

This file contains 863 lines from my private collection beginning with the letter "Y". More to follow in due time. Enjoy!

THE SUPERLIST OF FUN LINES AND FAMOUS QUOTATIONS

10th. revised edition

Compiled by Christer Sundqvist 1987-2005

Christer Sundqvist
Neptunuksenkatu 3
FIN-21600 PARAINEN
FINLAND
TEL: int +358-40-7529274
e-Mail: christer.sundqvist@wakkanet.fi

You miss 100% of the shots you never take. Wayne Gretzky

Some fun lines and famous quotations

Yawn: An honest opinion openly expressed.

Yawning is an orgasm for your face. Gunvor Ingeborg

Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. New Testament

Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? Jesus Christ

Ye cannot serve God and Mammon. Jesus Christ

Ye have heard that it have been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy. Jesus Christ

Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you mad. Aldous Huxley

Yea, though I walk thru the valley of the shadow of death, I shall fear no evil, 'cause I'm the meanest s.o.b. in the valley.

Yeah, sure we can laugh at ourselves but laughing at other people is more fun.

Year of ice, year of sorrow.

Yearning is not only a good way to go crazy but also a pretty good place to hide out from hard truth. Claude Thomas Bissell (1916-)

Years ago fairy tales all began with "Once upon a time...", now we know they all begin with, "If I am elected..." Carolyn Warner

Years ago it meant something to be crazy, now everybody's crazy. Charles Manson

Years ago, the symbol of America was the bald eagle. Today, it is the beer bottle on the side of the road.

Years know more than books. George Herbert

Years of development: We finally got one to work.

Years steal fire from the mind as vigour from the limb, and life's enchanted cup but sparkles near the brim. Lord Byron (1788-1824)

Yeast is yeast and nest is nest and never the mane shall tweet.

Yes, and if oxen and horses or lions had hands, and could paint with their hands, and produce works of art as people do, horses would paint the forms of the gods like horses, and oxen like oxen, and make their bodies in the image of their several kinds. Xenophanes (570-475 BCE)

Yes, but every time I try to see things your way, I get a headache.

Yes, he who does not want to be an anvil, must be a hammer. Georgi Dimitrov

Yes, I am a dreamer. For a dreamer is one who can find his way by moonlight, and see the dawn before the rest of the world. Oscar Wilde

Yes, I can summon my creativity. Madonna

Yes, I sell people things they don't need. I can't, however, sell them something they don't want. Even with advertising. Even if I were of a mind to. John O'Toole

Yes, it works well in practice, but will it work in theory?

Yes, there is a nirvana; it is in leading your sheep to a green pasture, and in putting your child to sleep, and in writing the last line of your poem. Kahlil Gibran

Yes, you can be a dreamer and a doer too, if you will remove one word from your vocabulary: impossible. H. Robert Schuller

Yesterday I parked my car in a tow-away zone...when I came back the entire area was missing. Steven Wright

Yesterday is a cancelled check: forget it. Tomorrow is a promissory note: don't count on it. Today is ready cash: use it! Edwin C. Bliss

Yesterday is a cancelled check; tomorrow is a promissory note; today is ready cash. Spend it wisely.

Yesterday is a cancelled cheque. / Tomorrow is a promised note. / Today is ready cash, use it!

Yesterday is a cancelled cheque; Tomorrow is a promissory note; today is the only cash you have - so spend it wisely. Kay Lyons

Yesterday is a memory. Tomorrow is a vision. Today is a bitch.

Yesterday is but today's memory, and tomorrow is today's dream. Kahlil Gibran

Yesterday is history, / tomorrow is a mystery, / today is a gift of God, / which is why we call it the present. Bill Keane

Yesterday is nostalgia. French Proverb

Yesterday the greatest question was decided which ever was debated in America; and a greater perhaps never was, nor will be, decided among men. A resolution was passed without one dissenting colony, that those United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States. John Adams (1735-1826)

Yesterday was the deadline on all complaints.

Yesterday's promise, like tomorrow's never comes. German Proverb

Yet Ah, that Spring should vanish with the Rose. / That Youth's sweet-scented manuscript should close! / The Nightingale that in the branches sang / Ah whence and whither flown again, who knows? Omar Khayyam

Yet, crushed as we are by nature's course, we still have the capacity to endow our lives with great positive significance, by performing acts of self-transcendence - of humble submission, acceptance, thanks, praise of Our Maker - which raise us to our highest level of dignity. Marilyn McCord Adams

Yet nightly pitch my moving tent / A day's march nearer home. James Montgomery (1771-1854)

Yet we can maintain a free society only if we recognize that in a free society no one can win all the time. No one can have his own way all the time, and no one is right all the time. Richard M. Nixon

Yield to temptation, it may not pass your way again. Robert Heinlein

Yield to temptation; it might not pass your way again.

You ain't learning nothing when you're talking.

You all look like happy campers to me. Happy campers you are, happy campers you have been, and, as far as I am concerned, happy campers you will always be. Vice President Dan Quayle, to the American Samoans

You always do what you want to do. This is true with every act. You may say that you had to do something, or that you were forced to, but actually, whatever you do, you do by choice. Only you have the power to choose for yourself. W. Clement Stone

You always find something in the last place you look. (Boob's Law)

You always find something in the last place you look, unless it's not there.

You always pass failure on the way to success. Mickey Rooney

You and I ought not to die before we have explained ourselves to each other. John Adams (1735-1826)

You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Max Ehrman

You are a product of your environment. So choose the environment that will best develop you toward your objective. Analyze your life in terms of its environment. Are the things around you helping you toward success - or are they holding you back? W. Clement Stone

You are a singer who has to take any note above A with your eyebrows.

You are a very redundant person; that's what kind of person you are, redundant.

You are allowed to lie a little, but you must never mislead. Paul Halmos

You are an insult to my intelligence! I demand that you log off immediately.

You are beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that? Come up with a smiling face. It's nothing against you to fall down flat, But to lie there, that's disgrace.

You are being watched. Cut out the hanky-panky for a few days.

You are capable of planning your future.

You are confused; but this is your normal state.

You are dishonest, but never to the point of hurting a friend.

You are doing so well now that it would be a pity for anyone to interfere. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

You are fast approaching your level of incompetence.

You are free to choose, but the choices you make today will determine what you will have, be, and do in the tomorrow of your life. Zig Ziglar

You are given but one spot on this planet, / one unique breadth of space and time / to dwell in and decorate however you wish. / What does your dream home look like? Terri McPherson

You are here. But you are not all there.

You are in a maze of little twisting passages, all alike.

You are in a maze of little twisting passages, all different.

You are like a porcupine. When the animal has its spines erect, it cannot eat. If you do not eat, you will starve. And your prickles will die with the rest of your body. John Fowles

You are lustworthy.

You are magnetic in your bearing.

You are never given a wish without also being given the power to make it true. You may have to work for it, however. Richard Bach

You are never so alone as when you are the only one in the room who doesn't get the joke.

You are no longer a kid if neighbors borrow your tools.

You are no longer a kid if you are proud of your lawn mower.

You are no longer a kid if you buy a compass for the dash of your car.

You are no longer a kid if you can go bowling without drinking.

You are no longer a kid if you consider coffee one of the most important things in life.

You are no longer a kid if you get into a heated argument about pension plans.

You are no longer a kid if you have a party and the neighbors don't even realize it.

You are no longer a kid if you no longer think of speed limits as a challenge.
You are no longer a kid if you talk about "good grass" and you're referring to someone's lawn.
You are no longer a kid if you would rather go to work than stay home sick.
You are no longer a kid if your ears are hairier than your head.
You are no longer a kid if you're asleep, but others worry that you're dead.
You are no more to concern yourself how the world talks of you, but how you are to talk to yourself. Michael de Montaigne
You are not a kid anymore when you are obsessed with the thermostat. Jeff Foxworthy
You are not here merely to make a living. You are here in order to enable the world to live more amply, with greater vision, with a finer spirit of hope and achievement. You are here to enrich the world, and you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand. Woodrow Wilson
You are not paranoid if they're really after you...
You are not what they call you, but what you respond to.
You are not who you think you are. / You are not who others think you are. / You are who you think others think you are. Myron Peters
You are only afraid if you are not in harmony with yourself. People are afraid because they have never owned up to themselves. Hermann Hesse
You are only what you are when no one is looking. Robert C. Edwards
You are only young once, but you can be immature forever.
You are only young once, but you can stay immature indefinitely.
You are searching for the magic key that will unlock the door to the source of power; and yet you have the key in your own hands, and you may make use of it the moment you learn to control your thoughts. Napoleon Hill
You are secretive in your dealings but never to the extent of trickery.
You are so narrowminded you can see through a keyhole with two eyes.
You are taking advantage of the good nature of a friend. Be careful.
You are taking yourself too seriously.
You are the epicenter of my nothingness. J. C. Bear
You are the one who will profit if you have wisdom, and if you reject it, you are the one who will suffer. Solomon
You are the only person on earth who can use your ability. Zig Ziglar
You are today where your thoughts have brought you; you will be tomorrow where your thoughts take you. James Allen
You are too narrowminded if you can see through a keyhole with both eyes.
You are truly a rhinestone in the rough.
You are ugly and your mother dresses you funny.
You are warm and giving toward others. What are you after?
You are what you eat.
You are who you eat.
You are wise, witty, and wonderful, but you spend too much time reading this sort of trash.
You are worse than twenty fools, you poisonous friend! E. Bronte
You are young only once, but you can be immature all your life.
You are younger today than you ever will be again. Make use of it.
You aren't a real engineer until you make one $50,000 mistake.
You ask me how thought and wish are formed in us. I answer you that I have not the remotest idea. I do not know how ideas are made any more than how the world was made. All we can do is to grope in darkness for the springs of our incomprehensible machine. Voltaire (1694-1778)
You attempt things that you do not even plan because of your extreme stupidity.
You become a good writer just as you become a good joiner: by planning down your sentences. Anatole France

You begin by always expecting good things to happen. Tom Hopkins

You believe easily that which you hope for earnestly. Terence

You better be yourself before you be by yourself.

You better think about the future, for it's where you will spend the rest of your life.

You can accomplish much if you don't care who gets the credit. Ronald Reagan

You can actually suffer a little bit more going slowly than when you're going really fast. A faster marathon might even be easier than a slow one, in terms of what it takes out of you mentally.
Frank Shorter

You can always amend a big plan, but you can never expand a little one. I don't believe in little plans. I believe in plans big enough to meet a situation which we can't possibly foresee now.
Harry Truman

You can always find what you are not looking for. (Maryann's Law)

You can at any time decide to alter the course of your life - no one can take that away. Any person can choose to activate real directions of the self. It is true for every individual that at any moment he can choose to become himself. Clark Moustakas

You can be a king or a street sweeper, but everybody dances with the Grim Reaper. Robert Alton Harris

You can be modern or you can be a museum, but you can't be both. Gertrude Stein

You can be sincere and still be wrong. Walter Lippmann

You can believe in God without believing in immortality, but it is hard to see how anyone can believe in immortality and not believe in God. Ernest Dimnet

You can best reward a liar by believing nothing of what he says. Aristippus

You can build a throne with bayonets, but you can't sit on it for long. Boris Yeltsin

You can cage a swallow, can't you, but you can't swallow a cage, can you?

You can certainly destroy enough of humanity so that only the greatest act of faith can persuade you that what's left will be human. J. Robert Oppenheimer

You can change your faith without changing gods, and vice versa. Stanislaw J. Lec

You can clutch the past so tightly to your chest, that it leaves your arms too full to embrace the present. Jan Glidewell

You can delegate authority, but not responsibility. Stephen W. Comiskey

You can discover what your enemy fears most by observing the means he uses to frighten you. Eric Hoffer (1902-1983)

You can do foolish things, but do them with enthusiasm. Colette

You can do very little with faith, but you can do nothing without it. Samuel Butler (1835-1902)

You can drop a mouse down a thousand-yard mine shaft and, on arriving at the bottom, it gets a slight shock and walks away. A rat would probably be killed, though it can fall safely from the eleventh story of a building, a man is broken, a horse splashes. J. B. S. Haldane, "On Being the Right Size"

You can easily judge the character of a man by how he treats those who can do nothing for him.
James D. Miles

You can fool all of the people some of the time, and some of the people all of the time. And that's sufficient. Rose King

You can fool all of the people some of the time, and some of the people all of the time, but you Can't Fool Mom. (Captain Penny's Law)

You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time and that is sufficient. (Murphy's Thirteenth Law)

You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all the time. Abraham Lincoln

You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time - that should be enough for most purposes.

You can fool some of the people all of the time, and You can fool all of the people some of the time, but You can't fool mom.

You can fool some of the people some of the time, and that is sufficient.

You can fool too many of the people too much of the time. James Thurber

You can get a lot more done with a kind word and a gun, than with a kind word alone. Al Capone

You can get more with a kind word and a gun than you can with a kind word.

You can go anywhere you want if you look serious and carry a clipboard.

You can go wrong by being too skeptical as readily as by being too trusting. Robert A Heinlein

You can hold yourself back from the sufferings of the world, that is something you are free to do and it accords with your nature, but perhaps this very holding back is the one suffering you could avoid. Franz Kafka (1883-1924)

You can laugh with the sinners / You can cry with the Saints / The sinners are much more fun / And only the good die young. B. Joel

You can lead a boy to college but you cannot make him think. Elbert Hubbard

You can lead a car to a highway, but you can't make it think.

You can lead a horse to manure but you can't make him drink.

You can lead a horse to water, and if he walks on it, patent him.

You can lead a horse to water, but his pencil must be lead.

You can lead a horse to water, but if you can get him to float on his back, you've got something. (Hartley's First Law)

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him backstroke.

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink.

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make it drink.

You can lead a horticulture, but you cannot make her think.

You can lead a man to ponder; you cannot make him think.

You can learn from anybody! Even a stopped clock is right twice a day.

You can learn many things from children... like how much patience you have.

You can let a fool kiss you, but don't let a kiss fool you.

You can listen to the stream run. You can listen to the birds. Music is my life, but running allows me to appreciate the music of the outdoors. Gail Williams

You can listen to thunder after lightning and tell how close you came to getting hit. If you don't hear it you got hit, so never mind.

You can listen to thunder after lightning to tell how close you came to getting hit. If you don't hear it never mind.

You can live outside the law, but you must be honest.

You can live well if you're rich and you can live well if you're poor, but if you're poor, it's much cheaper. Andrew Tobias

You can make it foolproof, but you can't make it damnfoolproof. (Naeser's Law)

You can make more friends in two months by becoming interested in other people than you can in two years by trying to get other people interested in you. Dale Carnegie (1888-1955)

You can milk a cow the wrong way once and still be a farmer, but vote the wrong way on a water tower and you can be in trouble. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

You can muffle the drum, and you can loosen the strings of the lyre, but who shall command the skylark not to sing? Kahlil Gibran

You can neither win nor lose if you don't run the race. David Bowie

You can never be sure how many beers you had last night. (The Heineken Uncertainty Principle)

You can never get rid of a bad temper by losing it.

You can never get rid of all the witches in a big house. Southwest African Proverb

You can never have a revolution in order to establish a democracy. You must have a democracy in order to have a revolution. Gilbert K. Chesterton

You can never lose anything that really belongs to you, and you can't keep that which belongs to someone else. Edgar Cayce

You can never tell about women, and if you can, you shouldn't.

You can never tell which way the train went by looking at the tracks. (Kramer's Law)

You can never trust a woman; she may be true to you.

You can never understand the true value of something until you don't have it anymore.

You can no more win a war than you can win an earthquake. Jeannette Rankin

You can not pluck roses without fear of thorns, Nor enjoy a fair wife without danger of horns.
Benjamin Franklin

You can observe a lot just by watching. Yogi Berra

You can only drink 30 or 40 glasses of beer a day, no matter how rich you are. Col. Adolphus Busch

You can only break even at absolute zero. (The Third Law of Thermodynamics)

You can only improve on saying nothing by saying nothing often. Frank Tyger

You can only live once, but if you do it right, once is enough.

You can only protect your liberties in this world by protecting the other man's freedom. You can only be free if I am free. Clarence Darrow (1857-1938)

You can own a dog, but you can only feed a cat.

You can pick out actors by the glazed look that comes into their eyes when the conversation wanders away from themselves. Michael Wilding

You can put wings on a pig, but you don't make it an eagle. Bill Clinton

You can rent this profound space for only $5 a week.

You can say any fool thing to a dog, and the dog will give you this look that says, 'My God, you're RIGHT! I NEVER would've thought of that!' Dave Barry

You can say the right thing about a product and nobody will listen. You've got to say it in such a way that people will feel it in their gut. Because if they don't feel it, nothing will happen. William Bernbach

You can say this for death and taxes: when you are done with one, you're done with the other.

You can send a message around the world in 1/7 of a second; yet it may take several years to move a simple idea through a 1/4 inch of human skull.

You can stand tall without standing on someone. You can be a victor without having victims.
Harriet Woods

You can stay young as long as you learn. Emily Dickinson

You can still make a small fortune in agriculture. The problem is, you have to start with a large one.

You can survive on charm for about 5 minutes... after that, you'd better know something!

You can take a horse to water, but a pencil must be lead. Stan Laurel

You can take no credit for beauty at sixteen; but if you are beautiful at sixty, it will be your own soul's doing.

You can tell a lot about a fellow's character by his way of eating jelly beans. Ronald Reagan

You can tell how big someone is by what it takes to discourage that person.

You can tell how far we have to go, when FORTRAN is still the language of supercomputers.

You can tell how healthy a man is by what he takes two at a time - stairs or pills. Kin Hubbard

You can tell it's really cold when the consultants have their hands in their own pockets.

You can tell some fellows aren't afraid of work by the way they fight it.

You can tell the ideals of a nation by its advertisements. Norman Douglas

You can tell the ideas of a nation by its advertisements. George Norman Douglas

You can try to change your husband, but the only one that will appreciate it is his next wife. Erica Hamilton

You can turn painful situations around through laughter. If you can find humor in anything - even poverty - you can survive it. Bill Cosby

You can win more friends with your ears than you can with your mouth!

You can't always do what you're supposed to do. Arlo Guthrie
You can't always get what you want. Mick Jagger
You can't antagonize and influence at the same time.
You can't be all things to all people, so you have to find out who you are, and be that.
You can't be brave if you've only had wonderful things happen to you. Mary Tyler Moore
You can't be late until you show up.
You can't be optimistic with a misty optic. Peter Campbell
You can't be truly rude until you understand good manners. Rita Mae Brown
You can't buy love, but you can pay heavily for it. Henny Youngman
You can't change the past, but you can ruin the present by worrying over the future.
You can't cheat the phone company.
You can't cross the sea merely by standing and staring at the water. Don't let yourself indulge in vain wishes. Rabindranath Tagore
You can't crush ideas by suppressing them. You can only crush them by ignoring them. Ursula K. LeGuin
You can't depend on your eyes if your imagination is out of focus. Mark Twain (1835-1910)
You can't do all things at once, so you have to decide what comes first, and do that.
You can't do all things better than everyone else, so you have to learn not to compete with others.
You can't do all things equally well, so you have to discover your strengths, and use them.
You can't do anything, if you believe you can't.
You can't drown your troubles, not the real ones, because if they are real, they can swim.
You can't eat your cake and have it, too.
You can't expect to wield supreme executive power just because some watery tart threw a sword at you! Monty Python's Holy Grail
You can't fall off the floor. (Paul's Law) (Law of Drunkedness)
You can't find any true closeness in Hollywood, because everybody does the fake closeness so well. Carrie Fisher
You can't fool me - there ain't no Sanity Clause. Chico Marx
You can't get ahead while getting even. Dick Armey
You can't get anything without working for it. (The First Law of "Thermodynamics")
You can't get blood out of a turnip.
You can't get snot off of a suede jacket. Lenny Bruce
You can't get spoiled if you do your own ironing. Meryl Streep
You can't get there from here.
You can't get to Heaven on roller skates.
You can't get to the top by sitting on your bottom.
You can't get where you're going while you're living where you've been. Dalton Roberts
You can't have a better tomorrow if you are thinking about yesterday all the time. Charles F. Kettering
You can't have a better tomorrow when you are thinking of yesterday most of the time. C. F. Kettering
You can't have a clear head when there is a sword hanging over it.
You can't have a light without a dark to stick it in. Arlo Guthrie
You can't have Capitalism without Racism. Malcolm X
You can't have everything...where would you put it? Steven Wright
You can't hold a man down without staying down with him. Booker T. Washington
You can't improve on saying nothing. Golda Meir (1898-1978)
You can't kiss a girl unexpectedly - only sooner than she thought you would.
You can't learn patience in a hurry. Kelly Kupczyk
You can't legislate intelligence and common sense into people. Will Rogers

You can't live on amusement. It is the froth on water an inch deep and then the mud. George MacDonald

You can't look forward and backward at the same time. Coleman Young

You can't make up anything anymore. The world itself is satire. All you're doing is recording it. Art Buchwald

You can't reason someone out of a position they didn't reason themselves into.

You can't run a government solely on a business basis ... Government should be human. It should have a heart. Herbert Henry Lehman

You can't say civilization isn't advancing: in every war, they kill you in a new way. Will Rogers

You can't soar with the eagles in the morning if you hoot with the owls all night.

You can't spoil a rotten egg.

You can't stay in your corner of the Forest waiting for others to come to you. You have to go to them sometimes.

You can't steal second base and keep one foot on first.

You can't take money with you when you die. Marryat

You can't teach an old dog new tricks! Leng-Tzu

You can't teach an old dogma new tricks. Dorothy Parker

You can't tell how deep a puddle is until you step in it. (Miller's Law)

You can't test courage cautiously. Anne Dillard

You can't train a horse with shouts, and expect it to obey a whisper.

You can't trust anybody with power. Newt Gingrich

You can't unscramble eggs. J. Pierpont Morgan

You can't wake a person who is pretending to be asleep. Navajo Proverb

You can't win.

You can't win, you can't break even, and you can't even get out of the game.

You cannot achieve the impossible without attempting the absurd.

You cannot acquire experience by making experiments. You cannot create experience. You must undergo it. Albert Camus

You cannot always control what goes on outside. But you can always control what goes on inside. Wayne Dyer

You cannot antagonize and influence at the same time.

You cannot be a leader, and ask other people to follow you, unless you know how to follow, too. Sam Rayburn

You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. Abraham Lincoln

You cannot build a reputation on what you are going to do. Henry Ford

You cannot build character and courage by taking away men's initiative and independence.

You cannot buy beer; you can only rent it.

You cannot depend on your eyes when your imagination is out of focus. Mark Twain

You cannot describe it or draw it. You cannot praise it enough or perceive it. No place can be found in which to put the Original Face; it will not disappear even when the universe is destroyed. Mumon

You cannot determine beforehand which side of the bread to butter.

You cannot do a kindness too soon, for you never know how soon it will be too late. Ralph Waldo Emerson

You cannot eat your cake and have your cake. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

You cannot have both truth and what you call civilisation. Iris Murdoch (1919-)

You cannot have everything because where would you put it?

You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves. Abraham Lincoln

You cannot help small men by tearing down big men. Abraham Lincoln

You cannot help the poor man by destroying the rich. Abraham Lincoln
You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income. Abraham Lincoln
You cannot kill time without assaulting eternity.
You cannot kill time without injuring eternity.
You cannot laugh and be unkind at the same time. Wil Courter
You cannot lose what you never had.
You cannot make your opportunities concur with the opportunities of people whose incomes are ten times greater than yours. Edward S. Martin
You cannot play at chess if you are kindhearted.
You cannot play with the animal in you without becoming wholly animal, play with falsehood without forfeiting your right to truth, play with cruelty without losing your sensitivity of mind.
He who wants to keep his garden tidy doesn't reserve a patch for weeds. Dag Hammarskjöld
You cannot propel yourself forward by patting yourself on the back.
You cannot qualify war in harsher terms than I will. War is cruelty, and you cannot refine it.
William Tecumseh Sherman (1820-1891)
You cannot reason a man out of that which he has not been reasoned into.
You cannot run away from a weakness; you must sometimes fight it out or perish. And if that be so, why not now, and where you stand? Robert Louis Stevenson
You cannot see farther than others by standing on the feet of giants.
You cannot see the city for the houses.
You cannot see the wood for the trees. John Heywood
You cannot shake hands with a clenched fist. Golda Meir (1898–1978) & Indira Gandhi
You cannot simultaneously prevent and prepare for war. Albert Einstein (1879 -1955)
You cannot step into the same river once. Cratylus
You cannot step twice into the same river, for other waters are continually flowing on. Heraclitus
You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. Abraham Lincoln
You cannot succeed by criticizing others.
You cannot successfully determine beforehand which side of the bread to butter. (Law of the Perversity of Nature)
You cannot tame a tiger by pulling but one of his teeth.
You cannot teach a crab to walk straight. Aristophanes
You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him find it within himself. Galileo Galilei
You cannot teach a man anything.; you can only help him to find it for himself. Galileo Galilei
You cannot tell which way the train went by looking at the track.
You cannot think about thinking, without thinking about thinking about something. Seymour Papert
You cannot truly listen to anyone and do anything else at the same time. M. Scott Peck
You cannot use your friends and have them too.
You could be playing a video game instead of reading this book. Christer Sundqvist
You could compile the worst book in the world entirely out of selected passages from the best writers in the world. Gilbert K. Chesterton
You couldn't even prove the White House staff sane beyond a reasonable doubt. Ed Meese, on the Hinckley verdict
You did touch me but didn't feel my pain. B. J. Gupta
You do ill if you praise, but worse if you censure, what you do not understand. Leonardo da Vinci
You do nothing else than beat the air with your breath. T. Becon
You do not know your friend until you have quarrelled with him. Thomas McKeown
You do not marry your sister even if she is good. Southwest African Proverb
You do not need to leave your room. Remain sitting at your table and listen. Do not even listen, simply wait, be quiet still and solitary. The world will freely offer itself to you to be unmasked, it has no choice, it will roll in ecstasy at your feet. Franz Kafka (1883-1924)

You do yourself a favour when you are kind. If you are cruel, you only hurt yourself. Solomon
You don't always get what you ask for, but you never get what you don't ask for... unless it's contagious! Franklyn Broude
You don't become a missionary by crossing the sea but by seeing the cross.
You don't buy beer, you rent it.
You don't cleanse your heart to come to God, you come to God to cleanse your heart. Stephanie Boven
You don't get paid for the hour, you get paid for the value you bring to the hour. Jim Rohn
You don't get to choose how you're going to die or when. You can only decide how you're going to live. Joan Baez
You don't have a peaceful revolution. You don't have a turn-the-other-cheek revolution. There's no such thing as a nonviolent revolution. Revolution is bloody. Revolution is hostile. Revolution knows no compromise. Revolution overturns and destroys everything that gets in its way. Malcom X
You don't have to be alone. God has provided many wonderful people; friends, pastors, counsellors and this group, who can support you and as you go through life. Thank God for them.
You don't have to be faster than the bear, you just have to be faster than the slowest guy running from the bear.
You don't have to be in Who's Who to know what's what. Bennett Cerf
You don't have to be weird, to be weird.
You don't have to blow out another's candle to make yours shine bright.
You don't have to have fought in a war to love peace. Geraldine Ferraro
You don't have to know, you just have to know who knows. John Quill Taylor
You don't have to stay up nights to succeed; you have to stay awake days.
You don't have to suffer to be a poet; adolescence is enough suffering for anyone. John Ciardi
You don't have to worry about me. I might have been born yesterday...but I stayed up all night.
You don't just luck into things as much as you'd like to think you do. You build step by step, whether it's friendships or opportunities. Barbara Bush
You don't know what you want, and are willing to go through hell to get it.
You don't learn to hold your own in the world by standing on guard, but by attacking, and getting well-hammered yourself. George Bernard Shaw
You don't look at a picture of a Chevy when you drive a Cadillac.
You don't love a woman because she is beautiful, but she is beautiful because you love her.
You don't need a weatherman to know which way the wind blows.
You don't need any brains to listen to music. Luciano Pavarotti
You don't really understand human nature unless you know why a child on a merry-go-round will wave at (his/her) parents every time around... and why (those) parents will always wave back.
You don't stop laughing because you grow old; you grow old because you stop laughing. Michael Pritchard
You don't take a photograph, you make it. Ansel Adams
You don't tell deliberate lies, but sometimes you have to be evasive. Margaret Thatcher
You don't tell us how to stage the news, and we don't tell you how to report it. Larry Speakes
You don't understand anything until you learn it more than one way. Marvin Minsky
You either learn as you go or don't. John Quill Taylor
You enter into a certain amount of madness when you marry a person with pets. Nora Ephron
You exist only in what you do. Federico Fellini
You feel a whole lot more like you do now than you did when you used to.
You fill a much-needed gap.
You gain strength, courage and confidence by every experience in which you really stop to look fear in the face... The danger lies in refusing to face the fear, in not daring to come to grips with it... You must make yourself succeed every time. You must do the thing you think you cannot do. Eleanor Roosevelt

You gain strength, experience and confidence by every experience where you really stop to look fear in the face . . . You must do the thing you cannot do. Eleanor Roosevelt

You get half of what you pay for.

You get the best out of others when you give the best of yourself. Harvey Samuel Firestone (1868-1938)

You get the best view of Paris from the Eiffel Tower, because you can't see the Eiffel Tower from there.

You get the most of what you need the least. (Law of Gifts)

You get what you pay for. Leng-Tzu

You give but a little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of your heart that you truly give. Kahlil Gibran

You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give. Kahlil Gibran

You gotta have a dream. If you don't have a dream, how ya gonna make a dream come true? Bloody Mary

You grow up the day you have your first real laugh, at yourself. Ethel Barrymore

You have a deep appreciation of the arts and music.

You have a right to your opinions. I just don't want to hear them.

You have a will that can be influenced by all with whom you come in contact.

You have an extraordinary genius for minutiae. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

You have an important role as a negative example.

You have been selected for a secret mission.

You have good manners, but never carry them about you. Thomas Fuller

You have literary talent that you should take pains to develop.

You have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

You have only 30 seconds in a TV commercial. If you grab attention in the first frame with a visual surprise, you stand a better chance of holding the viewer. People screen out a lot of commercials because they open with something dull... When you advertise fire-extinguishers, open with the fire. David Ogilvy

You have only a very small head and must live within it.

You have spent many lives and much treasure to bring freedom to many lands that were reluctant to receive it. And here you have a people who won it by themselves and need only the help to preserve it. Corazon C Aquino

You have taken yourself too seriously. (The Fifth Rule)

You have the body of a 19 year old. Please return it before it gets wrinkled.

You have the capacity to learn from mistakes. You will learn a lot today.

You have the God-given right to kick the government around; don't hesitate to do so. Edmund Muske

You have the power to influence all with whom you come in contact.

You have to admire trees. Even though they start to lose their leaves, they never consider growing a beard.

You have to believe in yourself, that's the secret. Even when I was in the orphanage, when I was roaming the street trying to find enough to eat, even then I thought of myself as the greatest actor in the world. Charlie Chaplin (1889-1977)

You have to break a few eggs to make an omlette.

You have to choose where you look, and in making that choice you eliminate entire worlds. Barbara Bloom

You have to dream it to live it.

You have to forget your last marathon before you try another. Your mind can't know what's coming.

Frank Shorter

You have to know what's important and what's unimportant, for you. David Harold Fink

You have to protect the privacy of the advice you get, or you'll never get the advice you need.

Richard Nixon

You have to sow before you can reap. You have to give before you can get. Robert Collier

You have to take the bad with the worse.

You have to take the good with the bad.

You have to walk carefully in the beginning of love; the running across fields into your lover's arms can only come later when you're sure they won't laugh if you trip. Jonathan Carroll

You have two eyes and two ears, but one tongue. You know my meaning. James Howell

You haven't a single redeeming vice.

You know, a better man for a better America. That's sort of our slogan. Bob Dole

You know good manners, but you use but a few.

You know how dumb the average guy is? Well, by definition, half of them are even dumber than THAT. J.R. "Bob" Dobbs

You know how happy a motorcyclist is by the bug stains on his teeth.

You know how most packages say "Open here". What is the protocol if the package says, "Open somewhere else"?

You know how to win a victory, Hannibal, but not how to use it.

You know it's going to be a bad day when you see a 60 Minutes news team waiting in your office.

You know it's going to be a bad day when your twin brother forgot your birthday.

You know, it's not the world that was my oppressor, because what the world does to you, if the world does it to you long enough and effectively enough, you begin to do to yourself. James Baldwin (1924-1987)

You know more of a road by having traveled it than by all the conjectures and descriptions in the world. William Hazlitt

You know more than you think you do. Benjamin Spock

You know, music, art - these are not just little decorations to make life prettier. They're very deep necessities which people cannot live without. Gregor Piatgorsky

You know, of course, that the Tasmanians, who never committed adultery, are now extinct. W. Somerset Maugham

You know someone said that the world's a stage and you must play a part. Roy Turk & Lou Handman

You know, sometimes a man just can't satisfy all of a woman's desires. Which is why God invented dental floss. Susanne Kollrack

You know that being an American is more than a matter of where your parents came from. It is a belief that all men are created free and equal and that everyone deserves an even break. Harry S. Truman

You know that I write slowly. This is chiefly because I am never satisfied until I have said as much as possible in a few words, and writing briefly takes far more time than writing at length. Carl Friedrich Gauss

You know that it's gonna be a bad day when you call Suicide Prevention and they put you on hold.

You know that little indestructible black box that is used on planes, why can't they make the whole plane out of the same substance?

You know the hardest thing about having cerebral palsy and being a woman? It's plucking your eyebrows. That's how I originally got pierced ears. Geri Jewell

You know the old expression about heredity. 'The apple doesn't fall far from the tree'. Peter De Vries

You know the price of everything and the value of nothing.

You know, there's somebody in town that has Alzheimer's... but I can't remember who it is.

You know what they call a Quarter Pounder with Cheese in France? A Royale with Cheese. John Travolta

You know when it's going to be a bad day when people think you are 40 - and you really are.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when you call suicide prevention and they put you on hold.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when you call your wife and tell her that you would like to eat out tonight and when you get home there is a sandwich on the front porch.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when you compliment the boss's wife on her unusual perfume and she isn't wearing any.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when you have to borrow from your Mastercard to pay your Visa.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when you realized that you just sprayed spot remover under your arms instead of deodorant.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when you turn on the evening news and they are showing emergency routes out of the city.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when your 4-year-old tells you that it's almost impossible to flush a grapefruit down the toilet.

You know when it's going to be a bad day when your kids start treating you the same way you treated your parents.

You know when you're young, you think your dad's Superman. Then you grow up and you realize he's just a regular guy who wears a cape. Dave Atell

You know when you've read a good book when you turn the last page and feel a little as if you have lost a friend. Paul Sweeney

You know why Madison Avenue advertising has never done well in Harlem? We're the only ones who know what it means to be Brand X. Dick Gregory

You know you are a little fat if you have stretch marks on your car. Cyrus

You know you are getting older when all you want for your birthday is to not be reminded of your age.

You know you are getting older when at the breakfast table you hear snap, crackle, pop and you're not eating cereal.

You know you are getting older when everything hurts, and what doesn't hurt - doesn't work.

You know you are getting older when getting "lucky" means you found your car in the parking lot.

You know you are getting older when happy hour is a nap.

You know you are getting older when it takes longer to rest than it did to get tired.

You know you are getting older when it takes twice as long - to look half as good.

You know you are getting older when it takes two tries to get up from the couch.

You know you are getting older when the pharmacist has become your new best friend.

You know you are getting older when the twinkle in your eye is merely a reflection from the sun on your bifocals.

You know you are getting older when you and your teeth don't sleep together.

You know you are getting older when you are trying to straighten out the wrinkles in your socks and discover you aren't wearing any.

You know you are getting older when you give up all your bad habits and still don't feel good.

You know you are getting older when you look for your glasses for half an hour and they were on your head the whole time.

You know you are getting older when you say something to your kids that your mother said to you, and you always hated it.

You know you are getting older when you sink your teeth into a steak - and they stay there.

You know you are getting older when you sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going.
You know you are getting older when you step off a curb and look down one more time to make sure the street is still there.
You know you are getting older when you wake up looking like your driver's license picture.
You know you are getting older when your address book has mostly names that start with Dr.
You know you are getting older when your back goes out but you stay home.
You know you are getting older when your idea of a night out is sitting on the patio.
You know you are getting older when your idea of weight lifting is standing up.
You know you are getting older when your memory is shorter and your complaining lasts longer.
You know you are getting older when you're on vacation and your ENERGY runs out before your money does.
You know you are in trouble when you come to work in the morning and the boss tells you not to take off your coat.
You know you are in trouble when your only son tells you he wishes Anita Bryant would mind her own business.
You know you are over the hill when work is less fun and fun is more work.
You know you have landed gear-up when it takes full power to taxi.
You know you lead a sad life when the girls who get around never get around to you.
You know you're getting old when everything hurts. And what doesn't hurt doesn't work. Hy Gardner
You know you're getting old when you stoop to tie your shoes and wonder what else you can do while you're down there.
You know you're getting old when you stop buying green bananas.
You know you're getting old when the candles cost more than the cake. Bob Hope
You know you're getting older when Happy Hour is a nap.
You know you're getting older when you bend down to tie your shoe and wonder what else you can do while you are down there.
You know you're into middle age when you realize that caution is the only thing you care to exercise.
You know your children are growing up when they stop asking you where they came from and refuse to tell you where they're going. P. J. O'Rourke
You live and learn. At any rate, you live. Douglas Adams
You live and learn. Or you don't live long. Robert A. Heinlein
You live only once, but in that life you must die a thousand different deaths.
You look like a million dollars... All green and wrinkled.
You look like an angel / Walk like an angel / Talk like an angel / But I got wise / You're the devil in disguise. Giant & Baum & Kaye
You lose a lot of time, hating people. Marian Anderson
You lose sight of things... and when you travel, everything balances out. Daranna Gidel
You make up your mind before you start that sacrifice is part of the package. Richard M. DeVos
You may as well take a person's money as his time.
You may ask yourself, how did I get here? This is not my beautiful house! This is not my beautiful wife! Talking Heads
You may as well expect pears from an elm. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)
You may be dead broke and that's a reality, but in spirit you may be brimming over with optimism, joy, and energy. The reality of your life may result from many outside factors, none of which you can control. Your attitudes, however, reflect the ways in which you evaluate what is happening. H. Stanley Judd
You may be deceived if you trust too much, but you will live in torment if you do not trust enough. Frank Crane

You may be disappointed if you fail, but you are doomed if you don't try. Beverly Sills

You may be sure that the Americans will commit all the stupidities they can think of, plus some that are beyond imagination. Charles de Gaulle

You may beat a horse till he be sad, and a cow till she be mad. John Ray

You may drive nature out with a pitchfork, she will nevertheless come back. Horace

You may easily play a joke on a man who likes to argue - agree with him. Ed Howe

You may either win your peace or buy it; / win it by resistance to evil; / buy it by compromise with evil. John Ruskin (1819-1900)

You may force men, by interest or punishment, to say or swear they believe, and to act as if they believed; you can go no further. Jonathan Swift

You may have tangible wealth untold; / Caskets of jewels and coffers of gold. / Richer than I you can never be - / I had a mother who read to me. Gillian Strickland

You may have to fight a battle more than once to win it. Margaret Hilda Roberts Thatcher (1925 -)

You may laugh at a friend's roof; don't laugh at his sleeping accomodation. Kenyan Proverb

You may learn how necessary it is for a liar to have a good memory. Latimer

You may make your plans, but God directs your actions. Solomon

You may my glories and my state depose / But not my griefs; still am I king of those. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

You may not get what you pay for, but you always pay for what you get.

You may put a man to death because he loves his fellow-men, but you will not by so doing acquire the love which made his happiness. Force is impotent in such matters; it is only as regards material goods that it is effective. For this reason the men who believe in force are the men whose thoughts and desires are preoccupied with material goods. Bertrand Russell (1872-1970)

You may share the labours of the great, but you will not share the spoil. Aesop (620-560 BC)

You may still choose to believe something you cannot prove.

You may think everything you do is right, but the Lord judges your motives. Solomon

You may turn into an archangel, a fool, or a criminal ; no one will see it. But when a button is missing everyone sees that. Erich M. Remarque

You mean I can send mail to myself?

You mean you can't take less, it's very easy to take more than nothing.

You mentioned your name as if I should recognise it, but beyond the obvious facts that you are a bachelor, a solicitor, a Freemason and an asthmatic, I know nothing whatsoever about you. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

You miss 100% of the shots you never take. Wayne Gretzky

You moon the wrong person at an office party and suddenly you're not 'professional' any more. Jeff Foxworthy

You must always be puzzled by mental illness. The thing I would dread most, if I became mentally ill, would be your adopting a common sense attitude; that you could take it for granted that I was deluded. Ludwig Wittgenstein (1889-1951)

You must be single minded. Drive for one thing on which you have decided. George S. Patton

You must be the change you wish to see in the world. Gandhi

You must begin to think of yourself as becoming the person you want to be. David Viscott

You must believe in God, in spite of what the clergy say. Benjamin Jowett

You must create your own world. I'm responsible for my world. Louise Nevelson

You must do the thing you think you cannot do. Eleanor Roosevelt

You must eat a peck of dirt before you die.

You must give time to your fellow men even if it's a little thing, do something for others something for which you get no pay but the privilege of doing it. Albert Schweitzer

You must grow like a tree, not like a mushroom. Janet Erskine Stuart

You must have long range goals to keep you from being frustrated by short range failures. Charles C. Noble

You must intensify and render continuous by repeatedly presenting with suggestive ideas and mental pictures of the feast of good things, and the flowing fountain, which awaits the successful achievement or attainment of the desires. Robert Collier

You must learn day by day, year by year, to broaden your horizons. The more things you love, the more you are interested in, the more you enjoy, the more you are indignant about - the more you have left when anything happens. Ethel Barrymore (1879-1959)

You must learn from the mistakes of others. You can't possibly live long enough to make them all yourself. Sam Levenson

You must learn to creep before you can go.

You must look into people, as well as at them. Lord Chesterfield

You must look where it is not, as well as where it is. Thomas Fuller

You must lose a fly to catch a trout. George Herbert

You must make the product interesting, not just make the ad different. And that's what too many of the copywriters in the U.S. today don't yet understand. Rosser Reeves

You must not fight too often with one enemy, or you will teach him all your art of war. Napoleon I (1769-1821)

You must realize one thing. In every little village in the world there are great potential champions who only need motivation, development and good exercise evaluation. Arthur Lydiard

You must stir it and stump it, And blow your own trumpet, Or trust me, you haven't a chance. W. S. Gilbert

You must write for children in the same way as you do for adults, only better. Maxim Gorky (1868-1936)

You need a bigger hammer. (Paul's Second Law)

You need not sow weeds. Thomas Fuller

You need three things in the theatre ; the play, the actors and the audience, and each must give something. Kenneth Haigh

You need to build affinity in your customer relationships in order to retain customers. That affinity comes from constant communication. Jay Abraham

You need to toot your own horn, because if you don't, someone else is going to use it for a spittoon! Bryon Satterfield

You needn't love your enemy, but if you refrain from telling lies about him, you are doing well enough. Ed Howe

You never achieve real success unless you like what you are doing. Dale Carnegie

You never ask my opinion when I'm right.

You never can tell till you've tried.

You never find an article until you replace it.

You never find people laboring to convince you that you may live very happily upon a plentiful income. Johnson (1709-1784)

You never "find" time, but you can always "make" it.

You never have to worry about contradictions when you stick to the facts.

You never know how many friends you have until you own a house at the beach.

You never know how many friends you have until you rent a house on the beach.

You never know what you can do till you try.

You never know when you're making a memory. Mary Pass

You never know who is right, but you always know who is in charge. (Whistler's Law)

You never lost money taking a profit.

You never miss a slice from a cut loaf.

You never realize how short a month is until you pay alimony. John Barrymore

You never really learn to swear until you learn to drive. (Grandpa Charnock's Law)
You never really lose until you quit trying. Mike Ditka
You never really understand a person until you consider things from his point of view.
You never saw a fish on the wall with its mouth shut. Sally Berger
You never see animals going through the absurd and often horrible fooleries of magic and religion.
Only man behaves with such gratuitous folly. It is the price he has to pay for being intelligent but now, as yet, intelligent enough. Aldous Huxley
You never speak, but your mouth opens. John Clarke
You never want the one you can afford. (Baker's Law)
You now have Asian Flu.
You now have to decide what 'image' you want for your brand. Image means personality. Products, like people, have personalities, and they can make or break them in the market place. David Ogilvy
You only get beaten from within.
You only go around once, and there's not enough gusto for everyone.
You only grow when you are alone. Paul Newman
You only have one chance to make a first impression.
You only have power over people so long as you don't take everything away from them. But when you've robbed a man of everything, he's no longer in your power - he's free again. *Alexander
Solzhenitsyn*
You only live once - but if you work it right, once is enough. Joe Lewis
You open that scab, there's a hell of a lot of things... This involves these Cubans, Hunt, and a lot of hanky-panky that we have nothing to do with. Richard Milhouse Nixon
You pay God a compliment by asking great things of Him. Teresa of Avila
You pay more for your schooling than your learning is worth. John Clarke
You philosophers are sages in your maxims and fools in your conduct. Benjamin Franklin
You pick your friends and pick your nose, but don't pick your friend's nose.
You possess a mind not merely twisted, but actually sprained.
You probably wouldn't worry about what people think of you if you could know how seldom they
do. Olin Miller
You raise your voice when you should reinforce your argument. Samuel Johnson
You rarely observe a mob rushing across town to do a good deed.
You really shouldn't say "I love you" unless you mean it. But if you mean it, you should say it a lot.
People forget.
You return and again take the proper course, guided by what? By the picture in mind of the place
you are headed for. John McDonald
You roll my log, and I'll roll yours.
You satisfy the hungry heart with gift of finest wheat. Now give to us, O saving Lord, the bread of life to eat.
You say that now, but try chewing a child the next time you're car sick.
You say things with your eyes that others waste time putting into words.
You see a lot of smart guys with dumb women, but you hardly ever see a smart woman with a dumb
guy. Erica Jong
You see, advertising is a substitute for a salesperson, so it should be likeable. Who would buy from a salesperson who is rude, arrogant or insulting? People like to do business with people they like, therefore they respond to advertising created by people who like people. Jerry Goodis
You see, dear, it is not true that woman was made from man's rib; she was really made from his funny bone. James Matthew Barrie

You see many stars at night in the sky but find them not when the sun rises; can you say that there are no stars in the heaven of day? So, O man! because you behold not God in the days of your ignorance, say not that there is no God. Ramakrishna (1836-1886)

You see me here, you gods, a poor old man, / As full of grief as age; wretched in both. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

You see much more of your children once they leave home. Lucille Ball

You see one redwood tree, you've seen them all. Ronald Reagan

You see things; and you say, "Why?" But I dream things that never were; and I say, "Why not?"
George Bernhard Shaw (1856-1950)

You see through love, and that deludes your sight, As what is straight seems crooked through the water. Jon Dryden (1631-1700)

You see, wire telegraph is a kind of a very, very long cat. You pull his tail in New York and his head is meowing in Los Angeles. Do you understand this? And radio operates exactly the same way: you send signals here, they receive them there. The only difference is that there is no cat. Albert Einstein (1879-1955), when asked to describe radio.

You shall be a good listener, for only when you listen do you hear ideas different from your own.

You shall count your blessings, never overlooking the small ones, for a lot of small blessings add up to a big one.

You shall face each problem as it comes. You can only handle one at a time anyway.

You shall judge of a man by his foes as well as by his friends. Joseph Conrad

You shall not be fearful, for most of the things we fear never come to pass.

You shall not become "bogged down" by frustration, for 90% of it is rooted in self-pity and will only interfere with positive action.

You shall not borrow other people's problems. They can better care for them than you.

You shall not carry grudges, for they are the heaviest of all life's burdens.

You shall not take problems to bed with you, for they make very poor bedfellows.

You shall not try to relive yesterday for good or ill, it is forever gone. Concentrate on what is happening in your life and be happy now!

You shall not worry, for worry is the most unproductive of all human activities.

You should avoid hedging, at least that's what I think.

You should emulate your heroes, but don't carry it too far. Especially if they're dead.

You should hammer your iron when it is glowing hot. Publius Syrus

You should hardly ever equivocate.

You should never bet against anything in science at odds of more than about 10-12 to 1. Ernest Rutherford

You should never touch your eyes but with your elbow.

You should not confuse your career with your life.

You should use contraceptives at every conceivable occasion.

You simply MUST stop taking advice from other people. Melissa Timberman

You speak as if you would creep into my mouth. Heywood

You shouldn't touch a pig unless it hasn't been in the mud.

You take your life in your own hands, and what happens? A terrible thing: no one to blame. Erica Jong

You teach best what you most need to learn. Richard Bach

You think that way as you begin to get grayer and you see pretty plainly that the game is not going to end as you planned. Loren Eiseley

You think that's noise - you ain't heard nuttin' yet! Al Jolson

You think the grass is greener on the other side of the fence. Mexican-American Proverb

You tread upon my patience.

You unlock the door with the key of imagination... Rod Serling

You used to be indecisive. Now you're not sure.

You wake up in the morning, and your purse is magically filled with twenty-four hours of unmanufactured tissue of the universe of your life! It is yours. It is the most precious of possessions. No one can take it from you. And no one receives either more or less than you receive. Dr. Thomas Arnold Bennett

You want a fortune? I'll give you a fortune. "Blech!"

You watch a talk show recently? They're doing one next month on a normal, happy heterosexual couple, assuming they can find one. Professor Ralph Noble

You were born an original. Don't die a copy. John Mason

You were born when wit was scant. John Ray

You were conspicuous by your absence. Lord John Russell

You were made perfectly to be loved - and surely I have loved you, in the idea of you, my whole life long. Elizabeth Barrett Browning

You were the first in line / When they gave out lips like honey. Schroeder & Weisman

You will be better advised to watch what we do instead of what we say. John N. Mitchell

You will be misunderstood by everyone.

You will be pleased to know I stand obediently for the national anthem, though of course I would defend your right to remain seated should you so decide. Ira Glasser

You will be reincarnated as a toad; and you will be much happier.

You will be surprised by a loud noise.

You will become as small as your controlling desire; as great as your dominant aspiration. James Allen

You will become rich and famous, unless you don't.

You will experience a strong urge to do good; but it will pass.

You will face many defeats in your life, but never let yourself be defeated. Maya Angelou

You will feel hungry again in another hour.

You will find as you look back upon your life that the moments when you have truly lived are the moments when you have done things in the spirit of love. Henry Drummond

You will find it a distinct help if you know and look as if you know what you are doing.

You will find men who want to be carried on the shoulders of others, who think that the world owes them a living. They don't seem to see that we must all lift together and pull together. Henry Ford II

You will find my last words in the blue folder. Max Beerbohm (last words)

You will find poetry nowhere unless you bring some with you. Joubert (1754-1824)

You will find what is not last and enter where there are no doors.

You will give someone a piece of your mind, which you can ill afford.

You will hate a beautiful song if you sing it often. Korean Proverb

You will live a long full life and gradually decay into a useless blob.

You will live a long, healthy, happy life and make bags of money.

You will live your life secure in that you are no longer manipulated by what other people want you to do and be, but are directed by your own inner desires. H. Stanley Judd

You will never be promoted until you become over-qualified for your present position.

You will never be younger than you are today... and vice versa.

You will never be happy if you continue to search for what happiness consists of. You will never live if you are looking for the meaning of life. Albert Camus

You will never escape the will of the mob; about the best anyone has ever figured out how to do is herd them into voting booths. Barry Shein

You will never find time for anything. If you want time you must make it. Charles Buxton

You will never hit your finger if you hold the hammer with both hands.

You will not find poetry anywhere unless you bring some of it with you. Joseph Joubert

You will now have a starting place and a destination, and you will be able to determine what it will cost you to get there... You will be going someplace. H. Stanley Judd

You will outgrow your usefulness.

You will pay for your sins. If you have already paid, please disregard.

You will probably be the last person to buy a Chrysler.

You will soon forget this.

You will sooner tune a guitar than an angry woman. Spanish Proverb

You will spend the rest of your life in the future.

You will step on the night soil of many countries.

You will wish you hadn't.

You won't skid if you stay in a rut. Frank Hubbard

You wonder when you leave the White House if you'll ever draw a crowd again. Bill Clinton

You would if you could but you can't so you won't (and probably shouldn't).

You would worry a lot less about what others think about you, if you only realized how seldom they did.

You wouldn't care what people thought of you if you realized how seldom they do.

You write in order to change the world, knowing perfectly well that you probably can't, but also knowing that literature is indispensable to the world... The world changes according to the way people see it, and if you alter, even by a millimeter, the way ... people look at reality, then you can change it. James Baldwin

You, yourself, as much as anybody in the entire universe, deserve your love and affection. Buddha

You'd be surprised how much it costs to look this cheap. Dolly Parton

You'd better beat it. You can leave in a taxi. If you can't get a taxi, you can leave in a huff. If that's too soon, you can leave in a minute and a huff. Groucho Marx

You'll always miss 100% of the shots you don't take. Cheryl Abbott

You'll be happier if you'll give people a bit of your heart rather than a piece of your mind. David Roberts

You'll get over yourself.

You'll have time to rest when you're dead. Robert De Niro

You'll never get dizzy doing a good turn.

You'll never get mixed up if you simply tell the truth. Then you don't have to remember what you have said, and you never forget what you have said. Sam Rayburn

You'll never have a quiet world till you knock the patriotism out of the human race. George Bernard Shaw

You'll never have more time. You have, and always have had, all there is.

"You'll never know until you try it" works pretty well for most unknowns, but "I wonder if it hurts to saw off the tip of my tongue?" is probably not one of them. Doug Rendall

You'll never really learn to swear until you learn to drive.

You'll see. Great Danes are no problem!

You're a card which will have to be dealt with.

You're all clear now, kid. Now blow this thing so we can all go home.

You're always complimented on the item that took the least effort to prepare. (Law of the Kitchen)

You're at the end of the road again.

You're entitled to your own opinion, even if it is wrong.

You're entitled to your own wrong opinion.

You're getting old when getting lucky means you find your car in the parking lot.

You're getting old when tying one on means fastening your MedicAlert bracelet.

You're getting old when you don't care where your spouse goes, just as long as you don't have to go along.

You're getting old when you don't care where your wife goes, just as long as you don't have to go along.

You're getting old when you wake up with that morning-after feeling, and you didn't do anything the night before.

You're getting old when you're sitting in a rocker and you can't get it started.

You're here to have fun whether you like it or not.

You're in middle age when you realize you have more on your mind and less on your head.

You're never a loser until you quit trying.

You're never too old to enjoy a second childhood!

You're never too old to have a fun childhood.

You're never too old to learn... Especially if you have Alzheimer's.

You're not drunk if you can lie on the floor without holding on. Dean Martin

You're only young once, but you can be immature forever.

You're the prettiest thing I've seen / But you treat me so doggone mean. Aaron Schroeder & Ben Weisman

You're who you think you are, even if you never admit it to yourself or to anyone else. You may be in the worst position to judge, but you're in the best position to know. Marilyn von Savant

You've achieved success in your field when you don't know whether what you're doing is work or play. Warren Beatty

You've got to do your own growing, no matter how tall your grandfather was. Irish Proverb

You've got to get obsessed and stay obsessed. John Irving

You've got to go as fast as you possibly can just to stay in one place; to get anywhere, you got to go faster than that. Lewis Carroll

You've got to take the sour with the bitter. Samuel Goldwyn

You've made your bed. Now lie in it.

You've never been as sick as just before you stop breathing. (Macaluso's Doctrine)

You've no idea of what a poor opinion I have of myself, and how little I deserve it. W. S. Gilbert

You've one mouth and two ears...use them in that proportion.

You've reached middle age when the phone rings on Saturday night, you pray it isn't for you.

Young angel, old devil.

Young blood must have its course, lad, and every dog its day. Charles Kingsley

Young love is a flame; very pretty, often very hot and fierce, but still only light and flickering. The love of the older and disciplined heart is as coals, deep burning, unquenchable. Henry Ward Beecher

Young men are fitter to invent than to judge, fitter for execution than for counsel, and fitter for new projects than for settled business. Francis Bacon (1561-1626)

Young men forgive, old men never. French Proverb

Young men, hear an old man to whom old men hearkened when he was young.

Young men may die, but old must die.

Young men may die, old men must. English Proverb

Young men think old men are fools; but old men know young men are fools. George Chapman

Young men's knocks old men feel. John Ray

Young Obadiah, / David, Josiah, / All were pious.

Young people are threatened... by the evil use of advertising techniques that stimulate the natural inclination to avoid hard work by promising the immediate satisfaction of every desire. Pope John Paul II

Young pigs grunt as as old pigs grunted before them. Danish Proverb

Young saint, old devil.

Young Timothy / Learnt sin to fly.

Your actions speak so loud that I can't hear what you're saying.

Your aim is high and to the right.

Your answer to all this will be, 'Obey. I am master here.' Stand as master of your own being and hold your course steadfast to the goal. John McDonald

Your attitude is the librarian of your past, the speaker of your present, and the prophet of your future!

Your best way is to make a clean breast of the facts. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

Your body cannot heal without play. / Your mind cannot heal without laughter. / Your soul cannot heal without joy. Catherine Rippenger Fenwick

Your body is precious. It is our vehicle for awakening. Treat it with care. The Buddha

Your brain is that bodily organ which starts working the moment you awake and does not stop until you get into the office.

Your capacity to keep your vow will depend on the purity of your life. Mahatma Gandhi

Your chance of forgetting this quotation is directly proportional to... uh... Christer Sundqvist

Your chances of success in any undertaking can always be measured by your belief in yourself. Robert Collier

Your character is what you think you are. Your reputation is what others think you are.

Your check is in the mail.

Your children are not your children. They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself.

They come through you but not from you, and though they are with you, yet they belong not to you. You may give them your love but not your thoughts. For they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies but not their souls, for their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams. Kahlil Gibran (1883-1931)

Your children need your presence more than your presents. Jesse Jackson

Your company should be run and operated as you would expect it to be if you were the customer.

Constantly look for ways to improve the treatment of your customers, because they will respond to you through the most important vote of all, their sales dollars. Jay Abraham

Your conscience may not keep you from doing wrong, but it sure keeps you from enjoying it.

Your depth of comprehension may tend to make you lax in worldly ways.

Your descendants shall gather your fruits. Virgil

Your destiny is not always the one you seek, but always the one that finds you. William Markiewicz

Your difficulty and my difficulty and the difficulty of every individual who ever desired to achieve something worthwhile, comes in the movement. Peter Nivio Zarlenga

Your education begins where what is called your education is over.

Your enthusiasm will be infectious, stimulating and attractive to others. They will love you for it.

They will go for you and with you. Norman Vincent Peale

Your every voter, as surely as your chief magistrate, exercises a public trust. Grover Cleveland

Your expression is the most important thing you can wear. Sid Ascher

Your face is an exercise in fractal curves. John Quill Taylor

Your first friend is worth the next thousand. John Quill Taylor

Your fly might be open (but don't check it just now).

Your freedom to swing your arm ends where my nose begins.

Your friend has a friend; don't tell him. Jewish Proverb

Your friends will know you better in the first minute you meet than your acquaintances will know you in a thousand years. Richard Bach

Your happiness is intertwined with your outlook on life.

Your health comes first; you can always hang yourself later. Yiddish Proverb

Your humanity is showing just like everyone else's, because no one else is in the contest of "being you."

Your ignorance is the mother of your devotion to me. John Dryden (1631-1701)

Your imagination, my dear fellow, is worth more than you imagine. Louis Aragon

Your kind of love / is a treasure I hold / It's so much greater / than silver or gold. Fred Wise & Ben Weisman

Your life would be very empty if you had nothing to regret.

Your lights are on but nobody's home.

Your love is worth all the gold on earth. Aaron Schroeder & Wally Gold

Your love life will be... interesting.

Your lucky number has been disconnected.

Your lucky number is 3552664958674928. Watch for it everywhere.

Your main Fault is, you are good for nothing. Thomas Fuller

Your manuscript is both good and original; but the part that is good is not original, and the part that is original is not good. Samuel Johnson

Your militia are great talkers and little doers. American Proverb

Your mind understands what you have been taught; your heart, what is true.

Your money burns a hole in your pocket.

Your morality can keep you out of jail, but only the Blood of Jesus Christ, can keep you of hell!

Your mother's so old, when I told her to act her age, she died.

Your nature demands love and your happiness depends on it.

Your neighbor is the man who needs you.

Your neighbour's apples are the sweetest. Yiddish Proverb

Your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. Joel

Your only duty is to do the best you can. David Seabury

Your only obligation in any lifetime is to be true to yourself. Being true to anyone else or anything else is . . . impossible. Richard Bach

Your own qualities will help prevent your advancement in the world.

Your pain is the breaking of the shell that encloses your understanding. Even as the stone of the fruit must break, that its heart may stand in the sun, so must you know pain. And could you keep your heart in wonder at the daily miracles of your life, your pain would not seem less wondrous than your joy. And you would accept the seasons of your heart, even as you have always accepted the seasons that pass over your fields. And you would watch with serenity through the winters of your grief. Much of your pain is self-chosen. Kahlil Gibran (1883-1931)

Your problem is to bridge the gap which exists between where you are now and the goal you intend to reach. Earl Nightingale

Your reasoning is silly and irrational but it is beginning to make sense.

Your self image is your pattern!...Every thought has an activity visualized. Every activity belongs to a pattern. You identify with your pattern or thought. Your pattern leads your life. J. G. Gallimore

Your son is your son till he takes him a wife, but your daughter is your daughter for all of your life. Spencer Tracy

Your surety wants a surety.

Your talent is God's gift to you. What you do with it is your gift back to God. Leo Buscaglia

Your temper is the only thing you can lose and still have.

Your tongue is made of very loose leather. Kelly

Your true value depends entirely on what you are compared with.

Your weight is perfect for your height - which varies.

Your will could 'resist' only by obeying a still more despotic idea. Voltaire (1694-1778)

Your winning smile is your greatest asset.

Your work is very poor, but at least it's slow.

Your worst days are never so bad that you are beyond the reach of God's grace. And your best days are never so good that you are beyond the need of God's grace. Jerry Bridges

Your worst humiliation is only someone else's momentary entertainment. Karen Crockett

Youth and age will never agree.

Youth and skill are no match for experience and treachery.
Youth and white paper take any impression. Edgeworth
Youth are youth. Deloney
Youth comes but once in a lifetime. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
Youth had been a habit of hers so long that she could not part with it.
Youth is a blunder; Manhood a struggle; Old Age a regret. Benjamin Disraeli
Youth is a wonderful thing. What a crime to waste it on children. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)
Youth is in danger until it learns to look upon debts as furies. Edward G. Bulwer-Lytton
Youth is not a time of life, it's a state of mind.
Youth is that period when a young boy knows everything but how to make a living. Carey Williams
Youth is the best time to be rich; and the best time to be poor. Euripides (484-406 BC)
Youth is the first victim of war; the first fruit of peace. It takes 20 years or more of peace to make a man; it takes only 20 seconds of war to destroy him. Baudouin I
Youth is too good to be wasted on the young. G. B. Shaw
Youth is wasted on the young. G. B. Shaw
Youth is when you blame all your troubles on your parents; maturity is when you learn that everything is the fault of the younger generation.
Youth is when we are always hunting greener pastures, and middle age is when we can barely mow the one we've got.
Youth isn't a time of life but a state of mind.
Youth. It's a wonder that anyone ever outgrows it.
Youth looks forward but age looks back. English Proverb
Youth today must be strong, unafraid, and a better taxpayer than its father. H. V. Wade
Youth, which is forgiven everything, forgives itself nothing; age, which forgives itself everything, is forgiven nothing. George Bernard Shaw
Youth will be served. Borrow
Youth will have its swing. John Clarke
Youth's a stuff will not endure. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)
Yuppie pregnant women don't go into labor, they go straight into management. Fred Reuss