony Hopkins

When I woke up this morning my girlfriend asked me, "Did you sleep good?" I said, "No, I made a few mistakes." Steven Wright

When I works, I works fast. When I plays, I plays hard. And when I thinks, I falls asleep.

When I write about something the best things come up without me being able to say whence. G. C. Lichtenberg

When I'm feeling down, I like to whistle. It makes the neighbor's dog run to the end of his chain and gag himself.

When I'm finally holding all the cards, why does everyone decide to play chess?

When I'm good, I'm great; but when I'm bad, I'm better. Mae West
When I'm good, I'm very good; but when I'm bad I'm better! Mae West
When I'm good, I'm very, very, good, but when I'm bad, I'm better. Mae West
When I'm not thanked at all I'm thanked enough. Henry Fielding
When ideas fail, words come in very handy. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe (1749-1832)
When important decisions have to be taken, the natural anxiety to come to a right decision will often keep you awake. Nothing, however, is more conducive to healthful sleep than plenty of open air. John Lubbock
When in charge, ponder. (Boren's First Law)
When in charge, ponder. When in doubt, mumble. When in trouble, delegate.
When in doubt, do as the doubts do. John Quill Taylor
When in doubt, follow your heart.
When in doubt, Gallop! Proverb of the French Foreign Legion
When in doubt, lead trump.
When in doubt, leave out the adjective.
When in doubt, mumble. (Boren's Third Law)
When in doubt, mumble. When in trouble, delegate. When in charge, ponder.
When in doubt, predict that the trend will continue. (Merkin's Maxim)
When in doubt, take all the defaults.
When in doubt, tell the truth. Mark Twain
When in doubt, win the trick. Hoyle
When in Rome, do as the Romans do.
When in trouble, delegate. (Boren's Second Law)
When in trouble or in doubt, run in circles, scream and shout.
When in trouble or in doubt, Run in circles, yell and shout.
When independence of principle consists in having no principle on which to depend: C. C. Colton
When introduced at the wrong time or place, good logic may be the worst enemy of good teaching. George Pólya
When it blows, the trees shake.
When it comes to being ready, I am.
When it comes to facing up to serious problems, each candidate will pledge to appoint a committee. And what is a committee? A group of the unwilling, picked from the unfit, to do the unnecessary. But it all sounds great in a campaign speech. Richard Long Harkness
When it comes to getting things done, we need fewer architects and more bricklayers. Colleen C. Barrett (Barret?)
When it comes to giving, some people stop at nothing.
When it comes to helping you, some people stop at nothing.
When it is a question of money, everybody is of the same religion. Voltaire
When it is dark enough, you can see the stars. Charles A. Beard
When it is not necessary to buy, it is necessary not to buy. B. J. Gupta
When it is not necessary to change, it is necessary not to change. Lucius Cary, Viscount Falkland
When it rains and the sun shines, the Lord's bow appears; and when it rains and it's cold, the Jew's bow appears. Spanish Proverb
When it rains, it becomes wet. German Proverb
When it rains, it pours. (Zymurgy's Seventh Exception to Murphy's Law) (Murphy's Observation)
When it rains, the trees become wet. German Proverb
When it's a question of money, everybody is of the same religion. Francis M. Voltaire (1694-1778)
When it's you against the world, bet on the world.
When late morning rolls around and you're feeling a bit out of sorts, don't worry; you're probably just a little eleven o'clockish.

When life has you down and you feel like the whole world is after you, keep your chin up... it gives them something to aim at.

When looking back, usually I'm more sorry for the things I didn't do than for the things I shouldn't have done. Malcolm Forbes

When love is not madness, it is not love. Spanish Proverb

When love puts in, friendship is gone.

When lying, be emphatic and indignant, thus behaving like your children. William Feather

When man is born, he is tender and weak. / At death, he is stiff and hard. / All things, the grass as well as trees, / are tender and supple while alive. / When dead, they are withered and dried. / Therefore the stiff and hard are companions of death. / The tender and the weak are companions of life. Lao-Tzu

When man learns to understand and control his own behavior as well as he is learning to understand and control the behavior of crop plants and domestic animals, he may be justified in believing that he has become civilized. E. G. Stakman

When man to man shall be friend and brother. Gerald Massey

When management wants your opinion, they will give it to you.

When managers hold endless meetings, the programmers write games. When accountants talk of quarterly profits, the development budget is about to be cut. When senior scientists talk blue sky, the clouds are about to roll in.

When managers make commitments, game programs are ignored. When accountants make long-range plans, harmony and order are about to be restored. When senior scientists address the problems at hand, then the problems will soon be solved.

When marriage is outlawed, only outlaws will have inlaws.

When men are easy in their circumstances, they are naturally enemies to innovation.

When men have gone so far as to talk as though their idols have come to life, it is time that someone broke them. Richard H. Tawney

When men yield up the privilege of thinking, the last shadow of liberty quits the horizon. Thomas Paine

When money talks there are few interruptions.

When Mozart was my age, he had been dead for two years. Tom Lehrer

When much dispute has past, / We find our tenets just the same as last. Alexander Pope

When music fails to agree to the ear, to soothe the ear and the heart and the senses, then it has missed its point. Maria Callas

When my eyes shall be turned to behold for the last time the sun in heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious Union; on States dissevered, discordant, belligerent; on a land rent with civil feuds, or drenched, it may be, in fraternal blood. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)

When my grandmother got arthritis, she couldn't bend over and paint her toenails anymore. So my grandfather does it for her all the time, even when his hands got arthritis too. That's love.

When my love swears that she is made of truth, I do believe her, though I know she lies. William Shakespeare

When Nature has work to be done, she creates a genius to do it. Ralph Waldo Emerson

When need is highest, help is highest.

When nothing can possibly go wrong, it will.

When nothing seems to help, I go and look at a stonecutter hammering away at his rock perhaps a hundred times without as much as a crack showing in it. Yet at the hundred and first blow it will split in two, and I know it was not that blow that did it, but all that had gone before. Jacob A. Riis

When once a man has made celebrity necessary to his happiness, he has put it in the power of the weakest and most timorous malignity, if not to take away his satisfaction, at least to withhold it.

His enemies may indulge their pride by airy negligence and gratify their malice by quiet neutrality. Samuel Johnson

When one burns one's bridges, what a very nice fire it makes. Dylan Thomas

When one dog barks another will join it. Latin Proverb

When one door closes another door opens; but we so often look so long and so regretfully upon the closed door, that we do not see the ones which open for us. Alexander Graham Bell (1847-1922)

When one door of happiness closes, another opens; but often we look so long at the closed door that we do not see the one which has opened for us. Helen Keller

When one God dwells in all living beings, then why do you hate others? Why do you frown at others? Why do you become indignant towards others? Why do you use harsh words? Why do you try to rule and domineer over others? Why do you exploit folly? Is this not sheer ignorance? Get wisdom and rest in peace. Sivananda (1887-)

When one has tasted watermelon he knows what the angels eat. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

When one helps another, both are strong. German Proverb

When one is revolving rapidly on the wheel of things there doesn't seem to be an opportunity for anything one really wants to do. L. M. Montgomery

When one loves somebody, everything is clear - where to go, what to do - it all takes care of itself and one doesn't have to ask anybody about anything. Maxim Gorky

When one shuts one eye, one does not hear everything. Swiss Proverb

When our eyes see our hands doing the work of our hearts, the circle of Creation is completed inside us, the doors of our souls fly open and love steps forth to heal everything in sight. Michael Bridge

When our hatred is violent, it sinks us even beneath those we hate. François de La Rochefoucauld

When our memories outweigh our dreams, we have grown old. President Bill Clinton

When our thoughts which bring actions are filled with hate against anyone, Negro or white, we are in a living hell. That is as real as hell will ever be. George Washington Carver

When our vices have left us we flatter ourselves that we have left them. François de La Rochefoucauld

When outer signals or a person's nature somehow connect with us, then we fall in love with him. Max Lüscher

When people are bewildered they tend to become credulous. Calvin Coolidge

When people are free to do as they please, they usually imitate each other. Eric Hoffer (Hoffer's Law)

When people are least sure, they are most dogmatic. John Kenneth Galbraith

When people begin to philosophize they seem to think it necessary to make themselves artificially stupid. Bertrand Russell

When people share their fears with you, share your courage back.

When people speak to you about a preventive war, you tell them to go and fight it. After my experience, I have come to hate war. War settles nothing. Dwight D. Eisenhower

When people talk, listen completely. Most people never listen. Ernest Hemingway

When people you greatly admire appear to be thinking deep thoughts, they probably are thinking about lunch. (Rule of the Great)

When people's ill, they come to I, / I Physics, bleeds, and sweats 'em; / Sometimes they live, sometimes they die. / What's that to I? I lets 'em. John C. Lettsom

When pigs back into an electric fence, there is a short circus.

When pious frauds and holy shifts / Are dispensations and gifts. Samuel Butler (1600-1680)

When possible make the decisions now, even if action is in the future. A reviewed decision usually is better than one reached at the last moment. William B. Given, Jr.

When poverty comes in at the doors, love leaps out at the windows.

When power leads man toward arrogance, poetry reminds him of his limitations. When power narrows the areas of man's concern, poetry reminds him of the richness and diversity of his existence. When power corrupts, poetry cleanses, for art establishes the basic human truths which must serve as the touchstone of our judgment. John F. Kennedy

When prosperity comes, do not use all of it. Confucius

When proteup first, thankfully leaving the fuses intact. (Vuilleumier's Fourth Law)

When putting cheese in a mousetrap, always leave room for the mouse. (The Law of Avoiding Oversell)

When rats leave a sinking ship, where exactly do they think they're going? Douglas Gauck

When roubles falls from heaven there is no sack, when there is a sack roubles don't fall. Russian Proverb

When Satan reminds you of your past, remind him of his future.

When saving for old age, be sure to put away a few pleasant thoughts.

When schemes are laid in advance, it is surprising how often the circumstances will fit in with them. Sir William Osler

When she is a girl she will use her mouth for kissing, later for gossiping.

When sign makers go on strike, is anything written on their picket signs?

When signing a contract, it helps to remember "the big-type giveth, and the small-type taketh away".

When smashing monuments, always save the pedestals - they come in handy.

When Solomon said that there was a time and a place for everything he had not encountered the problem of parking an automobile. Bob Edwards

When solving an equation system, the result yielded is $x=17x + 1$, which is evidently false. Careful re-computation will yield $x=x$ or $1=1$. (Scheverezhin's Equation System Theorem)

When someone brings sweet rolls to work for a treat, is it proper for people to cut them up and leave halves, quarters or eighths on the plate?

When someone does something good, Applaud! You will make two people happy. Samuel Goldwyn

When someone hurts me, forgiveness is cheaper than a lawsuit. But not nearly as gratifying.

When someone is having a bad day, be silent, sit close by and nuzzle them gently.

When someone says, "do you want my opinion"? - it's always a negative one.

When someone says, "It ain't the money, but the principle," it's the money.

When someone who is known for being comedic does something straight, it's always "a big breakthrough" or a "radical departure." Why is it no one ever says that if a straight actor does comedy? Are they presuming comedy is easier? Carol Burnett

When something can be read without effort, great effort has gone into its writing. Enrique Jardiel Poncela

When sorrow is asleep, wake it not. M. A. Stoddart

When speculation has done its worst, two and two still make four. Samuel Johnson

When spiders unite they can tie down a lion. Ethiopian Proverb

When subjected to extreme feminine heat and pressure, male hydrocarbons will often produce a diamond. Omni

When success turns a person's head, he is facing failure.

When superstition is allowed to perform the task of old age in dulling the human temperament, we can say goodbye to all excellence in poetry, in painting, and in music. Denis Diderot (1713-1784)

When talking nonsense try not to be serious.

When tempted to fight fire with fire, remember that the Fire Department usually uses water.

When the age of mechanical reproduction separated art from its basis in cult, the semblance of its autonomy disappeared forever. The resulting change in the function of art transcended the perspective of the century. Walter Benjamin (1892-1940)

When the belly is full the mind is among the maids.

When the bird and the book disagree, always believe the bird.

When the blackberry turns black, the old woman becomes sad because winter is coming. Spanish Proverb

When the blind lead the blind they will both fall over the cliff.

When the bosses talk about improving productivity, they are never talking about themselves.

When the butcher dies, do you think we shall eat our pork with the bristles on? Chinese Proverb

When the camera isolates on a male athlete, he will either spit, pick or scratch. (Wagner's Law of Sports TV)

When the candles are out all women are fair. Plutarch

When the cat is away, the mice play.

When the cat's away the mice will play. Proverb

When the Czar has a cold all Russia coughs. Russian Proverb

When the devil starts messing, God starts blessing. R. W. Schambach

When the Devil was well, the Devil a monk was he.

When the doors of perception are cleansed, man will see things as they truly are, infinite. William Blake (1757-1827)

When the dust is clear, one knows if he has been riding a horse or an ass. Chinese legend

When the eyes say one thing and the tongue another, the practiced person relies on the language of the first. Ralph Waldo Emerson

When the first baby laughed for the first time, the laugh broke into a thousand pieces and they all went skipping about, and that was the beginning of fairies. And now when every new baby is born its first laugh becomes a fairy. So there ought to be one fairy for every boy or girl. James Matthew Barrie

When the fox preaches, beware of your geese.

When the fox preaches, beware the geese. English Proverb

When the fox preaches, look to the geese. German Proverb

When the gods wish to punish us, they answer our prayers. Oscar Wilde

When the going gets tough, everyone leaves. (Lynch's Law)

When the going gets weird, the weird turn pro. Hunter Thompson

When the going seems easy, you may be going downhill.

When the government bureau's remedies do not match your problem, you modify the problem, not the remedy.

When the head aches, all the members partake of the pain. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

When the heart is still agitated by the remains of a passion, we are more ready to receive a new one than when we are entirely cured. La Rochefoucauld (1613-1680)

When the historian of the Twentieth Century shall have finished his narrative, and comes searching for the subtitle which shall best express the spirit of the period, we think it not at all unlikely that he may select 'The Age of Advertising' for the purpose.

When the horse is stolen, lock the barn door.

When the hounds bay, the fox and the rabbit are brothers.

When the Japanese mend broken objects they aggrandize the damage by filling the cracks with gold, because they believe that when something's suffered damage and has a history it becomes more beautiful. Barbara Bloom

When the legends die, the dreams end; there is no more greatness. Shawnee

When the meal was over we all had a quiet rest in our rooms and I meditated on the race. This is the time when an athlete feels all alone in the big world. Opponents assume tremendous stature. Any runner who denies having fears, nerves or some kind of disposition is a bad athlete, or a liar. Gordon Pirie

When the mind is possessed of reality, it feels tranquil and joyous even without music or song, and it produces a pure fragrance even without incense or tea. Hung Tzu-ch'eng (1593-1665)

When the mind is thinking, it is talking to itself. Plato (427-347 BC)

When the mind withdraws into itself and dispenses with facts it makes only chaos. Edith Hamilton (1867-1963)

When the moon shall have faded out from the sky, and the sun shall shine at noonday a dull cherry red, and the seas shall be frozen over, and the icecap shall have crept downward to the equator from either pole... when all the cities shall have long been dead and crumbled into dust, and all life shall be on the last verge of extinction on this globe; then, on a bit of lichen, growing on the bald rocks beside the eternal snows of Panama, shall be seated a tiny insect, preening its antennae in the glow of the worn-out sun, the sole survivor of animal life on this our earth - a melancholy bug. William Jacob Holland

When the mouse laughs at the cat, there is a hole nearby. Nigerian Proverb

When the mouse laughs at the cat, there is a hole very near by.

When the mouth stumbles, it is worse than the foot. West African Proverb

When the old dog barks, better look out the window.

When the only tool you own is a hammer, every problem begins to resemble a nail. Abraham Maslow

When the outcome of a meeting is to have another meeting, it has been a lousy meeting. Herbert Clark Hoover

When the ox stumbles, all whet their knives. Yiddish Proverb

When the passions become masters, they are vices. Blaise Pascal (1623-1662)

When the pigeons go abenting, the farmers go lamenting. English Proverb

When the pigs back into the electric fence, there is a short circus.

When the plane you're on is late, the plane you need to transfer to is on time. (The Airplane Law)

When the President does it, that means it is not illegal. Richard Nixon

When the prototype has been fully assembled according to lab instructions, a minimum of 11 components are left. (Vuilleumier's Seventh Law)

When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness that he hath committed and doeth that which is neither quite lawful nor quite right, he will generally be found to have gained in amiability what he has lost in holiness. Samuel Butler

When the solution is simple, God is answering. Where the world ceases to be the scene of our personal hopes and wishes, where we face it as free beings admiring, asking and observing, there we enter the realm of Art and Science. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

When the stomach is full, it is easy to talk of fasting. Saint Jerome (340?-420)

When the sun and the moon are set and the fire has sunk down, what is then the light of man? Voice then becomes his light; and by the voice as his light he rests, goes forth, does his work and returns. Therefore in truth when a man cannot see even his own hand, if he hears a voice after that he wends his way. Upanishads (c. B.C. 800)

When the sun shineth, make hay.

When the tide of life turns against you / And the current upsets your boat / Don't waste tears on what might have been / Just lie on your back and float.

When the tides of life surround you, and the currents upset your boat, don't waste your tears on what might have been, just lie on your back and float. Ed Norton

When the tyrant has disposed of foreign enemies by conquest or treaty, and there is nothing to fear from them, then he is always stirring up some war other, in order that the people may require a leader. Plato

When the wind is great, bow before it; when the wind is heavy, yield to it.

When the world is falling apart around you, drink tea.

When there is no danger in fighting, there is no glory in winning.

When there is no enemy within, the enemies outside cannot hurt you. African Proverb

When there is thunder and lightning, don't go up onto the rooftop. Spanish Saying

When there's a will, there's a way - when there's a won't, there isn't.

When there's work to be done, turn up your sleeves, not your nose.

When they are alone they want to be with others, and when they are with others they want to be alone. After all, human beings are like that. Gertrude Stein

When they broke open molecules, they found they were only stuffed with atoms. But when they broke open atoms, they found them stuffed with explosions.

When they do not know how to talk, they cannot keep silence. St. Jerome & Epicharmus (Pittacus)

When they gave out eyes like diamonds / That would shame the stars that shine. Schroeder & Weisman

When they say, "It isn't the money, it's the principle of it," it's the money.

When they ship styrofoam, what do they pack it in?

When things are going well, something will go wrong. (Chisholm's Second Law)

When things just can't get any worse, they will. (First Corollary to Chisholm's Second Law / Chisolm's First Corollary to Murphy's Second Law)

When those waiters ask me if I want some fresh ground pepper, I ask if they have any aged pepper. Andy Rooney

When thou art at Rome, do as they do at Rome. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

When thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth. Jesus Christ

When thought is too weak to be simply expressed, it's clear proof that it should be rejected. Luc de Clapiers

When tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers therefore are the founders of human civilization. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)

When Time who steals our years away / Shall steal our pleasures too, / The mem'ry of the past will stay, / And half our joys renew. Thomas Moore

When travelling down the freeway, the first bug to hit a clean windshield will always land directly in front of the driver's face. (Quigley's Law of Highway Driving)

When trouble arises and things look bad, there is always one individual who perceives a solution and is willing to take command. Usually, that individual is crazy.

When two friends have a common purse, one sings and the other weeps. Mapletoft

When two men in a business always agree, one of them is unnecessary. William Wrigley, Jr.

When two people are under the influence of the most violent, most insane, most delusive, and most transient of passions, they are required to swear that they will remain in that exalted, abnormal, and exhausting condition continuously until death do them part. George Bernard Shaw

When two people loved each other they worked together always, two against the world, a little company. Joy was shared; trouble was split. You had an ally, somewhere, who was helping. Paul Gallico

When two quarrel, both are to blame. Dutch Proverb

When uncertain or in doubt: Run in circles! Scream and shout!

When vice prevails, and impious men bear sway, / The post of honour is a private station. Joseph Addison (1672-1719)

When war begins then hell opens. Giovanni Torriano

When war is declared, Truth is the first casualty. Arthur Ponsonby

When we abolish the slavery of half of humanity, together with the whole system of hypocrisy it implies, then the "division" of humanity will reveal its genuine significance and the human couple will find its true form. Simone de Beauvoir (1908-1986)

When we all think alike, then no-one is thinking. Walter Lippmann

When we are born we cry that we are come to this great stage of fools. Shakespeare

When we are chafed and fretted by small cares, a look at the stars will show us the littleness of our own interests. Maria Mitchell (1818-1889)

When we are flat on our backs there is no way to look but up. Roger W. Babson

When we are in love we seem to ourselves quite different from what we were before. Blaise Pascal (1623-1662)

When we are out of sympathy with the young, then I think our work in this world is over. George MacDonald

When we are planning for posterity, we ought to remember that virtue is not hereditary. Thomas Paine

When we are sure that we are on the right road there is no need to plan our journey too far ahead. No need to burden ourselves with doubts and fears as to the obstacles that may bar our progress. We cannot take more than one step at a time. Orison Scott Marden

When we become a part of anything, it becomes a part of us. David Harold Fink

When we cannot get what we love, we must love what is within our reach. French Proverb

When we die we leave behind us all that we have and take with us all that we are.

When we direct our thoughts properly, we can control our emotions. W. Clement Stone

When we disclaim praise, it is only showing our desire to be praised a second time. François de La Rochefoucauld

When we encounter a natural style we are always surprised and delighted, for we thought to see an author and found a man. Blaise Pascal

When we escaped from Cuba, all we could carry was our education. Alicia Coro

When we get piled upon one another in large cities, as in Europe, we shall become as corrupt as Europe. Thomas Jefferson

When we got into office, the thing that surprised me most was to find that things were just as bad as we'd been saying they were. John F. Kennedy

When we have gold, we are in fear; When we have none we are in danger. Thomas Draxe

When we have not what we like, we must like what we have. Bussy-Rabutin

When we honestly ask ourselves which person in our lives means the most to us, we often find that it is those who, instead of giving much advice, solutions, or cures, have chosen rather to share our pain and touch our wounds with a gentle and tender hand. The friend who can be silent with us in a moment of despair or confusion, who can stay with us in an hour of grief and bereavement, who can tolerate not knowing, not curing, not healing and face with us the reality of our powerlessness, that is a friend who cares. Henri Nouwen

When we know what God is, we shall be gods ourselves. George Bernard Shaw

When we lose, I eat. When we win, I eat. I also eat when we're rained out. Tommy Lasorda

When we lose the right to be different, we lose the privilege to be free. Charles Evans Hughes (1862-1948)

When we quarrel, how we wish we had been blameless! Ralph Waldo Emerson

When we remember we are all mad, the mysteries of life disappear and life stands explained. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

When we run over libraries, persuaded of these principles, what havoc must we make? If we take in our hand any volume - of divinity or school metaphysics, for instance - let us ask, Does it contain any abstract reasoning concerning quantity or number? No. Does it contain any experimental reasoning concerning matter of fact and existence? No. Commit it then to the flames, for it can contain nothing but sophistry and illusion? David Hume (1711-1776)

When we say "War is over if you want it," we mean that if everyone demanded peace instead of another TV set, we'd have peace. John Lennon

When we seek to discover the best in others, we somehow bring out the best in ourselves. William Arthur Ward

When we sing everybody hears us, when we sigh nobody hears us. Russian Proverb

When we talk to God, we're praying. When God talks to us, we're schizophrenic. Lily Tomlin

When we tire of well-worn ways, we seek for new. This restless craving in the souls of men spurs them to climb, and to seek the mountain view. Ella Wheeler Wilcox

When we try to pick out anything by itself, we find it hitched to everything else in the universe. (Muir's Law)

When we two parted / In silence and tears, / Half broken-hearted, / To sever for years. Lord Byron (1788-1824)

When we walk the streets at night in safety, it does not strike us that this might be otherwise. This habit of feeling safe has become second nature, and we do not reflect on just how this is due solely to the working of special institutions. Commonplace thinking often has the impression that force holds the state together, but in fact its only bond is the fundamental sense of order which everybody possesses. Georg Hegel (1770-1831)

When we walk to the edge of all the light we have and take the step into the darkness of the unknown, we must believe that one of two things will happen. There will be something solid for us to stand on or we will be taught to fly. Patrick Overton

When wealth is lost, nothing is lost; when health is lost, something is lost; when character is lost, all is lost. German Motto

When white and black and brown and every other color decide they're going to live together as Christians, then and only then are we going to see an end to these troubles. Barry M. Goldwater

When will they make a spell-checker that reads minds?

When wine is in, wit is out. Hall

When wine sinks, word swim. James Kelly

When wise people speak, they make knowledge attractive, but stupid people spout nonsense. Solomon

When women are depressed they either eat or go shopping. Men invade another country. Elayne Boosler

When women kiss, it always reminds me of prizefighters shaking hands. H. L. (Henry Lewis) Mencken

When women love us, they forgive us everything, even our crimes; when they do not love us, they give us credit for nothing, not even our virtues. Honore de Balzac (1799-1850)

When words are spoken there also words are heard. Yoruban Proverb

When words leave off, music begins. Heinrich Heine

When work is a pleasure, life is a joy! When work is a duty, life is slavery. Maxim Gorky (1868-1936)

When working a problem, it helps to know the answer.

When working hard, be sure to get up and retch every so often.

When working on a problem, it helps to know the answer.

When working toward the solution of a problem, it always helps if you know the answer. (Rule of Accuracy)

When writing about transcendental issues, be transcendently clear. René Descartes

When written in Chinese, the word "crisis" is composed of two characters. One represents danger and the other represents opportunity. John F. Kennedy

When ye are prepared for a thing, the opportunity to use it presents itself. Edgar Cayce

When yer in a funk, people in love are a royal pain in the patookus. Berkely Breathed

When you aim for perfection you discover it is a moving target.

When you ain't got nothin', you got nothin' to lose.

When you are a Bear of Very Little Brain, and Think of Things, you find sometimes that a Thing which seemed very Thingish inside you is quite different when it gets out into the open and has other people looking at it. A. A. Milne

When you are arguing with an idiot, make sure the other person isn't doing the same thing.

When you are aspiring to the highest place, it is honorable to reach the second or even the third rank. Cicero

When you are at the end of your rope, it's a good idea to keep your feet on the ground. D. O. Flynn

When you are ill make haste to forgive your enemies, for you may recover. Ambrose Bierce

When you are in it up to your ears, keep your mouth shut.

When you are in trouble, people who call to sympathize are really looking for the particulars. Ed Howe

When you are kind to someone in trouble, you hope they'll remember and be kind to someone else. And it'll become like a wildfire. Whoopi Goldberg

When you are not asked, do not speak. Maltese Proverb

When you are right, you cannot be too radical; When you are wrong, you cannot be too conservative. Martin Luther King, Jr.

When you are served a meal aboard an aircraft, the aircraft will encounter turbulence. (Gunter's First Law of Air Travel)

When you are standing on the edge of a cliff a step forward is not progress.

When you are totally exhausted it is good to have friends deciding what you are supposed to do and when. Christer Sundqvist

When you are up to your ass in alligators it is difficult to remind yourself your initial objective was to drain the swamp.

When you are used to never being alone, you may consider yourself Americanized.

When you are waiting for your bus to come, 3 buses come in your direction but with "special" on them.

When you arise in the morning, think of what a precious privilege it is to be alive to breathe, to think, to enjoy, to love. Marcus Aurelius

When you ask a dumb question, you get a smart answer. (Eighth Creative Rule of The Thumb)

When you asked me to live in sin with you, I didn't know you meant sloth.

When you become senile, you won't know it. Bill Cosby

When you become used to never being alone, you may consider yourself Americanized.

When you belong to a minority, you have to be better in order to have the right to be equal. Christiane Collage

When you blame others, you give up your power to change. Dr. Robert Anthony & Douglas Noel Adams

When you bow, bow low. Chinese Proverb

When you breath, you inspire. When you do not breath, you expire.

When you breathe you inspire. When you don't breathe you expire.

When you build bridges you can keep crossing them. Rick Pitino

When you cannot get a compliment any other way, pay yourself one. Mark Twain

When you cannot make up your mind which of two evenly balanced courses of action you should take, choose the bolder. W. J. Slim

When you can't change the direction of the wind - adjust your sails. Jim Rohn

When you can't do anything else to a boy, you can make him wash his face. Ed Howe

When you can't make all of the pieces fit, throw one away.

When you cease to make a contribution you begin to die. Eleanor Roosevelt

When you choose the lesser of two evils, always remember that it is still an evil. Max Lerner

When you come back from the Third World to the West - the U.S. in particular - you are struck by the narrowing of thought and understanding, the limited nature of legitimate discussion, the separation of people from each other. It's startling how stultifying it feels, since our opportunities are so vastly greater here. Noam Chomsky (1928-)

When you come right down to it all you have is yourself. The sun is a thousand rays in your belly. All the rest is nothing. Pablo Picasso

When you come right down to it, all you have is your self. Your self is a sun with a thousand rays in your belly. The rest is nothing. Pablo Picasso

When you come to the edge of all the light you know and are about to drop off into the darkness of the unknown, faith is knowing that one of two things will happen: there will be something solid to stand on or you will be taught how to fly.

When you dial a wrong number you never get a busy signal. (Kovac's Conundrum)

When you dig another out of trouble, you've got a place to bury your own.

When you do not have any money the problem is food; when you have money it is sex; when you have both it is health; and when everything is simply great then you are frightened of death. J. P. Donleavy

When you do not know what you are doing, do it neatly.

When you do something, you should burn yourself up completely, like a good bonfire, leaving no trace of yourself. Shunryu Suzuka

When you do the wrong thing, knowing it is wrong, you do so because you haven't developed the habit of effectively controlling or neutralizing strong inner urges that tempt you, or because you have established the wrong habits and don't know how to eliminate them effectively. W. Clement Stone

When you don't have an education, you've got to use your brains.

When you don't know what to do, walk fast and look worried.

When you eat, the meal is yourself. Zen Saying

When you finally discover all of Life's answers, they'll change the questions.

When you finally see light at the end of the tunnel, it will probably be a train coming toward you.

When you find yourself getting irritated with someone, try to remember that all men are brothers and just give them a noogie or an Indian burn.

When you follow your bliss... doors will open where you would not have thought there would be doors; and where there wouldn't be a door for anyone else. Joseph Campbell (1904-1987)

When you fool a fool you strike a blow for intelligence. Giacomo de Seingalt

When you forgive it takes you from the place of the victim to that of a victor.

When you get a thing the way you want it, leave it alone. Winston Churchill

When you get killed you lose an important part of your life. Brooke Shields

When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on, and swing!

When you get to the fork in the road, take it. Yogi Berra

When you get to the point where you think that nothing is impossible, try pushing toothpaste back into a tube or dribbling a football.

When you get to the top, don't look back. Yiddish Proverb

When you get too big a majority, you're immediately in trouble. Sam Rayburn

When you get what you want you don't want it as much.

When you go out to buy, don't show your silver.

When you go to bed, move the charcoal heater to another place.

When you go to buy, use your eyes, not your ears. Czech Proverb

When you go up the hill of Prosperity, may you never meet any friend coming down.

When you have a dream you've got to grab it and never let go. Carol Burnett (1933-)

When you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth. Arthur Conan Doyle (1859-1930)

When you have a fight with your conscience and get licked, you win. Nuggets

When you have a number of disagreeable duties to perform, always do the most disagreeable first. Josiah Quincy

When you have an efficient government, you have a dictatorship. Harry S Truman (1884-1972)

When you have eliminated the impossible, that which remains, however improbable, must be the truth. Arthur Conan Doyle

When you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle (1858-1930)

When you have faults, do not fear to abandon them. Confucius (551-479 BC)

When you have got an elephant by the hind leg, and he is trying to run away, it's best to let him run.
Abraham Lincoln

When you have mastered numbers, you will in fact no longer be reading numbers, any more than you read words when reading books. You will be reading meanings. Harold Geneen

When you have no basis for an argument, abuse the plaintiff. Cicero (B.C. 106-43)

When you have no choice, mobilize the spirit of courage. Jewish Proverb

When you have nothing to say, say nothing. Charles Caleb Colton

When you have only two pennies left in the world, buy a loaf of bread with one, and a lily with the other. Chinese Proverb

When you have secured an area, don't forget to tell the enemy. (Murphy's Nineteenth Rule of combat)

When you have spoken the word, it reigns over you. When it is unspoken you reign over it. Arabian Proverb

When you have to kill a man it costs nothing to be polite. Winston Churchill

When you have to make a choice and don't make it, that in itself is a choice. William James

When you hire people who are smarter than you are, you prove you are smarter than they are. R. H. Grant

When you jump for joy beware that no one moves the ground from beneath your feet. Stanislaw Lec

When you kill time you murder success.

When you know a thing, to hold that you know it; and when you do not know a thing, to allow that you do not know it this is knowledge. Confucius

When you know, you know; when you don't know, admit it.

When you least expect it, an angel will brighten your day.

When you live next to the cemetery you cannot weep for everyone. Russian Proverb

When you long with all your heart for someone to love you, a madness grows there that shakes all sense from the trees and the water and the earth. And nothing lives for you, except the long deep bitter want. And this is what everyone feels from birth to death. Denton Welch

When you make the finding yourself - even if you're the last person on Earth to see the light - you'll never forget it. Carl Sagan

When you make your mark in the world, watch out for guys with erasers.

When you mean longer ago than 'then' you say 'thence'.

When you meet a man, you judge him by his clothes; when you leave, you judge him by his heart.
Russian Proverb

When you mention something, if it's bad, it happens, if it's good, it goes away.

When you need to knock on wood is when you realize that the world is composed of vinyl, naugahyde and aluminum. (Flugg's Law)

When you open a (new) bag of cotton balls, is the TOP one meant to be thrown away?

When you pass through, no one can pin you down, no one can call you back. Ying-An

When you pause to think, you have cause to thank. Grant Gillard

When you play, play hard; when you work, don't play at all. Theodore Roosevelt

When you point your finger 'cause your plan fell through You got three more fingers pointing back at you! Mark Knopfler

When you pour, it rains. (Byrne's Law of Concreting)

When you pull the pin, Mr. Grenade is no longer your friend.

When you put faith, hope and love together, you can raise positive kids in a negative world. Zig Ziglar

When you reach for the stars you may not quite get one, but you won't come up with a handful of mud either. Leo Burnett

When you read a classic you do not see in the book more than you did before. You see more in you than there was before. Clifton Fadiman

When you realize you want to spend the rest of your life with somebody, you want the rest of your life to start as soon as possible. Billy Crystal

When you say that you agree to a thing in principle, you mean that you have not the slightest intention of carrying it out in practice. Bismark

When you say Yes, say it quickly. But always take a half hour to say No, so you can understand the other fellow's side. Francis Cardinal Spellman

When you see a snake, never mind where he came from. W. G. Benham

When you see something that should be done, do it at once. (Peg Bracken's Rule)

When you see the handwriting on the wall, you can bet you're in a public restroom.

When you sit with a nice girl for two hours, you think it's only a minute. But when you sit on a hot stove for a minute, you think it's two hours. That's relativity. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

When you starve with a tiger, the tiger starves last. (Griffin's Thought) (The Law of Self Sacrifice)

When you stop learning, stop listening, stop looking and asking questions, always new questions, then it is time to die. Lillian Smith

When you take a risk and step out of the norm, you run the risk and sometimes you fail. But you only fail if you give up. J. Peterman

When you take charge of your life, there is no longer need to ask permission of other people or society at large. When you ask permission, you give someone veto power over your life. Geoffrey F. Abert

When you take stuff from one writer, it's plagiarism; but when you take from many writers, it's research. Wilson Mizner

When you talk, you repeat what you already know; when you listen, you often learn something. Jared Sparks

When you tell someone something bad about yourself and you're scared they won't love you anymore. But then you get surprised because, not only do they still love you, they love you even more.

When you tell the truth, you never have to worry about your lousy memory.

When you think you've lost something, it will probably be in the Space For Disorganization. Isaac Asimov

When you throw dirt, you lose ground. Texan Proverb

When you transport something by car, it's a shipment; but when you transport something by ship, it is called cargo?

When you try to formalize or socialize creative activity, the only sure result is commercial constipation... The good ideas are all hammered out in agony by individuals, not spewed out by groups. Charles Browder (1957)

When you want to fool the world, tell the truth. Otto von Bismarck

When you want to test the depths of a stream, don't use both feet. Chinese Proverb

When you were born, everyone was smiling and you were crying. Live your life so that when you die, you are smiling and everyone else is crying.

When you were born, you cried and the world rejoiced. Live your life in such a manner that when you die the world cries and you rejoice. Old Indian Saying

When you were born, you were crying and everyone around you was smiling - live your life so that when you die, you're smiling and everyone around you is crying tears of joy for having known you.

When you win nothing hurts. Joe Namath

When you're as great as I am, it's hard to be humble. Muhammad Ali

When you're average, you're as close to the bottom as to the top.

When you're experimenting you have to try so many things before you choose what you want, and you may go days getting nothing but exhaustion. Fred Astaire

When you're finally holding all the cards, why does everyone else decide to play chess?

When you're in command, command.

When you're in love, it's the most glorious two and a half days of your life. Richard Lewis

When you're in one, stop digging. (Healey's Law of Holes)

When you're lying awake with a dismal headache, / and repose is taboo'd by anxiety, / I conceive you may use any language you choose / to indulge in, without impropriety. W. S. Gilbert

When you're sending someone Styrofoam, what do you pack it in?

When you're up to your nose, keep your mouth shut. (Beauregard's Law)

When you're young, the silliest notions seem the greatest achievements. Pearl Bailey (1918-1990)

When you've got them by the balls, their hearts and minds will follow. Lyndon B. Johnson

When you've read about one train wreck, you've read about them all.

When your cat has fallen asleep on your lap and looks utterly content and adorable, you will suddenly have to go to the bathroom. (Rule of Feline Frustration)

When your desires are strong enough you will appear to possess superhuman powers to achieve. Napoleon Hill

When your dreams turn to dust, vacuum.

When your hobbies get in the way of your work - that's OK; but when your hobbies get in the way of themselves... well... Steve Martin

When your memory goes, forget it!

When your pet bird sees you reading the newspaper, does he wonder why you're just sitting there, staring at carpeting?

When your son is six, make him obey. When your son is sixteen, make him a friend.

When your work speaks for itself, don't interrupt. Henry J. Kaiser

When you can't have what you choose, you just choose what you have. Owen Wister

Whence come I and whither go I? That is the great unfathomable question, the same for every one of us. Science has no answer to it. Max Planck

Whenever a friend succeeds, a little something in me dies. Gore Vidal

Whenever a man casts a longing eye at public office, a rottenness appears in his conduct.

Whenever a man seeks your advice he generally seeks your praise. Lord Chesterfield

Whenever a person strives, by the help of dialectic, to start in pursuit of every reality by a simple process of reason, independent of all sensuous information - never flinching, until by an act of the pure intelligence he has grasped the real nature of good - he arrives at the very end of the intellectual world. Plato (427?-347? B.C.)

Whenever a separation is made between liberty and justice, neither, in my opinion, is safe. Edmund Burke

Whenever a system becomes completely defined, some damn fool discovers something which either abolishes the system or expands it beyond recognition.

Whenever a system becomes completely defined, some damned fool discovers something which either abolishes the system or expands it totally beyond recognition.

Whenever a system becomes completely defined, someone discovers something which either abolishes the system or expands it beyond recognition. (Brooke's Law)

Whenever a thing is done for the first time, it releases a little demon. Dave Sim

Whenever anyone says, "theoretically", they really mean, "not really". Parnas

Whenever I date a guy, I think, is this the man I want my children to spend their weekends with? Rita Rudner

Whenever I feel like exercise, I lie down until the feeling passes.

Whenever I hear anyone arguing for slavery, I feel a strong impulse to see it tired on him personally. Abraham Lincoln

Whenever I start getting sad about where I am in my life, I think about the last words of my favorite uncle: "A truck!"

Whenever man commits a crime heaven finds a witness. Edward G. Bulwer-Lytton

Whenever people agree with me I always feel I must be wrong. Oscar Wilde

Whenever people say "we mustn't be sentimental", you can take it they are about to do something cruel. And if they add, "we must be realistic", they mean they are going to make money out of it. Brigid Brophy

Whenever the people are well informed, they can be trusted with their own government; that whenever things get so far wrong as to attract their notice, they may be relied on to set them to rights.

Whenever the literary German dives into a sentence, that is the last you are going to see of him until he emerges on the other side of his Atlantic with his verb in his mouth. Mark Twain

Whenever the people are well informed, they can be trusted with their own government; that whenever things get so far wrong as to attract their notice, they may be relied on to set them to rights. Thomas Jefferson

Whenever there is a simple error that most laymen fall for, there is always a slightly more sophisticated version of the same problem that experts fall for. Amos Tversky

Whenever they burn books they will also, in the end, burn human beings. Heinrich Heine

Whenever things sound easy, it turns out there's one part you didn't hear. Donald E. Westlake

Whenever we say that something must be the case we have given an indication of a rule for the regulation of our expression, as if one were to say 'Everybody is really going to Paris. True, some don't get there, but all their movements are preliminary'. Ludwig Wittgenstein (1889-1951)

Whenever you are angry, be assured that it is not only a present evil, but that you have increased a habit. Epictetus

Whenever you are asked if you can do a job, tell 'em, "Certainly, I can!" Then get busy and find out how to do it. Theodore Roosevelt

Whenever you are sincerely pleased you are nourished. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Whenever you are to do a thing, though it can never be known but to yourself, ask yourself how you would act were all the world looking at you and act accordingly. Thomas Jefferson

Whenever you feel alone look at the stars.

Whenever you find humor, you find pathos close by his side. Edwin Percy Whipple

Whenever you find that you are on the side of the majority, it is time to reform. Mark Twain

Whenever you find you are on the side of the majority, it is time to pause and reflect. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Whenever you find yourself on the side of the majority, it is time to pause and reflect. Mark Twain

Whenever you possibly can, do good to those who need it. Solomon

Whenever you set out to do something, something else must be done first. (Murphy's Sixth Law)

"Where are we going?" "Nowhere." "So what's the rush?" The Lost Boys

Where ambition can cover its enterprises, even to the person himself, under the appearance of principle, it is the most incurable and inflexible of passions. David Hume

Where annual elections end, there slavery begins. John Quincy Adams

Where as gold is the kindest of all hosts when it shines in the sky, it comes an evil guest unto those that receive it in their hand. Simondes of Ceos

Where bees are, there is honey.

Where both deliberate, the love is slight: / Who ever lov'd, that lov'd not at first sight? Christopher Marlowe

Where do swear words come from?

Where drums beat, laws are silent.

Where ever you go in life, / Whatever be your goal, / Keep your eyes on the doughnut / And not on the hole.

Where everyone wants to come as early as possible, then necessarily by far the larger part must come too late. Lichtenberg

Where everything is bad it must be good to know the worst. Francis H. Bradley

Where frogs are the croakers there silence is becoming.

Where God guides, He provides.

Where God has a temple, the devil has a chapel. German Proverb

Where God has his church the Devil will have his chapel. Spanish Proverb

Where God hath a temple, the Devil will have a chapel. Robert Burton (1576-1640)

Where I was born and how I have lived is unimportant. It is what I have done with where I have been that should be of interest. Georgia O'Keefe

Where ignorance is bliss it's foolish to borrow your neighbor's newspaper.

Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise. Thomas Gray

Where in the world does the guy who has everything put it?

Where industry is everything and man is nothing begins the realm of a ruthless economic despotism whose workings are no less disastrous than those of any political despotism. Rudolf Rocker (1873-1958)

Where is Denver? Denver is just below the O in Colorado.

Where is the life we have lost in living? Where is the wisdom we have lost in knowledge? Where is the knowledge we have lost in information? T. S. Elliot (1885-1968)

Where is this rash and most unfortunate man? William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Where it is duty to worship the sun, it is pretty sure to be a crime to examine the laws of heat. John Morley

Where large sums of money are concerned, it is advisable to trust nobody. Agatha Christie (1890-1976)

Where liberty is, there is my country. Benjamin Franklin

Where love abounds, angels are nearby.

Where love fails we espy all faults. English Proverb

Where love is concerned, too much is not enough. Pierre A. de Beaumarchais

Where love is not, there is hatred. Thomas Draxe

Where love is, there is faith.

Where money talks, there are few interruptions. Herbert V. Prochnow (1897-)

Where no one will, the devil himself will bear the cross. Spanish Proverb

Where quality is the thing sought after, the thing of supreme quality is cheap, whatever the price one has to pay for it. William James

Where rosemary grows the wife wears the trousers. French Proverb

Where secrecy or mystery begins, vice or roguery is not far off. Samuel Johnson

Where silence is not allowed, what then is permissible? Seneca

Where sin drives, shame sits in the back seat. Swedish Proverb

Where the bee sucks honey the spider sucks poison.

Where the Devil can't go, he sends an old woman.

Where the Devil can't go, he sends his grandmother.

Where the heart is willing, it will find a thousand ways; but where it is unwilling, it will find a thousand excuses. Dayak proverb

Where the telescope ends, the microscope begins. Which of the two has the grander view? Victor Hugo

Where the world ceases to be the scene of our personal hopes and wishes, where we face it as free beings admiring, asking and observing, there we enter the realm of Art and Science. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

Where there are no swamps there are no frogs. German Proverb
Where there is a sea there are pirates. Greek Proverb
Where there is a surfeit of words there is a famine of intelligence. Marathian Proverb
Where there is a will, there is an Inheritance Tax.
Where there is an unknowable there is a promise. Thornton Wilder (1897-1975)
Where there is great love there are always miracles. Willa Cather (1873-1947)
Where there is great love, there are always wishes. Willa Cather
Where there is hope there is the potential for effort. Hope and effort both mean looking forward.
And looking forward is an attribute of youth. Hugh Downs
Where there is love there is life. Mahatma Gandhi
Where there is love, there is pain. Spanish Proverb
Where there is marriage without love, there will be love without marriage. Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790)
Where there is much light, the shadow is deep. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe
Where there is much pretension, much has been borrowed; nature never pretends. Johann Kaspar Lavater
Where there is much to risk, there is much to consider. Platenus
Where there is no difference, there is only indifference. Louis Nizer
Where there is no power... there is never any desire to do a thing; and where there is strong desire to do a thing... the power to do it is strong. Wallace D. Wattles
Where there is no religion, hypocrisy becomes good taste. George Bernard Shaw
Where there is no trust there is no love.
Where there is no vision a people perish. Ralph Waldo Emerson
Where there is perhaps a province in which the photograph can tell us nothing more than what we see with our own eyes, there is another in which it proves to us how little our eyes permit us to see. Dorothea Lange
Where there is power, there is resistance, and yet, or rather consequently, this resistance is never in a position of exteriority in relation to power. Michel Foucault (1926-1984)
Where there is reverence there is fear, but there is not reverence everywhere that there is fear, because fear presumably has a wider extension than reverence. Socrates (470?-399 B.C.)
Where there is sorrow, there is holy ground. Oscar Wilde
Where there is the necessary technical skill to move mountains, there is no need for the faith that moves mountains. Eric Hoffer
Where there is whispering there is lying.
Where there's a whip there's a way.
Where there's a will, there's a lawsuit. Addison Mizner
Where there's a will, there's a way. English Proverb
Where there's a will, there's a relative.
Where there's a will, there's an Inheritance Tax.
Where there's a will, there's relatives and inheritance tax.
Where there's marriage without love, there will be love without marriage. Benjamin Franklin
Where there's music there can be love. French Proverb
Where there's smoke, there's dinner. Sylvia McGuire
Where there's smoke, there's fire.
Where two discourse, if the one's anger rise, / The man who lets the contest fall is wise. Euripides
Where we cannot invent, we may at least improve. Charles Caleb Colton
Where we love is home, home that our feet may leave, but not our hearts. Oliver Wendell Holmes
Where we're going we don't need roads. Christopher Lloyd
Where will you be sitting in eternity - smoking or non-smoking?
Where would we be without rhetorical questions?

Where you stand depends on where you sit. (Miles' Rule)
Where you stand on an issue depends upon where you sit.
Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Jesus Christ
Where you're going is more important than where you stand.
Whereas representation tries to absorb simulation by interpreting it as false representation, simulation envelops the edifice of representation as itself a simulacrum. Jean Baudrillard
Whereas the tactician knows what to do when there is something to do, it requires the strategist to know what to do when there is nothing to do. Abrahams
Whereof one cannot speak, thereof one must be silent. Ludwig Wittgenstein
Wheresoever you go, go with all your heart. Confucius
Wherever angels lead me, I will go as a willing traveler.
Wherever God erects a house of prayer, the Devil always builds a chapel there. Daniel Defoe
Wherever there is a secret, there must be something wrong.
Wherever they burn books, they will also, in the end, burn people. Heinrich Heine (1797-1856)
Wherever they go, and whatever happens to them on the way, in that enchanted place on the top of the forest, a little boy and his Bear will always be playing. A. A. Milne
Wherever you are - be all there. Jim Elliot
Wherever you are, it is your friends who make your world. Laura F.
Whether by the strike of the enemy or your own thrust, whether by the man who strikes or the sword that strikes, whether by position or rhythm, if your mind is diverted in any way, your actions will falter, you will be cut down. Takuan Soho
Whether he be original or a plagiarist, man is the novelist of himself. Jose Ortega y Gasset (1883-1955)
Whether in chains or in laurels, liberty knows nothing but victories. Douglas MacArthur
Whether man is disposed to yield to nature or to oppose her, he cannot do without a correct understanding of her language. Jean Rostand
Whether one believes in religion or not, whether one believes in this religion or that religion, the very purpose of our life is happiness, the very motion of our life is towards happiness. H. H. the Dalai Lama
Whether or not the standard of living made possible by mass production and in turn by mass circulation, is supported by and filled with the work of us hucksters, I guess is something that only history can decide. Leo Burnett
Whether they give or refuse, it delights women just the same to have been asked.
Whether we athletes liked it or not, the 4-minute mile had become rather like an Everest: a challenge to the human spirit, it was a barrier that seemed to defy all attempts to break it, an irksome reminder that men's striving might be in vain. Sir Roger Bannister
Whether women are better than men I cannot say but I can say they are certainly no worse. Golda Meir
Whether you can hear it or not, the universe is laughing behind your back.
Whether you think you can or think you can't you are right. Henry Ford (1863-1947)
Which came first, the chicken or the egg? Neither, it was the rooster.
Which dreams indeed are ambition, for the very substance of the ambitious is merely the shadow of a dream. William Shakespeare
Which is the best government? That which teaches us to govern ourselves. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe
Which is worse, ignorance or apathy? Who knows? Who cares?
Which was created first? Day or night?
While anyone can admit to themselves they were wrong, the true test is admission to someone else.
While day by day the overzealous student stores up facts for future use, He who has learned to trust nature finds need for ever fewer external directions. He will discard formula after formula, until he reaches the conclusion: Let nature take its course. By letting each thing act in accordance with its own nature, everything that needs to be done gets done. Lao-Tzu (570?-490? BC)

While grief is fresh, every attempt to divert only irritates. You must wait till it be digested, and then amusement will dissipate the remains of it. Samuel Johnson

While I breathe, I hope (Dum spiro spero). South Carolina's motto

While I take inspiration from the past, like most Americans, I live for the future. Ronald Reagan

While in jail a man worked on his alibiography. Henry Cate

While intelligent people can often simplify the complex, a fool is more likely to complicate the simple. Gerald W. Grummet

While it may be true that the best advertising is word-of-mouth, never lose sight of the fact it also can be the worst advertising. Jef I. Richards

While man's desires and aspirations stir he cannot choose but err. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

While money can't buy happiness, it certainly lets you choose your own form of misery.

While money doesn't buy love, it puts you in a great bargaining position.

While money isn't everything, it does keep you in touch with your children.

While most peoples' opinions change, the conviction of their correctness never does.

While one milks the ram, the other holds under the sieve. Chinese Proverb

While stands the Coliseum, Rome shall stand; / When falls the Coliseum, Rome shall fall; / And when Rome falls - the world. Lord Byron (1788-1824)

While the builders of the cages sleep with bullets, bars and stones, they do not see your road to freedom that you build with flesh and bone.

While the leg warms, the boot harms.

While the mind is in doubt it is driven this way and that by a slight impulse. Terence

While Thee I seek, protecting Power, / Be my vain wishes stilled; / And may this consecrated hour / With better hopes be filled. Helen Maria Williams (1762-1827)

While theoretically and technically television may be feasible, commercially and financially I consider it an impossibility, a development of which we need waste little time or dreaming. Lee De Forest

While there's life, there's hope. Marcus Tullius Cicero (106-43 BC) & Terence

While those whom devotion to abstract discussions has rendered unobservant of the facts are too ready to dogmatize on the basis of a few observations. Aristotle

While traveling near Tampa, Florida I passed the "Jehovah's Witness Assembly Hall" and was struck by the fact that that must be where they make them. Gene Spafford

While we are postponing, life speeds by. Seneca (B.C. 3-65 A.D.)

While we talk, hostile time flies away (Dum loquimur invida aetas fugerit). Horace

While we try to teach our children all about life, our children teach us what life is all about. Angela Schwindt

While you do not know, you are caught with your own snare. St. Jerome

While your friend holds you affectionately by both your hands you are safe, for you can watch both of his. Ambrose Bierce

Whiskey when you're sick makes you well. Whiskey makes you sick when you're well.

Whistling aloud to bear his courage up. Robert Blair

Whistling to keep myself from being afraid. John Dryden (1631-1701)

White dwarf seeks red giant for binary relationship.

Who am I to criticize another maniac?

Who are a little wise the best fools be. Dr. John Donne

Who asks whether the enemy were defeated by strategy or valor? Virgil

Who begins too much accomplishes little. German Proverb

Who, being loved, is poor? Oscar Wilde (1854-1900)

Who bravely dares must sometimes risk a fall. Tobias G. Smollett

Who, by vigor of mind almost divine, the motions and figures of the planets, the paths of comets, and the tides of the seas first demonstrated. If I have been able to see further, it was only because I stood on the shoulders of giants. Isaac Newton

Who can refute a sneer? William Paley (1743-1805)

Who cares about apathy anyway?

Who cares about procreation, as long as it tickles?

Who cares for fame and fortune / They're only passing things / But the touch of your lips on mine / Makes me feel like a king. Fred Wise & Ben Weisman

Who controls the past controls the future. Who controls the present controls the past. George Orwell

Who dares nothing, need hope for nothing. Johann von Schiller

Who dares to teach must never cease to learn. John Cotton Dana

Who dat who say "who dat" when I say "who dat"? Hattie McDaniel

Who depends on another man's table often dines late. Italian Proverb

Who does not love wine, women, and song remains a fool his whole life long. J. H. Voss (1751-1826)

Who does not trust enough will not be trusted.

Who drives fat oxen should himself be fat. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

Who gives to friends so much from Fate secures, That is the only wealth for ever yours. Martial (43-104 A.D.)

Who goeth a-borrowing goeth a-sorrowing.

Who gossips to you will gossip of you. Turkish proverb

Who got it, did get it; and who left it, did regret it. Algerian proverb

Who has a fair wife needs more than two eyes.

Who has aching teeth has ill tenants.

Who has not a good tongue, ought to have good hands. John Ray

Who holds a power but newly gained is ever stern of mood. Aeschylus

Who is born fair is born married. Giovanni Torriano

Who is it that can tell me who I am? William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Who is more busy than he that has least to do? Thomas Draxe

Who is more foolish? The fool or the fool that follows it? Alec Guinness

Who is not satisfied with himself will grow; who is not sure of his own correctness will learn many things. Chinese Proverb

Who is the happiest of men? He who values the merits of others, and in their pleasure takes joy, even as though t'were his own. Johann von Goethe

Who is wise? He that learns from everyone. Who is powerful? He that governs his passions. Who is rich? He who is content. Who is that? Nobody. Franklin (1706-1790)

Who is worse shod than the shoemaker's wife?

Who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, God's image, but thee who destroys a goode booke, kills reason it selfe. John Milton

Who knoweth if to die be but to live, And that called life by mortals be but death? Euripides (B.C. 480-406)

Who knows most, speaks least. Giovanni Torriano & Spanish Proverb

Who lies with dogs shall rise up with fleas. Latin Proverb

Who likes not his business, his business likes not him. T. Wright

Who lives by hope will die by hunger.

Who loves a garden loves a greenhouse too. William Cowper (1731-1800)

Who loves not women, wine and song, / Remains a fool his whole life long. Martin Luther

Who marries for love without money has good nights and sorry days.

Who mourns the falling of a single leaf ?

Who must account for himself and others, must know both. George Herbert
Who naught suspects is easily deceived. Edgar Degas (1834-1917)
Who needs companionship when you can sit alone in your room and drink?
Who never ate his bread in sorrow, / Who never spent the darksome hours / Weeping, and watching for the morrow, / He knows ye not, ye gloomy Powers. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe (1749-1832)
Who never climbed high never fell low. English Proverb
Who never wins can rarely lose, who never climbs as rarely falls. Whittier
Who overrefines his argument brings himself to grief. Edgar Degas (1834-1917)
Who remembers when we used to rest on Sunday instead of Monday? Kin Hubbard
Who says I am not under the special protection of God? Adolf Hitler
Who says in verse what others say in prose. Alexander Pope (1688-1744)
Who sees all beings in his own Self, and his own Self in all beings, loses all fear. Isa Upanishad
Who speaks not his mind is a pander. Hindustani Proverb
Who shall stand guard over the guards themselves? Juvenal
Who steals my purse steals trash. William Shakespeare
Who swims in sin shall sink in sorrow.
Who ties well, unties well. Spanish Proverb
Who to himself is law no law doth need, offends no law, and is a king indeed.
Who travels for love finds a thousand miles not longer than one. Japanese Proverb
Who Wants to Be a Millionaire? I don't. Cole Porter (1893-1964)
Who was that masked man?
Who was the guy who first looked at a cow and said, "I think I'll drink whatever comes out of these things when I squeeze 'em!""? Bill Watterson
Who will argue that 98.6 Fahrenheit is the right temperature for man? It may be that we are actually freezing: hence the pervading stupidity of mankind. At 110 or 115 degrees even archbishops might be intelligent. H. L. Mencken
Who will not suffer labor in this world, let him not be born. John Florio
Who with a little cannot be content, endures an everlasting punishment. Robert Herrick
Who would borrow when he has not, let him borrow when he has. Giovanni Torriano
Who would have predicted... that Dubcek, who brought the tanks in in Czechoslovakia in 1968 is now being proclaimed a hero in Czechoslovakia. Unbelievable. Vice President Dan Quayle
Who would wish to be among the commonplace crowd of the little famous - who are each individually lost in a throng made up of themselves? John Keats
Who you are speaks so loudly I can't hear what you're saying. Ralph Waldo Emerson
Who you think said something may depend on where you live. (Keyes Rules of Misquotation, Axiom 2, Corollary 2D)
Whoever concerns himself with the Greeks should be ever mindful that an unrestrained thirst for knowledge for its own sake barbarizes men just as much as hatred of knowledge. Friedrich
Nietzsche (1844-1900)
Whoever controls the media - the images - controls the culture. Allen Ginsberg
Whoever despises the high wisdom of mathematics nourishes himself on delusion and will never still the sophistic sciences whose only product is an eternal uproar. Leonardo da Vinci
Whoever fights monsters should see to it that in the process he does not become a monster. Nietzsche
Whoever follows a crowd will never be followed by a crowd.
Whoever gossips to you will gossip about you. Spanish Proverb
Whoever has lived long enough to find out what life is, knows how deep a debt of gratitude we owe to Adam, the first great benefactor of our race. He brought death into the world. Mark Twain
Whoever has the gold makes the rules. (Murphy's Golden Rule)

Whoever is not a misanthrope at forty can never have loved mankind. Sebastian Roch Nicolas Chamfort

Whoever kindles the flames of intolerance in America is lighting a fire underneath his own home. Harold E. Stassen

Whoever loves becomes humble. Those who love have, so to speak, pawned a part of their narcissism. Sigmund Freud

Whoever performs only his duty is not doing his duty. Bahya ibn Pakuda

Whoever profits by the crime is guilty of it.

Whoever rows the boat doesn't have time to rock it.

Whoever said, It's not whether you win or lose that counts, probably lost! Martina Navratilova

Whoever said money can't buy happiness didn't know where to shop. Gertrude Stein (1874-1946)

Whoever said you can't buy happiness forgot little puppies. Gene Hill

Whoever serves his country well has no need of ancestors. Voltaire

Whoever undertakes to set himself up as a judge of Truth and knowledge is shipwrecked by the laughter of the gods. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

Whoever would overthrow the liberty of a nation must begin by subduing the freeness of speech. Benjamin Franklin

Whom God wishes to destroy he first deprives of reason. Euripides (?)

Whom God wishes to destroy, he first drives mad.

Whom the gods destroy, they first make mad. Euripides (?)

Whom the gods hate, they make a teacher.

Whom the Gods love, die young.

Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad.

Whom they have injured they also hate. Seneca

Whom we love best, to them we can say least.

Whoops, stepped on a frog.

Who's afraid of Virginia Woolf? Edward Albee (1928-)

Who's kidding whom? What's the difference between Giant and Jumbo? Quart and full quart? Two-ounce and big two-ounce? What does Extra Long mean? What's a tall 24-inches? And what busy shopper can tell? Marya Mannes

Who's more foolish? The fool or the fool who follows him?

Who's on first?

Whoredom and grace ne'er dwelt in one place. English Proverb

Whose cruel idea was it for the word "lisp" to have an "s" in it?

Whoso would be a man, must be a nonconformist. He who would gather immortal palms must not be hindered by the name of goodness, but must explore if it be goodness. Nothing is at last sacred but the integrity of your own mind. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Why are a wise man and wise guy opposites?

Why are builders afraid to have a 13th floor; but book publishers aren't afraid to have a Chapter 11?

Why are cigarettes sold in gas stations when smoking is prohibited there?

Why are creditor's memories better than debtors?

Why are microphones so big?

Why are our days numbered and not, say, lettered. Woody Allen

Why are there flotation devices under plane seats instead of parachutes?

Why are there interstate highways in Hawaii?

Why are there no blue M&M's?

Why are they called apartments when they are so close to each other?

Why are they called 'stands' when they're made for sitting?

Why are today's rough times always tomorrow's good old days?

Why argue when we both know I'm right?

Why be difficult when with a bit of effort you can be impossible?
Why be difficult when, with a bit of effort, you could be impossible?
Why bother building any more nuclear warheads until we use the ones we have?
Why buy a product that takes 2000 flushes to get rid of?
Why can you only have two doors on a chicken coop? If it had four it would be a chicken sedan.
Why can't you make another word using all the letters in "anagram"?
Why comes temptation but for man to meet / And master and make crouch beneath his foot, / And so be pedestaled in triumph? Robert Browning (1812-1889)
Why could Superman stop bullets with his chest, but he always ducked when someone threw a gun at him?
Why did God give us ten fingers and only two nostrils?
Why did kamikaze pilots wear helmets?
Why did Pee Wee get arrested for something Madonna gets paid to do on stage?
Why did the Lord give us so much quickness of movement unless it was to avoid responsibility with?
Why do 10 lbs of groceries generate 50 lbs of garbage?
Why do banks charge you a "non-sufficient funds fee" on money they already know you don't have?
Why do expenses always rise to meet income?
Why do fat chance and slim chance mean the same thing?
Why do flammable and inflammable mean the same thing?
Why do men die before their wives? They want to.
Why do mirrors reverse left and right, but not up and down?
Why do mountain climbers rope themselves together? To prevent the sensible ones from going home.
Why do noses run and feet smell?
Why do overlook and oversee mean opposite things?
Why do people with closed minds always open their mouths?
Why do scientists call it research when looking for something new?
Why do "slow down" and "slow up" mean the same thing?
Why do some people type "cool" as "kewl"?
Why do the needles used in lethal injections have to be sterile?
Why do they always start off the evening news with "Good evening" when all they do is tell you why it isn't?
Why do they call them "apartments" when they are all stuck together?
Why do they call them briefings when they take so long?
Why do they call them buildings when they are already built?
Why do they put Braille dots on the keypad of the drive-up ATM?
Why do they put the Gideon Bibles only in the bedrooms, where it's usually too late, and not in the barroom downstairs? Christopher Morley (1890-1957)
Why do they sterilize the needles for lethal injections?
Why do those that pay the least complain the most?
Why do tourists go to the tops of tall buildings and then put money into telescopes so they can see things on the ground close-up?
Why do 'tug'boats push their barges?
Why do we drive on parkways and park on driveways?
Why do we play in recitals and recite in plays?
Why do we put suits in a garment bag and garments in a suitcase?
Why do we say something is out of whack? What is a whack?
Why do we say something's out of order when it's broken but we never say in of order when it works?

Why do we sing 'Take me out to the ball game', when we are already there?
Why do we study poverty instead of wealth?
Why do we wash bath towels? Aren't we clean when we use them?
Why do writers write? Because it isn't there. Thomas Berger
Why do you always find that lost something in the last place you look?
Why do you change your image so often? "To entertain myself." Madonna
Why do you have so much quickness of movement if not to avoid responsibility?
Why do you lead me a wild-goose chase? Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)
Why do you need a driver's license to buy liquor when you can't drink and drive?
Why do you park on a driveway and drive on a parkway? Larry Anderson
Why does a ship carry cargo and a truck carries shipments?
Why does a slight tax increase cost you two hundred dollars and a substantial tax cut save you thirty cents. Peg Bracken
Why does an alarm clock "go off" when it begins ringing?
Why does bread always fall butter side down?
Why does "cleave" mean both split apart and stick together?
Why does flammable and inflammable mean the same thing?
Why does love have to be so sad?
Why does man kill? He kills for food. And not only food: frequently there must be a beverage. Woody Allen
Why does pouring oil on the sea make it clear and calm? Is it for that the winds, slipping the smooth oil, have no force, nor cause any waves? Plutarch (c.46-c.120 A. D.)
Why does "slow down" and "slow up" mean the same thing?
Why does sour cream have an expiration date? Larry Anderson
Why does the Chinese ideogram for trouble symbolize two women living under one roof?
Why does the other lane always move faster?
Why does X stand for a kiss and O stand for a hug?
Why does your nose run and your feet smell?
Why doesn't glue stick to the inside of the bottle?
Why doesn't life come with subtitles?
Why doesn't "onomatopoeia" sound like what it is?
Why doesn't Tarzan have a beard?
Why doesn't the fattest man in the world become a hockey goalie?
Why doesn't the fellow who says, "I'm no speechmaker," let it go at that instead of giving a demonstration. Kim Hubbard
Why don't cannibals eat clowns? Because they taste funny.
Why don't "minimalists" find a shorter name for themselves?
Why don't sheep shrink in the rain?
Why don't somebody print the truth about our present economic condition? We spent years of wild buying on credit, everything under the sun, whether we needed it or not, and now we are having to pay for it, howling like a pet coon. This would be a great world to dance in of we didn't have to pay the fiddler. Will Rogers
Why don't we say "why" instead of "how come"?
Why don't you need a driver's license to buy liquor when you can't drink and drive?
Why experiment on animals with so many lawyers out there?
Why grab possessions like thieves, or divide them like socialists, when you can ignore them like wise men? Natalie Clifford Barney
Why has not man a microscopic eye? / For this plain reason, man is not a fly. Alexander Pope (1688-1744)

Why hate someone for the color of their skin when there are much better reasons to hate them.
Denis Leary

Why, I ask, isn't it possible that advertising as a whole is a fantastic fraud, presenting an image of America taken seriously by no one, least of all by the advertising men who create it? David Riesman

Why in a country of free speech, are there phone bills?

Why in judging a man do you judge him all wrapped up in a package? He displays to us only parts that are not at all his own, and hides from us those by which alone one can truly judge of his value. It is the worth of the blade that you seek to know, not of the scabbard; perhaps you will not give a penny for it if you have unsheathed it. You must judge him by himself, not by his finery. Michel de Montaigne (1533-1592)

Why is "abbreviated" such a long word?

Why is "abbreviation" such a long word?

Why is "crazy man" an insult, while to insert a comma and say "Crazy, man!" is a compliment?

Why is dyslexic so hard to spell?

Why is "easy listening" so hard to listen to?

Why is it called a "building" when it is already built?

Why is it called a TV "set" when you only get one?

Why is it called lipstick if you can still move your lips?

Why is it called "rush hour" if it's so damn slow?

Why is it called tourist season if we can't shoot them?

Why is it drug addicts and computer affectionados are both called users? Clifford Stoll

Why is it men are permitted to be obsessed about their work, but women are only permitted to be obsessed about men? Barbra Streisand

Why is it so hard to remember how to spell MNEMONIC?

Why is it that?

Why is it that night falls, and dawn cracks, but day breaks?

Why is it that no word in the English language rhymes with month, orange, silver, or purple?

Why is it that the word "gullible" isn't in the dictionary?

Why is it that there are so many more horses' asses than horses? Liddy

Why is it that we recite at a play and play at a recital?

Why is it that we rejoice at a birth and grieve at a funeral? Is it because we are not the person concerned? Mark Twain

Why is it that we park in driveways and drive on parkways?

Why is it that when you transport something by car, it's called a shipment, but when you transport something by ship, it's called cargo?

Why is it that when you're driving and looking for an address, you turn down the volume on the radio?

Why is it that writers write but fingers don't fing, grocers don't groce and hammers don't ham?

Why is it that you must wait until night to call it a day?

Why is it that you only see a Road Works sign, when the road doesn't work?

Why is it when two planes almost hit each other it is called a "near miss"? Shouldn't it be called a "near hit"?

Why is it when we talk to God we're said to be praying, but when God talks to us we're schizophrenic? Lily Tomlin

Why is it, whenever a group of internationalists get together, they always decide that Uncle Sam must be the goat? Bertrand H. Snell

Why is it, whether you sit up or sit down, the result is the same?

Why is lemon juice made with artificial flavors, but dishwashing liquid made with real lemons?

Why is man alone liable to grow into a dotard? Is it not because he returns, in this, to his primitive state; and that, while the brute, which has acquired nothing and has therefore nothing to lose, still retains the force of instinct, man, who loses, by age or accident, all that his perfectibility had enabled him to gain, falls by this means lower than the brutes themselves? It would be melancholy, were we forced to admit that this distinctive and almost unlimited faculty is the source of all human misfortunes; that it is this which, in time, draws man out of his original state, in which he would have spent his days insensibly in peace and innocence; that it is this faculty, which, successively producing in different ages his discoveries and his errors, his vices and his virtues, makes him at length a tyrant both over himself and over nature. Jean Jacques Rousseau (1712-1778)

Why is "palindrome" spelled "palindrome" and not "palindromeemordnilap"?

Why is the alphabet in that order? Is it because of that song? Steven Wright

Why is the plural of goose-geese, and not the plural of moose-meese?

Why is the third hand on a watch called a second hand?

Why is the virus that causes the common cold hard to find, when it's so easy to catch?

Why is the word "abbreviate" so long?

Why is there always so much month left at the end of the money ?

Why is there an expiration date on SOUR cream?

Why is there only ONE Monopolies Commission?

Why is there so much month left at the end of the month?

Why is when you sit around the house, when you don't actually sit around the house?

Why isn't "palindrome" spelled the same way backwards?

Why isn't phonetic spelled the way it sounds?

Why isn't "phonetic" spelled the way it's said?

Why isn't there a special name for the tops of your feet? Lily Tomlin

Why isn't there mouse-flavored cat food?

Why level downward to our dullest perception always, and praise that as common sense? The commonest sense is the sense of men asleep, which they express by snoring. Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862)

Why listen to reason when insanity prevails?

Why long for glory, which one despises as soon as one has it ?

Why look for more knowledge when you do not pay attention to what you know?

Why love if losing hurts so much... I have no answers anymore... only the life I have lived... The pain now is part of the happiness (then). Anthony Hopkins

Why make a principle of what you yourself are and must be? Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Why make me plead / For something you need / I want to bring back the thrill / Give me the right. Wise & Blagman

Why men can't bear children - story at 11:00. John Quill Taylor

Why not go out on a limb? Isn't that where the fruit is? Frank Scully

Why not move the political conventions to one of the winter months so all that hot air won't go to waste?

Why rob banks? That's where the money is. Willie Sutton (1901-1980)

Why should a rich man steal? John Ray

Why should I care about posterity? What's posterity ever done for me? Julius Henry (Groucho) Marx (1895-1977)

Why should I waste my time reliving the past when I can spend it worrying about the future?

Why should not conscience have vacation / As well as other courts o' th' nation? Samuel Butler (1600-1680)

Why should the Devil have all the good tunes? Rowland Hill (1744-1833)

Why should we live with such hurry and waste of life? We are determined to be starved before we are hungry. Men say that a stitch in time saves nine, and so they take a thousand stitches today to save nine tomorrow. Henry David Thoreau

Why should you never iron a 4-leaf clover? You don't want to press your luck. Daryl Stout

Why shouldn't truth be stranger than fiction? Fiction, after all, has to stick to the possibilities. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Why, that all those mercenary individuals, whom the many call Sophists and whom they deem to be their adversaries, do, in fact, teach nothing but the opinion of the many, that is to say, the opinions of their assemblies; and this is their wisdom. Plato

Why, they couldn't hit an elephant at this dist... Gen. John Sedgewick (last words)

Why thus longing, thus forever sighing / For the far-off, unattain'd, and dim, / While the beautiful all round thee lying / Offers up its low, perpetual hymn? Harriet W. Sewall (1819-1889)

Why was I born with such contemporaries? Oscar Wilde

Why was I with her? She reminds me of you. In fact, she reminds me more of you than you do! Julius Henry (Groucho) Marx (1895-1977)

Why waste time learning, when ignorance is instantaneous? Bill Waterson

Why would anyone want to be called Later?

Why wouldn't an enhanced deterrent, a more stable peace, a better prospect to denying the ones who enter conflict in the first place to have a reduction of offensive systems and an introduction to defensive capability. I believe that is the route this country will eventually go. Vice President Dan Quayle

Wicked men obey from fear; good men, from love. Aristotle

Wicked people cannot sleep unless they have done something wrong. Solomon

Wicked people do not really gain anything, but if you do what is right, you are certain to be rewarded. Solomon

Wickedness is a myth invented by good people to account for the curious attraction of others. Gideon Wurdz

Wickedness may prosper for awhile, but in the long run, he that sets all the knaves at work will pay them. L'Estrange (1616-1704)

Wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction. New Testament

Wild ducks and tomorrow both come without calling. Russian Proverb

Wild moonlight fills the whole courtyard; / Drop by drop falls the crystal dew. / One by one the moving stars appear. / The fleeting glowworms sparkle in dark corners. / The waterfowl on the riverbank call to one another... Tu Fu (713-770)

Wild oats make a bad autumn crop.

Will is character in action. William McDougall

Will is no skill.

Will will have will, though will woe win.

Will your answer to this question be no?

Willful waste brings woeful want. Thomas Fuller

Wilt thou seal up the avenues of ill? Pay every debt as if God wrote the bill. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Win any way as long as you can get away with it. Nice guys finish last. Leo Durocher

Win with humility; lose with grace.

Win without boasting and lose without excuse.

Wind is to fire like distance is to love; it extinguishes the small and enflames the great.

Wind to thy wings. Light to thy path. Dreams to thy heart.

Windows have ears; doors have holes. Thai Proverb

Windy March and rainy April bring a flowery and beautiful May. Spanish Proverb

Wine and youth increase love.

Wine is the best broom for troubles. Japanese Proverb

Winners never quit and quitters never win.

Winning is a habit. Unfortunately, so is losing. Vincent Thomas Lombardi (1913-1970)

Winning is not a sometime thing; it's an all the time thing. You don't win once in a while; you don't do things right once in a while; you do them right all the time. Winning is a habit. Vince Lombardi

Winning is not everything, but the effort to win is. Zig Ziglar

Winning isn't everything, but losing isn't anything.

Winning isn't everything, but the will to win is everything. Vince Lombardi (1913-1970)

Winning isn't everything, but then losing is nothing.

Winning isn't everything, but wanting to win is. Vince Lombardi

Winning isn't everything, it's the only thing. Red Sanders

Winning may not be everything, but losing has little to recommend it. Dianne Feinstein

Wisdom and understanding can only become the possession of individual men by travelling the old road of observation, attention, perseverance, and industry. Samuel Smiles

Wisdom and virtue are like the two wheels of a cart. Japanese Proverb

Wisdom begins in wonder. Socrates

Wisdom comes by disillusionment. George Santayana

Wisdom consists of knowing when to avoid perfection.

Wisdom consists of letting the non-essentials pass by.

Wisdom has never made a bigot, but learning has. Josh Billings

Wisdom is a comb given to a man once he is bald. Irish proverb

Wisdom is a screen behind which the philosopher saves himself because he has become weary, old, cold, hard - as a premonition that the end is near, like the prudence animals have before they die: they go off by themselves, become still, choose solitude, hide in caves, and become wise. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Wisdom is knowledge which has become a part of one's being. Orison S. Marden

Wisdom is knowing the truth, and telling it.

Wisdom is knowing what to do next.

Wisdom is knowing what to do next; virtue is doing it. David Starr Jordan

Wisdom is knowing what to do with what you know.

Wisdom is like an open oven: The food is gone, but the heat remains.

Wisdom is long, violence is short. Carl van Doren

Wisdom is more valuable than jewels; nothing you could want can compare with it. Solomon

Wisdom is not good till it is bought. John Bunyan

Wisdom is oftentimes nearer when we stoop than when we soar. William Wordsworth

Wisdom is one thing. It is to know the thought by which all things are steered through all things. Herakleitos

Wisdom is only happening to guess right. Euripides

Wisdom is perishable. Unlike information or knowledge, it cannot be stored in a computer or recorded in a book. It expires with each passing generation. Sid Taylor

Wisdom is the supreme part of happiness. Sophocles

Wisdom outweighs any wealth. Sophocles

Wisdom: to live in the present, plan for the future, and profit from the past.

Wisdom too often never comes, and so one ought not to reject it merely because it comes late. Felix Frankfurter

Wise anger is like fire from a flint: there is great ado to get it out; and when it does come, it is out again immediately. Matthew Henry

Wise kings generally have wise counsellors; and he must be a wise man himself who is capable of distinguishing one. Diogenes

Wise man see more from bottom of well than fool from mountain top.

Wise man see more from mountain top than fool from bottom of well.
Wise men change their minds, fools never.
Wise men don't need advice. Fools won't take it. Franklin (1706-1790)
Wise men have their mouth in their heart, fools their heart in their mouth.
Wise men learn by other men's mistakes; fools, by their own. Plautus
Wise men learn more from fools, than fools from the wise.
Wise men make proverbs and fools repeat them. Palmer
Wise men never sit and wail their loss, but cheerily seek how to redress their harms. William Shakespeare
Wise men propose, and fools determine.
Wise men say only fools rush in but I can't help falling in love with you. George Weiss, Hugo Peretti & Luigi Creatore
Wise men silent, folks talk.
Wise men speak little; therefore nature has given men two ears and one tongue, to hear more than they speak. Demosthenes
Wise men talk because they have something to say; fools, because they have to say something.
Wise men will gain an honorable reputation, but stupid men will only add to their own disgrace. Solomon
Wise sayings often fall on barren ground, but a kind word is never thrown away. Arthur Helps
Wish is father to the thought.
Wishful thinking is far less likely to produce results than direct action.
Wishing without work is like fishing without bait.
Wit has truth in it. Wisecracking is simply calisthenics with words. Dorothy Parker
Wit has truth in it; wisecracking is simply word calisthenics.
Wit is educated insolence. Aristoteles (384-322 B.C)
Wit is the salt of conversation, not the food. William Hazlitt
Wit makes its own welcome, and levels all distinctions. No dignity, no learning, no force of character, can make any stand against good wit. Ralph Waldo Emerson
Wit ought to be a glorious treat like caviar; never spread it about like marmalade. Noel Coward
Witches and harlots come out at night. English Proverb
Witches cast the devil's nets. English Proverb
With a gentleman I am always a gentleman and a half, and with a fraud I try to be a fraud and a half. Otto von Bismarck
With a rubber duck, one's never alone.
With all their faults, trade-unions have done more for humanity than any other organization of men that ever existed. Clarence Darrow (1857-1938)
With an eye made quiet by the power of harmony, and the deep power of joy, we see into the life of things. William Wordsworth
With books and money plac'd for show / Like nest-eggs to make clients lay, / And for his false opinion pay. Samuel Butler (1600-1680)
With both feet on the ground you won't get far. Loesje
With clothes the new are best, with friends the old are best.
With courage you will dare to take risks, have the strength to be compassionate and the wisdom to be humble. Courage is the foundation of integrity. Keshavan Nair
With Democrats in power, man exploits man. With Republicans, just the opposite.
With effervescing opinions, the quickest way to let them get flat is to let them get exposed to the air. Oliver Wendell Holmes
With every deed you are sowing a seed, though the harvest you may not see. Ella Wheeler Wilcox

With every passing hour our solar system comes forty-three thousand miles closer to globular cluster M13 in the constellation Hercules, and still there are some misfits who continue to insist that there is no such thing as progress. Ransom K. Ferm

With every wish there comes a curse.

With equal passion I have sought knowledge. I have wished to understand the hearts of men. I have wished to know why the stars shine. And I have tried to apprehend the Pythagorean power by which number holds sway about the flux. A little of this, but not much, I have achieved. Bertrand Russell

With fame, you know, you can read about yourself, somebody else's ideas about you, but what's important is how you feel about yourself - for survival and living day to day with what comes up. Marilyn Monroe

With increased opportunity comes increased stress. The stress comes from multiple conflicting demands and very little in the way of role models. Madeline Hemmings

With just enough of learning to misquote. Lord Byron (1788-1824)

With liberty and justice for all who can afford it.

With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in. Abraham Lincoln

With me a change of trouble is as good as a vacation. William Lloyd George

With me everything turns into mathematics. (Omnia apud me mathematica fiunt). René Descartes

With me poetry has not been a purpose, but a passion. Edgar Allan Poe

With money in your pocket, you are wise, and you are handsome, and you sing well too. Jewish Proverb

With money one may command devils; without it one cannot even summon a man. Chinese Proverb

With money you are a dragon; with no money, a worm. Chinese Proverb

With my full philosophical rucksack I can only climb slowly up the mountain of mathematics. Ludwig Wittgenstein

With my Stealth Modem, you'll never see me coming.

With no ads, who would pay for the media? The good fairy? Samuel Thurm

With our industry being watched so carefully by governmental agencies, with the FTC ready to pounce on every claim we make, what we CAN say in our ads is forever narrowing and the sharpest tool left for us is HOW we say it. William Bernbach

With people of only moderate ability modesty is mere honesty; but with those who possess great talent it is hypocrisy. Arthur Schopenhauer

With prayer as with other gifts from God, it is not what you get that counts, it's what you do with it.

With regard to whatever objects give you delight, are useful, or are deeply loved, remember to tell yourself of what general nature they are, beginning from the most insignificant things. If, for example, you are fond of a specific ceramic cup, remind yourself that it is only ceramic cups in general of which you are fond. Then, if it breaks, you will not be disturbed. If you kiss your child, or your wife, say that you only kiss things which are human, and thus you will not be disturbed if either of them dies. Epictetus

With respect to the form of the limitation and the ought, two prejudices can be criticised in more detail. First of all, great stress is laid on the limitations of thought, of reason, and so on, and it is asserted that the limitation cannot be transcended. To make such an assertion is to be unaware that the very fact that something is determined as a limitation implies that the limitation is already transcended. G. W. F. Hegel (1770-1831)

With seven nurses the child loses it eye. Russian Proverb

With sixty staring me in the face, I have developed inflammation of the sentence structure and definite hardening of the paragraphs. James Thurber

With songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. Old Testament

With the exception of the geometric series, there does not exist in all of mathematics a single infinite series whose sum has been determined rigorously. Niels Abel

With the pride of an artist, you must blow against the walls of every power that exists, the small trumpet of your defiance. Norman Mailer

With what fortitude we bear the suffering of others. Thomas McKeown

Withhold from screaming when you hear the phrase "let's just be friends..."

Without a doubt there are women who would vote intelligently. There are also men who knit socks beautifully. Mencken

Without a goal to work toward, we will not get there. Natasha Josefowitz

Without a rich heart wealth is an ugly beggar. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Without adventure civilization is in full decay. Alfred North Whitehead

Without ambition one starts nothing.

Without civic morality communities perish; without personal morality their survival has no value. Bertrand Russell

Without courage, wisdom bears no fruit. Baltasar Gracian

Without danger we cannot get beyond danger. Publilius Syrus

Without death and decay, how could life go on? John Burroughs

Without economy none can be rich, and with it few will be poor. Samuel Johnson

Without fools there would be no wisdom.

Without fear, there is no courage. Jeffrey Smith

Without friends no one would choose to live, though he had all other goods. Aristotle (384-322 BC)

Without going out-of-doors, one can know all he needs to know. Without even looking out of his window, one can grasp the nature of everything. Without going beyond his own nature, one can achieve ultimate wisdom. Therefore, the intelligent man knows all he needs to know without going away, And sees all he needs to see without looking elsewhere, And does all he needs to do without undue exertion. Lao-Tzu (570?-490? BC)

Without humility there can be no humanity. John Buchan

Without ice cream life and fame are meaningless.

Without integrity, no company can have positive word of mouth. Jay Abraham

Without knowing the force of words, it is impossible to know men. Confucius (551-479 BC)

Without life, Biology itself would be impossible.

Without love intelligence is dangerous; without intelligence love is not enough.

Without marriage, love is a cheese souffle.

Without moral and intellectual independence, there is no anchor for national independence. David Ben-Gurion

Without music, life would be a mistake. Friedrich Nietzsche

Without my sense of humor, I doubt I'd have much sense at all.

Without oars, you cannot cross in a boat. Japanese Proverb

Without publicity there can be no public support, and without public support every nation must decay. Benjamin Disraeli

Without risk there is no opportunity for gain.

Without self-knowledge, without understanding the working and functions of his machine, man cannot be free, he cannot govern himself and he will always remain a slave. George Gurdjieff

Without sleep, no health. English Proverb

Without tact you can learn nothing. Benjamin Disraeli

Without the human community one single human being cannot survive. Dalai Lama

Without the most clear-eyed adjustments we fall and get crushed. A man must stay sober: not always, but most of the time. Clarence Day

Without trust, words become the hollow sound of a wooden gong. With trust, words become life itself. John Harold

Without wood, a fire goes out; without gossip, quarrelling stops. Solomon

Wives are young men's mistresses, companions for middle age, and old men's nurses. Francis Bacon (1561-1626)

Woe to the hand that shed this costly blood. William Shakespeare

Woe to the makers of literal translations, who by rendering every word weaken the meaning! It is indeed by so doing that we can say the letter kills and the spirit gives life. Voltaire (1694-1778)

Woe to the man whose heart has not learned while young to hope, to love and to put its trust in life. Joseph Conrad

Woman: A person who will look in a mirror any time - except when she's pulling out of a parking space. Atchison

Woman : creature who acts nice to you because she doesn't like you, or mean, because she does.

Woman learns how to hate in proportion as she forgets how to charm. Friedrich Nietzsche

Woman: She needs no eulogy; she speaks for herself.

Woman: Someone who reaches for a chair when answering the telephone.

Woman was God's second mistake. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Woman's at best a contradiction still. Alexander Pope (1688-1744)

Woman's honor is nice as ermine; it will not bear a soil. John Dryden

Women always worry about the things that men forget; men always worry about the things that women remember.

Women and cats will do as they please and men and dogs should relax and get used to the idea. Robert A. Heinlein

Women and foxes, being weak, are distinguished by superior tact. Ambrose Bierce

Women and guitars, almost always out of tune. Spanish Proverb

Women and guitars, you have to have a knack for tuning them. Spanish Proverb

Women and music should never be dated. Goldsmith

Women are great leaders. You are following one

Women are great talkers.

Women are highly dangerous in inexperienced hands.

Women are like guitars - it depends on who is "playing" them. Mexican Proverb

Women are like guitars, when they're not being played (touched) they don't produce any sound. Mexican Proverb

Women are meant to be loved, not to be understood. Oscar Wilde

Women are necessary evils.

Women are never disarmed by compliments. Men always are. That is the difference between the sexes. Oscar Wilde

Women are not forgiven for ageing. Robert Redford's lines of distinction are my old-age wrinkles. Jane Fonda

Women are the quickest to learn the 3R's: this is R's, that's R's, everything's R's !

Women are wiser than men because they know less and understand more. James Stephens

Women: Can't live with 'em, can't shoot 'em...

Women decide the larger questions of life correctly and quickly, not because they are lucky guessers, not because they practise a magic inherited from savagery, but simply and solely because they have sense. They see at a glance what most men could not see with searchlights and telescopes. H. L. (Henry Lewis) Mencken

Women do not like timid men. Cats do not like prudent rats. Henry Lewis Mencken

Women doctors have the advantage of being able to combine medical guesswork with feminine intuition.

Women dress alike all over the world: they dress to be annoying to other women. Elsa Schiaparelli

Women have a much better time than men because there are more things forbidden them. Oscar Wilde

Women have got to make the world safe for men since men have made it so darned unsafe for women. Lady Nancy Astor

Women have more imagination than men - they need it to tell us how wonderful we are.

Women have the feeling that since they didn't make the rules, the rules have nothing to do with them. Diane Johnson

Women laugh when they can, and weep when they will. Baldwin

Women like silent men. They think they're listening.

Women like to attend weddings, to hear the big, juicy promises the bridegroom makes. E. W. Howe

Women love the simple things in life - men.

Women most enjoy receiving the kind of letters that should never be written.

Women never get the benefit of a doubt. If they don't look good they might as well be bad. Kin Hubbard

Women see better than men. Men see lazily, if they do not expect to act. Women see quite without any wish to act. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Women talk the whole day without knowing anything.

Women tend to have excellent memories for tasks that males generally forget.

Women understand men better than any man understands women. Since knowledge is power, woman has a control over man which man never has over her. J. A. Spender

Women want mediocre men, and men are working hard to become as mediocre as possible. Margaret Mead

Women want one man to meet every need; men want every woman to meet one need.

Women wear the breeches. Robert Burton (1576-1640)

Women who desire to be like men, lack ambition.

Women who seek to be equal to men lack ambition. (Bumper sticker)

Women who seek to be equal with men lack ambition. Timothy Leary

Women who want to be equal to men lack ambition.

Women will never be as successful as men because they have no wives to advise them. Dick Van Dyke

Women's advice leads to disaster. Assamese Proverb

Women's creed: Men are like linoleum. If you lay them right the first time, you can walk on them for 20 years.

Women's intuition is the result of millions of years of not thinking. Rupert Hughes

Women's libbers are ok, I just wouldn't want my sister to marry one.

Women's minds are cleaner than men's - they change them more often. Oliver Herford

Women's taste in neckties is as bad as men's in chintz.

Wonder is the basis of worship. Thomas Carlyle

Wonder is the daughter of ignorance.

Wonders will never cease.

Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness, and its power of endurance the cheerful man will do more in the same time, will do it better, will preserve it longer, than the sad or sullen. Thomas Carlyle

Word a mout' no load 'pon head. Jamaican Proverb

Word is a shadow of deed. Democritus

Word of mouth is the best medium of all. William Bernbach

Words and feathers the wind carries away.

Words are but wind.

Words are heavy like rocks... they weigh you down. If birds could talk, they wouldn't be able to fly. Marilyn

Words are like leaves; and where they most abound, / Much fruit of sense beneath is rarely found.

Alexander Pope (1688-1744)

Words are like spears, once they leave your lips they never come back. Yoruban Proverb

Words are men's daughters, but God's sons are things. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

Words are, of course, the most powerful drug used by mankind. Rudyard Kipling

Words are often seen hunting for an idea, but ideas are never seen hunting for words. Josh Billings

(H.W. Shaw)

Words are potent weapons for all causes, good or bad. Manly P. Hall

Words are silver, silence in golden. Tunisian Arabic Proverb

Words are the coins making up the currency of sentences, and there are always too many small coins. Jules Renard

Words are the daughters of earth, and deeds are the sons of heaven. Indian Saying

Words are the most powerful drug used by mankind. Rudyard Kipling

Words are the only things that last forever. William Hazlitt

Words are the physicians of a mind diseased. Aeschylus (525-456 BC)

Words are the voice of the heart.

Words are tools which automatically carve concepts out of experience. Julian Sorrell Huxley

Words are wise men's counters, they do but reckon with them, but they are the money of fools.

Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679)

Words, as is well known, are great foes of reality. Joseph Conrad (1857-1924)

Words bind men.

Words differently arranged have a different meaning and meanings differently arranged have a different effect. Blaise Pascal

Words form the thread on which we string our experiences. Aldous Huxley

Words give you a medium, if you will, and make your message part of the human thought process.

Words are as portable as the human being who hears them. James J. Jordan, Jr.

Words have a longer life than deeds.

Words have power.

Words hurt more than swords.

Words may pass, but blows fall heavy. John Ray

Words mean more than we mean to express when we use them: so a whole book ought to mean a great deal more than the writer meant. Lewis Carroll

Words must be weighed, not counted. Polish Proverb

Words often do worse than blows. German Proverb

Words, once they are printed, have a life of their own. Carol Burnett

Words - so innocent and powerless as they are, as standing in a dictionary, how potent for good and evil they become in the hands of one who knows how to combine them. Nathaniel Hawthorne

Words that enlighten are more precious than jewels. Hazrat Inayat Khan

Words without actions are the assassins of idealism. Herbert Hoover

Work 8 hours, sleep 8 hours; but not the same 8 hours.

Work and play are words used to describe the same thing under differing conditions. Mark Twain

Work consists of whatever a body is obliged to do, and play consists of whatever a body is not obliged to do. Mark Twain

Work expands to fill available time. (Parkinson's First Law)

Work expands to fill the time available for its completion.

Work fascinates me. I could just sit and watch it for hours.

Work harder on being lovable than on being loved.

Work is a form of nervousness. Don Herold

Work is either fun or drudgery. It depends on your attitude. I like fun. Colleen C. Barrett

Work is love made visible. Kahlil Gibran

Work is of two kinds: first, altering the position of matter at or near the earth's surface relatively to other such matter; second, telling other people to do so. The first kind is unpleasant and ill paid; the second is pleasant and highly paid. Bertrand Russell

Work is the curse of the drinking classes. Oscar Wilde

Work is the grand cure for all maladies and miseries that ever beset mankind - honest work, which you intend getting done. Carlyle (1795-1881)

Work is the greatest thing in the world, so we should always save some of it for tomorrow. Don Herold

Work is the meat of life, pleasure the dessert. Bertie Charles Forbes

Work is the open sesame of every portal, the great equalizer in the world, the true philosopher's stone which transmutes all the base metal of humanity into gold. Sir William Osler

Work is the province of cattle. Dorothy Parker

Work like you don't need the money. Love like you've never been hurt. Dance like nobody's watching. Satchel Paige

Work makes free (Arbeit macht frei). Nazi Slogan

Work off excess energy. Steal something heavy.

Work out your own salvation. Do not depend on others. Buddha

Work out your salvation with diligence. Buddha

Work smarter and not harder and be careful of your spelling.

Work: The worst thing you can do for your health. Howard Brubaker

Work to survive, survive by consuming, survive to consume; the hellish cycle is complete. Raoul Vaneigem

Workers these days don't mind putting in an honest day's work. Trouble is, it takes 'em a week to do it.

Working in the theatre has a lot in common with unemployment. Arthur Gingold

World-wide practice of Conservation and the fair and continued access by all nations to the resources they need are the two indispensable foundations of continuous plenty and of permanent peace. Gifford Pinchot

Worldly riches are like nuts; many clothes are torn getting them, many a tooth broke in cracking them, but never a belly filled with eating them. Ralph Venning

Worries go better with soup than without. Yiddish Proverb

Worry a little bit every day and in a lifetime you will lose a couple of years. If something is wrong, fix it if you can. But train yourself not to worry. Worry never fixes anything. Mary Hemingway

Worry gives a small thing a big shadow. Swedish Proverb

Worry is interest paid in advance for a debt you may never owe.

Worry is interest paid on trouble before it is due. William Ralph Inge

Worry is like a rocking chair - it gives you something to do and gets you nowhere. Marilyn August

Worry is like a rocking chair, it will give you something to do, but it won't get you anywhere.

Worry is like sand in an oyster - a little produces a pearl, too much kills the animal. M. Cox

Worry is misuse of imagination.

Worry is the fertilizer for our garden of problems - the more we fertilize the greater they grow. Florence

Worry is the interest paid by those who borrow trouble. George Washington Lyon

Worry is the interest paid on tomorrow's troubles.

Worry is wasting today's time to clutter up tomorrow's opportunities with yesterday's troubles.

Worry takes as much time as work and pays less.

Worrying is the most natural and spontaneous of all human functions. It is time to acknowledge this, perhaps even to learn to do it better. Lewis Thomas

Worse things happen at sea. English Proverb

Worst: Least best.

Worth begets in base minds, envy; in great souls, emulation. Henry Fielding

Worth seeing? Yes, but not worth going to see.

Would each reform himself and spare his neighbor. Frank Putnam

Would it help if I got out and pushed?

Would that reason were as contagious as emotion.

Would ye both eat your cake and have your cake?

Would you fly in an airliner designed and built by the lowest bidder?

Would you live with ease, do what you ought, and not what you please. Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790)

Wranglers never want words. Thomas Draxe

Wrinkled purses make wrinkled faces. French Proverb

Wrinkles are sure signs of where smiles have been.

Wrinkles should merely indicate where smiles have been. Mark Twain

Wrinkles: Something other people have. You have character lines.

Write a wise saying and your name will live forever. Anonymous

Write all adverbial forms correct.

Write down the advice of him who loves you, though you like it not at present.

Write down your ideas before you forget them. (Fifth Creative Rule of The Thumb)

Write in the sand the flaws of your friend. Pythagoras

Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year. No man has learned anything rightly, until he knows that every day is Doomsday. Emerson (1803-1882)

Write on my gravestone: "Infidel, Traitor." Infidel to every church that compromises with wrong; traitor to every government that oppresses the people. Wendell Phillips

Writer's Block: numb de plume - Plagiarism: the unoriginal sin.

Writers seldom choose as friends those self-contained characters who are never in trouble, never unhappy or ill, never make mistakes, and always count their change when it is handed to them. Catherine Drinker Bowen

Writers seldom write the things they think. They simply write the things they think other folks think they think. Elbert Hubbard

Writing a book is like washing an elephant: there's no good place to begin or end, and it's hard to keep track of what you've already covered.

Writing about music is like dancing about architecture.

Writing carefully, dangling participles must be avoided. (William Safire's 12th Rule for Writers)

Writing destroys the memory.

Writing free verse is like playing tennis with the net down. Robert Frost

Writing has laws of perspective, of light and shade just as painting does, or music. If you are born knowing them, fine. If not, learn them. Then rearrange the rules to suit yourself. Truman Capote (1924-1984)

Writing is easy. All you do is stare at a blank sheet of paper until drops of blood form on your forehead. Gene Fowler (1890-1960)

Writing is like getting married. One should never commit oneself until one is amazed at one's luck. Iris Murdoch

Writing is not necessarily something to be ashamed of, but do it in private and wash your hands afterwards. Robert Heinlein

Writing is the only profession where no one considers you ridiculous if you earn no money. Jules Renard

Written laws are like spiders' webs, and will like them only entangle and hold the poor and weak, while the rich and powerful will easily break through them. Anacharsis (fl. B.C. 600)

Wrong has no warranty.

Wrong hears, wrong answer gives.

Wrong is but falsehood put in practice. Walter S. Landor

Wrong laws make short governance. Harding

Wrong never comes right.

Wrong never lies in unequal rights; it lies in the pretension of equal rights. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)